PRESIDENT AND CHIEF EXECUTIVE OFFICER

Since becoming President and Chief Executive Officer of the Minnesota Vikings in 1991, Roger Headrick not only has steered the organization in the right direction — competitively on the field, as well as financially and structurally off the field — but has become a big factor in setting the course for the National Football League. ■ Last spring Headrick was named the chairman of the NFL Properties Executive Committee, which works with NFL President Neil Austrian to establish policies and strategies for the League's licensing and marketing arm. Headrick also is a member of the League's Broadcasting Committee, which oversees the League's television policies, and the International Committee, which advises clubs on the NFL's international development activities. ■ Shortly after joining the Vikings, Headrick focused his efforts on reviving the winning tradition of the franchise and developing an organizational structure, which focuses on both satisfying existing customers and creating new sources of revenue. ■ In the first area, his initial efforts turned the team from a 6-10 record the season before he arrived, to a combined 20-12 mark with consecutive playoff appearances, including a division title, over the past two years. Key to these results was his decision in early 1992 to hire Dennis Green as head coach. In 1992 Green posted the best first-year record in team history and last year became one of only 11 coaches in League history to lead his team to the playoffs in each of his first two seasons as an NFL head coach. ■ Most recently Headrick has overseen efforts to improve on last year's success, while working within the structure of the League's new Collective Bargaining Agreement with players. Last fall the Vikings signed several key veterans, including Pro Bowlers Cris Carter and John Randle, to contract extensions to keep them out of this year's free agent market. The team also has made several big trades, including the acquisitions of quarterback Warren Moon and tight end Adrian Cooper, as well the Chris Doleman deal, which netted a first-round choice in 1995 and allowed the Vikings to move up in the 1994 draft to select David Palmer. ■ "The Vikings are conducting the smartest off-season in the League" wrote Peter King of Sports Illustrated shortly after the 1994 draft. ■ Headrick also played a big role in last fall's trade, which allowed the Vikings to pick up a first, a second and a sixth-round draft choice for Gary Zimmerman, who had announced his retirement. ■ On the business side, one of Headrick's first tasks with the Vikings was to re-organize the team's ownership structure. He was instrumental in putting together a purchase plan, which enabled the existing ownership group to buy out remaining shareholders and provide unified focus and direction to the organization for the first time in nearly a decade. In addition, Headrick increased the team's emphasis on marketing, sales, public relations and media relations. ■ Last year the Vikings attracted their biggest crowds in five seasons and season ticket sales for 1994 already have increased over the offseason of 1993. The Vikings' average home crowd of 57,303 last year was the fifth highest in team history and the best since the team averaged 57,936 fans in 1989. The Vikings game against Dallas on December 12 attracted 63,321 people, the largest crowd ever to witness a Vikings' home game. ■ Prior to joining the Vikings, Headrick spent a 30-year career in business, holding management positions with Exxon Corporation, both domestically and overseas, as well as with The Pillsbury Company. His principal expertise was in the area of finance and strategic planning, experience he has utilized to re-focus and re-align the Vikings efforts in finance, marketing, sales and public relations to reach out to a broader constituency of fans throughout the Upper Midwest. ■ Born in West Orange, NJ (5/13/36), Headrick attended John Piersall McCaskey High School in Lancaster, PA. He earned his A.B. from Williams College and his MBA from Columbia University. Roger and wife Lynn live in Wayzata, MN. They have four children — Hilary Headrick Bell (Chagrin Falls, OH), Mark (Long Lake, MN), Chris (New York City) and Heather — and three grandchildren.

■ ■ ■ "The Vikings are conducting the smartest off-season in the League" wrote Peter King of Sports Illustrated shortly after the 1994 draft. ■

JEFF DIAMOND

VICE PRESIDENT, ADMINISTRATION AND TEAM OPERATIONS

As the Vikings' point man for contract negotiations, as well as having extensive involvement in trades and player acquisitions, Jeff Diamond has played a significant role in the team's recent additions of quarterback Warren Moon, tackle Chris Hinton and tight end Adrian Cooper, as well as the re-signing of unrestricted free agents Randall McDaniel, Henry Thomas and Vencie Glenn. ■ Diamond has been a key figure in the team's planning under the guidelines of the new collective bargaining agreement with the advent of the salary cap and free agency. Prior to last season, the Vikings signed several key players, including Pro Bowlers Cris Carter and John Randle and mainstays Terry Allen and Jack Del Rio, to contract extensions. In addition Minnesota was one of the first teams to have all their draft choices signed and in training camp in 1993. ■ Named to his current position in January, 1991, Diamond also negotiates the club's radio and television contracts, assists Roger Headrick in league matters, and oversees the public relations, team operations, equipment, facilities, player relations and video departments. ■ After joining the Vikings in public relations in 1976, Diamond became the team's Director of Communications in 1978. He then was named Director of Operations in 1980 before being promoted to Assistant General Manager in 1984. Diamond served as Assistant General Manager/Administration in 1989-90. ■ Diamond (6/2/53) attended St. Louis Park, MN., High School then graduated from the University of Minnesota, where he played soccer for the Gophers. He was a member of the Executive Committee of the Minnesota Super Bowl Task Force, which planned Super Bowl XXVI at the Metrodome. Jeff and wife Diane have two children, Brett and Brooke.

■ ■ ■ Diamond has been a key figure in the team's planning under the guidelines of the new collective bargaining agreement with the advent of the salary cap and free agency. ■ ■ ■

FRANK GILLIAM

VICE PRESIDENT, PLAYER PERSONNEL

A big factor in the success of the Vikings' drafts over the past 25 years, Frank Gilliam was named the team's Vice President, Player Personnel in January, 1994. In his new role, Gilliam will oversee both the college and pro scouting departments, as well as coordinate the draft. ■ After joining Minnesota as Scouting Director in 1970, Gilliam was promoted to Director of Player Personnel in 1975. During his stint with the team, the Vikings have made the right choices in the early rounds, while uncovering many stars, including several Pro Bowlers, with its late choices. ■ Scott Studwell (9th round), Wade Wilson (8th), Steve Jordan (7th), Carl Lee (7th) and Todd Scott (6th) each have played in at least one Pro Bowl. Terry Allen (9th) set a Vikings record for rushing yards in a season in 1992. In addition, the Vikings made the playoffs the past two seasons despite not having a first-round choice from 1989-92. ■ Prior to coming to Minnesota, Gilliam tutored wide receivers from 1966-69 at Iowa, where he recruited and coached current Vikings head coach Dennis Green. While teaching at Lord Tennyson Elementary/Junior High School in Vancouver from 1962-65, Gilliam coached the North Shore Cougars, a Canadian junior football team. ■ A seventh-round draft choice by Green Bay in 1957, Gilliam spent three seasons with Winnipeg of the Canadian Football League, where he played for former Minnesota head coach Bud Grant and was a teammate of Leo Lewis, Sr., whose son Leo, Jr. was a wide receiver with the Vikings. The Blue Bombers played in the Grey Cup game in 1957 and won the league championship in '58 and '59. Gilliam played for Vancouver of the CFL from 1960-61. ■ Named as a defensive end on the University of Iowa's all-time team, Gilliam helped the Hawkeyes to the Big Ten title in 1956, when he earned All-Big Ten and second-team All-America honors. In the ensuing Rose Bowl, the school's first bowl game, Iowa beat Oregon State, 35-19, to finish third in the nation. ■ During that '56 season, the Hawkeyes' defense held opponents to 8.4 points per game, the lowest ever at the school, and 229.8 yards per game, third fewest in Iowa's history. Gilliam, who played in the 1957 Hula Bowl, was also a member of the 1953 Iowa squad, which ended the year ranked ninth in the country. ■ Gilliam (1/7/34) attended Steubenville, OH., High School. He and wife Velma have three children, Frank, Jr.; Gayle; and Michelle.

Dennis Green

Head Coach

In his first head coaching job in the National Football League, Dennis Green has led the Minnesota Vikings to the playoffs in each of his first two seasons, following three seasons as head coach at Stanford University. ■ Prior to the 1993 season, only 20 head coaches in the 73-year history of the league led their team to a playoff berth in each of their first two seasons with that team. Of those 20, only 11 were first-time NFL head coaches, and only 10 — including just three who came directly from collegiate jobs — were not with that team the season before becoming the head coach. ■ Of the 20 winningest head coaches in NFL history only Paul Brown (Browns, 1950-51), Chuck Knox (Rams, 1973-74) and John Madden (Raiders, 1969-70) led their team to the playoffs in each of their first two seasons as a head coach in the league, and only Knox (22) and Brown (21) guided their teams to more victories in their first two seasons as an NFL head coach than the 20 wins the Vikings have recorded under Green since 1992. ■ In addition Green has been to postseason play in each of the past five years (Minnesota, 1992-93; San Francisco 1986-88) he's been associated with an NFL team. ■ Throughout his two seasons with the Vikings, Green has instilled a winning attitude, particularly in the division, on the road, and in December. Under Green, Minnesota is 13-3 against the NFC Central; 11-5, including a club-record tying six road wins in '92, away from the Metrodome; and 6-3 in December. Also over the past two seasons the Vikings are 6-0 in the game either before or after a bye and 14-2 in games vs. a team whose head coach took over that team at the same time or after Green came to Minnesota. ■ Even more evidence of the new spirit Green has brought to the Vikings is the team's strong play in the fourth quarter. Prior to the Vikings' 21-20 win over Chicago on Oct. 4, 1992, after trailing 20-0 entering the final quarter, Minnesota had lost 10 straight games, in which they trailed after three quarters. The Vikings, who set a team record for fourth-quarter points in a season in 1992, not only have won four games that they trailed entering the final quarter the past two seasons, but have posted a 15-2 mark with a lead entering the fourth quarter. ■ Although the Vikings qualified as a wild card entrant in 1993 with a 9-7 mark after winning the NFC Central title with an 11-5 record the year before, Green's best coaching job may have come last year. His philosophy of no excuses, sticking to the plan, and finding and developing talent, helped the team through the loss of several key players, especially on offense, and some bad breaks at the end of two defeats. ■ Green kept pointing to December as the time to get on a roll, and even though four of Minnesota's final five opponents were playoff teams, including three division winners, and three of the five games were on the road, the Vikings put together a 4-1 record, including wins in their final three regular-season games for the first time since 1974. ■ In his first season as head coach of the Vikings in 1992, Green led his squad to its best record (11-5) and its first division title under a first-year head coach. He earned NFL Coach of the Year honors from the Washington Touchdown Club and NFC Coach of the Year honors from United Press International and College & Pro Football Newsweekly in 1992. In addition the Vikings, who came within one win of tying the team record for victories in a season, won seven division games, the most in team history. ■ From the league merger in 1970 until 1991, only eight men led their team to a division title in their first season as a head coach in the NFL. Half of those weren't with the team as an assistant the previous season and none came directly from a college. Of the 20 winningest coaches in NFL history, only Madden (12 with the Raiders in 1969) and Knox (12 with the Rams in 1973) led their teams to more wins in their first season as a head coach in the league than Green. ■ Prior to coming to Minnesota, Green turned around a struggling Stanford football program. In 1988, the season before his arrival, the Cardinal posted a 3-6-2 record. In 1990 the Cardinal upset then No. 1 ranked Notre Dame, 36-31, in South Bend. During Green's final season at Stanford in 1991, he led the Cardinal to seven straight wins, the school's longest winning streak since 1951; six victories in the PAC 10, its most since 1970; and Stanford's first bowl appearance since 1986. Only a Georgia Tech touchdown with 14 seconds left in the Aloha Bowl kept the Cardinal from their first postseason win since 1978. ■ "He changed Stanford from a soft-type football team to a very hard-hitting, aggressive team," said Andy Geiger, Stanford's athletic director when Green was hired. "He revolutionized Stanford football." ■

■ ■ ■ Green has been to postseason play in each of the past five years (Minnesota, 1992-93; San Francisco 1986-88) he's been associated with an NFL team. ■ ■ ■

Before taking over the helm at Stanford, Green tutored receivers for San Francisco, where he helped the 49ers to a Super Bowl title following the 1988 season. Under Green's tutelage, Jerry Rice twice earned NFL Player of the Year recognition and was named Most Valuable Player in Super Bowl XXIII, and John Taylor played in three Pro Bowls. ■ Green's first head coaching opportunity came at Northwestern University in 1981. The following year he led the Wildcats to a 31-6 win over Northern Illinois to end the school's 34-game losing streak. Northwestern went on to win 10 of its next 36 games, including victories over conference rivals Michigan State, in Lansing, and Minnesota in 1982, when Green was named Big Ten Coach of the Year. He also moved former Northwestern star and current Vikings tackle Chris Hinton from tight end to tackle, which led him to being drafted by Denver with the fourth overall choice in 1983 and earning trips to seven Pro Bowls. ■ In 1972 Green began his coaching career as a graduate assistant at Iowa. He spent one season as running backs/receivers coach at Dayton before returning to handle the same role at Iowa. In 1977 Green moved on to oversee running backs at Stanford, where he was instrumental in recruiting Darrin Nelson, who set school career marks for rushing yards and receptions, before being drafted in the first round by Minnesota in 1982. ■ After seven seasons as a collegiate assistant, Green's first NFL coaching stint came in San Francisco as the special teams coach in 1979. He returned to Stanford as offensive coordinator, under current Vikings Pro Personnel Director Paul Wiggin, in 1980, when John Elway set a PAC 10 record for touchdowns passes in a season with 27. ■ The youngest of five brothers, Green (2/17/49) grew up in Harrisburg, PA, where he earned all-state honors as a running back at John Harris High School. Green also served as class president in high school. ■ He started a season at flanker and two seasons at running back at Iowa, where he was recruited by current Vikings Vice President, Player Personnel Frank Gilliam, then an assistant coach with the Hawkeyes. In 1968 Green, who was a teammate of current Vikings outside linebackers coach Richard Solomon at Iowa, posted one of the best rushing days in school history with 175 yards and two touchdowns against Texas Christian. Green earned honorable mention All-Big 10 honors in 1969 and '70. ■ Following his collegiate career, Green played defensive back briefly for British Columbia of the Canadian Football League in 1971. ■ An avid fisherman, Green hosts an annual bass tournament to benefit the Boys and Girls Clubs in the Minneapolis-St. Paul area. In 1993 Green, who earned his degree in recreation education at Iowa, received Pop Warner's Golden Football Award for his distinguished record of service to youth, community, country and humanity. He also enjoys playing the drums, keeping a set at the Vikings' practice facility. Green has two children — Jeremy, 22, who lives in the Twin Citiies, and Patti, 27, who lives in the Washington D.C. area.

BRIAN BILLICK

OFFENSIVE COORDINATOR/QUARTERBACKS

After taking over the offense following the second game of 1993, Brian Billick oversaw a unit that made dramatic improvements in output as the season progressed. The Vikings went from 264.8 yards per game over the first six weeks of the year to a 323.3-yard average over the season's final 10 games. During the three-game winning streak at the end of the season that propelled the Vikings into the playoffs, the offense averaged 351.7 yards and 21.6 points per game. ■ Minnesota also finished the season with a team-record 14 consecutive quarters without allowing a sack despite playing against two of the league's top sackers (Reggie White, Green Bay, 12/19; Neil Smith, Kansas City, 12/26). Against the AFC West champion Chiefs, the Vikings scored 30 points — the team's season high — and gained 424 yards, including 166 yards rushing — the fourth most in team history — by first-year running back Scottie Graham. ■ Also in 1993 Cris Carter finished fifth in the NFC in catches with 86, the most ever by Vikings wide receiver and the second most in team history. ■ Billick joined the Vikings to oversee tight ends in 1992, when Steve Jordan finished fourth on the team in catches despite missing games due to an ankle and knee injury. Against Chicago (11/2) Jordan had a 60-yard touchdown reception, the second longest of his career. Mike Tice, who was mainly used in a blocking role, caught a career-long 34-yard touchdown pass in that game against the Packers. Both tight ends also helped lead the way for Terry Allen who set a team record for rushing yards in a season in '92. ■ Prior to joining the Vikings, Billick tutored wide receivers and tight ends at Stanford, where he developed wide receivers Ed McCaffrey and Chris Walsh, and tight ends Ryan Wetnight and Jim Price. McCaffrey earned All-America honors in 1990 and played for the New York Giants the past three seasons. In 1991 Walsh caught 66 passes, the second most by a wide receiver in school history. He spent two seasons with Buffalo before signing with Minnesota in May. ■ Wetnight earned honorable mention All-PAC 10 honors and played for Chicago last year. Price tied a Stanford record for catches in a game with 14 against Notre Dame in 1989 and has played with the Rams and Dallas in the NFL. ■ From 1986-88, Billick was offensive coordinator at Utah State. During his stint with the Aggies, Billick oversaw quarterback Brent Snyder, who in 1988 set a school season record for passing yards with 3,218, surpassing his own record of 2,887 yards set the previous year. ■ Before going to Utah State, Billick spent five seasons (1981-85) as recruiting coordinator, as well as coaching receivers, tight ends and quarterbacks for San Diego State. During his stint with the Aztecs, Billick guided quarterback Todd Santos, who left San Diego State as the NCAA's all-time passing yardage leader; wide receiver Webster Slaughter, a Pro Bowl selection during his career with Cleveland and Houston; and tight end Rob Awalt, who has played for the Cardinals, Dallas and Buffalo in the NFL. ■ Billick began his coaching career as an assistant at the University of Redlands in 1977. He then spent a season as a graduate assistant, working with tight ends and the offensive line, at Brigham Young University. Billick was the assistant public relations director for the San Francisco 49ers in 1979-80. ■ Drafted in the 11th round by the 49ers in 1977, Billick also had a brief stint with Dallas that season. ■ As a tight end at BYU, Billick was named All-Western Athletic Conference and honorable mention All-America in 1976. He caught 20 passes for 338 yards and a touchdown as a senior. Billick was an outside linebacker at Air Force as a freshman before transferring to BYU. ■ Born in Fairborne, OH. (2/28/54), Billick earned three letters in football and basketball, and was a Helms-Scholar-Athlete as a senior at Redlands, CA., High School. Brian and wife Leslie have two daughters, Aubree (3/5/84) and Keegan (6/26/89).

TONY DUNGY

DEFENSIVE COORDINATOR

In 1993 Tony Dungy's defense led the National Football League in fewest yards allowed (275.3 per game), continuing a Vikings' legacy that is unprecedented in the league. Since the AFL-NFL merger in 1970, Minnesota has topped the NFL in defense five times, while no other team in the league has led the league more than three times over the same span. In addition the Vikings were the only team last season to finish among the top six in the NFL in defense against both the run (sixth, 95.9) and the pass (sixth, 179.4). ■ Since coming to the Vikings in 1992, Dungy also has instilled an offensive philosophy in his defensive players — they want the ball and they want to score. Over the past two seasons, Minnesota has intercepted 52 passes, five more than its closest pursuer, and only three teams (Buffalo, 82; Pittsburgh, 81; Kansas City, 77) have forced more turnovers than the 76 by the Vikings. ■ Also since Dungy's arrival, the Vikings defense has scored 10 touchdowns, including eight (six on interceptions, two on fumble recoveries) in 1992. It was the first time since 1984, when Denver and Seattle both had eight, that a team scored as many as eight defensive touchdowns, and since 1960 only San Diego with nine in 1961 has recorded more in a season. ■ Since the AFL-NFL merger in 1970, only seven teams have scored as many as seven defensive touchdowns in a season and three of those have come with Tony Dungy on their sideline. As defensive coordinator of Pittsburgh in 1987, Dungy oversaw a unit that scored seven touchdowns (five on interceptions, two on fumble recoveries), and in 1983 when he guided the Steelers' defensive backs, their defense scored seven touchdowns on four interceptions and three fumble recoveries. Overall Dungy has worked with defenses that have scored 38 touchdowns over the past 11 years. ■ The Minnesota defense under Dungy also has yet to allow an opposing passer to throw for 300-or-more yards. In fact the Vikings have a streak of 36 straight games, including playoffs, without allowing a 300-yard passing performance dating back to Dec. 8, 1991, when Vinny Testaverde threw for 330 yards. Personally Dungy hasn't seen an opposing passer throw for 300-or-more yards in 42 straight games, dating back to his days with Kansas City. ■ Minnesota led the NFL in percentage of opponents' passes intercepted (5.0) in 1993. In addition the Vikings held opponents to the fewest first downs (259) in the league and finished third in the NFL in sacks per pass play (.09) and second in the NFC in takeaways (34) last season. In 1993 Dungy's defense also pitched two shutouts, including a 13-0 victory over last year's NFC Central Champion Detroit Lions on December 5. Houston and the New York Jets were the only other NFL teams to have two shutouts last year. ■ Despite having a defense that had five new starters in 1992, Dungy's unit finished second in the league in yards allowed per play (4.5). In addition the Vikings led the league in interceptions (28), fewest yards allowed per pass completion (9.76) and lowest percentage of touchdown passes allowed (2.4%); finished second in the NFL in takeaways (42), third in the league in fewest offensive touchdowns allowed (23), and tied for third in the NFL in sacks (51). ■ In his three seasons (1989-91) overseeing Kansas City's secondary, the Chiefs finished second in the league in pass defense in 1989 and earned a postseason berth in 1990 and '91. Under Dungy's guidance, cornerback Albert Lewis twice was named All-Pro, cornerback Kevin Ross played in two Pro Bowls, and safety Lloyd Burruss had the longest interception return in the NFL in 1991. ■ Dungy began his coaching career as a defensive assistant with the Steelers in 1981. He then coached the secondary for two seasons before taking over the defense in 1984, becoming the youngest coordinator in the league at age 28. Pittsburgh's defense finished fifth in the league Dungy's first year overseeing the squad, then sixth in the NFL in 1985. During his five seasons as defensive coordinator, Pittsburgh averaged 24 interceptions and 37 takeaways. ■ Signed by Pittsburgh as a free agent defensive back in 1977, Dungy led the Steelers and tied for 10th in the league in interceptions with six in 1978, when Pittsburgh defeated Dallas in Super Bowl XIII. Prior to the next season, Dungy was traded to San Francisco, where he played 15 games in 1979. In March, 1980 the 49ers dealt Dungy to the Giants in a deal that involved Ray Rhodes, currently the 49ers defensive coordinator, going to San Francisco. ■ As a quarterback at the University of Minnesota from 1973-76, Dungy finished his collegiate career with school records for completions (274), passing yards (3,577) and touchdown passes (25). Twice he was named the Gophers' most valuable player and in 1976 played in the East-West Shrine Game, the Hula Bowl and the Japan Bowl. ■ Anthony Kevin Dungy (10/6/55) starred at Parkside High School in Jackson, MI. An All-Big 10 All-Academic pick at Minnesota, Dungy earned his degree in business administration. He and wife Lauren have a daughter Tiara and two sons, James and Eric.

BIG-PLAY DEFENSE

Over the past two years, the Vikings have been one of the best teams in the NFL at pressuring the quarterback and forcing turnovers.

Chris Foerster

Assistant Offensive Line

After watching his charges lead the way for record-setting performances at each of his stops during his decade as an offensive line coach on the collegiate level, Chris Foerster brought some of the same magic to the Vikings in 1993. With three new starters, Minnesota's offensive line jelled late in the year, setting a team record for consecutive quarters without a sack allowed (14) and springing first-year running back Scottie Graham for the best back-to-back rushing performances in team history (139 vs. Green Bay, 12/19; 166 vs. Kansas City, 12/26). ■ Foerster tutored the offensive line at the University of Minnesota in 1992, when the Gophers set a team record for completions and led the Big Ten in passing yards. A sign of how valuable the offensive line was to these efforts was tackle Keith Ballard being named the team's most valuable player. ■ From 1988-91, Foerster oversaw the offensive line at Stanford, where for his final three seasons he worked under Dennis Green. During Foerster's stint with the Cardinal, Tommy Vardell set a school career mark for rushing touchdowns, and season records for rushing yards and touchdowns. Also Jon Volpe set a Stanford standard for rushing yards in a game with 220 yards against Washington in 1988. Under Foerster's guidance, tackle Bob Whitfield developed into an All-America and was selected in the first round of the NFL draft in 1992. ■ In five seasons at Colorado State, Foerster's front wall opened holes for the school's all-time rushing leader (Steve Bartalo, 1983-86) and protected the top passer in Rams' history (Kelly Stouffer, 1984-86). Foerster also developed three first-team All-Western Athletic Conference choices at Colorado State, where he began as a graduate assistant in 1983 then was named offensive line coach the following year. ■ As starting center for Colorado State in 1982, Foerster played in front of Terry Nugent who that year set a school record for passing yards in season. Also in 1982 Nugent became only the second Rams player ever to throw for more than 400 yards in a game with 402 yards passing against Nevada-Las Vegas. A walk-on as a freshman, Foerster was Colorado State's top reserve center his first two seasons there. He was named the school's Scholar-Athlete his junior year. ■ At Sabino High School in Tucson, AZ., (10/12/61), Christopher Flynn Foerster was named All-City in football and earned two letters in baseball. He earned his degree in history from Colorado State. Chris and wife Michelle have a daughter Kathleen and a son Jake.

Carl Hargrave

Offensive Assistant

Carl Hargrave joined the Vikings as an offensive assistant in March, 1994 following two seasons as tight ends coach at the University of Iowa. Hargrave also attended the Vikings training camp the past two summers as part of the National Football League's Minority Coaching Intern Program. ■ At Iowa Hargrave developed tight end Scott Slutzker, who as a sophomore in 1993 finished second on the Hawkeyes in receptions with 29. Hargrave also oversaw the outstanding senior season of tight end Alan Cross, a walk-on who led Iowa in catches with 55 to earn All-Big Ten recognition in 1992. Cross signed with the Washington Redskins as a free agent in 1993. ■ Prior to joining the Hawkeyes, Hargrave tutored wide receivers for five seasons (1987-91) at the University of Houston, where the quarterback for most of that time was Andre Ware. During Hargrave's tenure with the Cougars, the school set 88 individual NCAA offensive records and 36 team NCAA marks. Hargrave produced five first-team All-Americas and six first team All-Southwest Conference picks, including Manny Hazard, who holds the NCAA record for catches in a season with 142 in 1989. Hazard also set the collegiate mark for catches in a game with 19 against Texas Christian in 1989 then tied the record a week later against Texas. ■ Hargrave's first collegiate coaching assignment came at his alma mater Upper Iowa from 1977-80. He then joined Dennis Green's staff at Northwestern, where he worked for five seasons (1981-85) before moving on to the University of Pittsburgh (1986). Hargrave began his coaching career at Central High School in Waterloo, IA. ■ A four-time All-Iowa Conference selection as a safety at Upper Iowa, Hargrave intercepted seven passes and posted a 25.3-yard kickoff return average and an 11.0-yard punt return average as a senior, when he was named the team's defensive MVP. He set a school record with a 94-yard kickoff return his freshman year. Hargrave was drafted by the Raiders in 1976. ■ Born in Frankfurt, Germany (11/8/54), Hargrave starred at Iowa City High School. He earned his degree in physical education at Upper Iowa. His brother Clay led the Big Ten in rebounding while playing for the University of Iowa basketball team in 1978. His father William is a state representative in Iowa. Carl's wife's name is Suzanne.

Monte Kiffin

Inside Linebackers

Being part of the top defense in the National Football League is no novelty to Monte Kiffin. In addition to last year's league-leading unit, Kiffin was on the Vikings The Coaching Staff in 1988 and '89 when Minnesota paced the NFL in defense. ■ The inside linebackers played a big role in the defense's success in 1993. Middle linebacker Jack Del Rio posted a team-high and career-high 169 tackles, while weakside linebacker Fred Strickland finished second with a career-high 137 stops. The Vikings also topped the league in fewest first downs allowed and boasted the top defense against the run in the NFC last year. ■ In 1992 Del Rio, who was in his first year with the Vikings, headed the team in tackles with a then-career-high 149 stops on a defense that held opponents to the second fewest yards per play (4.5) in the league. ■ Kiffin originally joined the Vikings as linebacker coach in 1986, when Minnesota tied for fifth in the NFL in fewest yards allowed per rush. The next season middle linebacker Scott Studwell was elected to the Pro Bowl for the first time. Studwell also made the Pro Bowl in 1988, when he had a team-high 126 tackles for a defense that not only led the league in yards per game (255.7), but also in yards per play (4.3). In 1989 Minnesota again was the best in both categories, holding opponents to only 261.5 yards per game and a scant 4.1 yards per play. ■ As linebackers coach for the New York Jets in 1990, Kiffin oversaw Kyle Clifton, who tied for the NFL lead in interceptions among linebackers that season with three. Kiffin returned to Minnesota as defensive coordinator in 1991, when Pro Bowl linebacker Mike Merriweather established career highs for total tackles and solo tackles. ■ After beginning his NFL coaching career as linebackers coach at Green Bay in 1983, Kiffin held similar duties with Buffalo for two seasons (1984-85). ■ From 1980-82, Kiffin was the head coach at North Carolina State University, where among his charges were future NFL stars linebacker Robert Abraham, tight end Lin Dawson, linebacker Vaughan Johnson and wide receiver Mike Quick. ■ Kiffin began his coaching career as a defensive assistant at his alma mater Nebraska in 1966. The Cornhuskers captured back-to-back national titles in 1970 and '71. In 1973 Kiffin was promoted to defensive coordinator, a position he held for four seasons (1973-76). In one of Kiffin's final games there in 1976, Nebraska held Kansas State to minus-45 yards rushing, which still stands as the fewest allowed by a Cornhuskers defense. ■ In 1977 he moved on to Arkansas, where he guided a Razorbacks defense that led the nation that season. The '77 and '78 campaigns also still stand as the two best defensive seasons, in terms of yardage allowed, by an Arkansas team since 1965. In 1979 Kiffin was named assistant head coach at Arkansas. ■ A three-year letterman as an offensive tackle at Nebraska, Kiffin was part of the Cornhuskers' first Orange Bowl team, which beat Miami, 13-7, on Jan. 1, 1964. He was drafted by Minnesota in 1964 and played for the Winnipeg Blue Bombers of the Canadian Football League in 1965. ■ A native of Lexington, NE. (2/29/40), Kiffin was named the 1958 Nebraska High School Athlete of the Year at Lexington High School. He and wife Robin have three children — Heidi, Lane and Christopher. Lane is a freshman quarterback at Fresno State.

Jerry Rhome

Wide Receivers

After four seasons as the offensive coordinator with Phoenix, Jerry Rhome joined the Vikings as wide receivers coach in February, 1994. During his stint overseeing the Cardinals offense, Rhome developed a unit that by the end of last season was among the best in the National Football League. ■ Over the final five games of the 1993 season, when the Cardinals posted a 4-1 record, they averaged 374.6 yards and 25.2 points while converting 56.3% (36-of-64) of their third downs into first downs to hold onto the ball an average of 34:30 per game. Only San Francisco gained more yardage (398.6), and only Dallas (28.4), the 49ers (28.2), Buffalo (25.4) and San Diego (25.4) scored more points during that five-game stretch to end the year. For the season Phoenix finished in the top three in the NFC in total offense (325.8), average gain per play (5.2), third down efficiency (46.2%), sacks per pass play (.06) and time of possession (31:54). ■ The Cardinals' offensive surge in 1993 was accomplished with skill players who were mainly in their first season with Phoenix. Quarterback Steve Beuerlein and wide receiver Gary Clark signed as free agents prior to last season. Running backs Ron Moore and Garrison Hearst were rookies. Beuerlein set several team records, including completion percentage in a season and consecutive completions (14 straight vs. Atlanta). He finished third in the NFC in passing yards and fourth in touchdown percentage. ■ Clark and wide receiver Ricky Proehl each caught over 60 passes last season. Against Seattle on December 19, Clark caught 12 passes, tying the most receptions in a game in the league last season. Proehl tied for sixth in the NFC in receiving touchdowns with seven in 1993. ■ Throughout his 18 years as an assistant in the NFL, Rhome has developed some of the league's top quarterbacks. Prior to joining the Cardinals, Rhome worked as quarterbacks coach in Dallas in 1989, when he oversaw rookie Troy Aikman, who went on to lead the Cowboys to two Super Bowl victories. Rhome was offensive coordinator for San Diego in 1988. ■ As quarterbacks coach with Washington from 1983-87, Rhome helped the Redskins make it to the Super Bowl with two different quarterbacks. Joe Theismann led Washington to Super Bowl XVIII and Doug Williams was named most valuable player in the Redskins' victory over Denver in Super Bowl XXII. Rhome also oversaw the early development of Mark Rypien, who was drafted in the sixth round by Washington in 1986 and went on to earn MVP honors in Super Bowl XXVI. ■ Rhome's first coaching stint in the NFL came with the expansion Seattle franchise as quarterbacks/receivers coach (1976-77) then offensive coordinator (1978-82). While with the Seahawks he molded free agents Jim Zorn and Dave Krieg into top professional quarterbacks. ■ As offensive coordinator at Tulsa (1973-75) and then as an assistant with Seattle, Rhome played a big role in the early development of wide receiver Steve Largent, who is the NFL's all-time leading pass catcher. Largent played for the Golden Hurricanes before joining the Seahawks in 1976. ■ After being drafted by Dallas and the New York Jets, Rhome played four seasons (1965-68) for the Cowboys. He then continued his playing career at Cleveland (1969), Houston (1970) and the Los Angeles Rams (1971-72). ■ The Walter Camp Trophy recipient and Heisman Trophy runner-up in 1964, Rhome set 17 NCAA passing records at Tulsa. He began his collegiate career at Southern Methodist University before transferring to Tulsa following the 1961 season. ■ A native of Dallas, TX. (3/6/42), where he earned All-America honors at Sunset High School, Rhome and wife Sharon have two daughters, Shannon and Nicole, and a son Brett.

Keith Rowen

Offensive Line

From 1991-93 Atlanta threw for more touchdowns passes (91) than any other NFL team while playing behind an offensive line coached by Keith Rowen. The Falcons also posted three of the franchise's top six passing yardage seasons during Rowen's stint leading the front wall. ■ In 1993 Rowen developed Lincoln Kennedy who started 16 games at guard to earn all-rookie honors. Rowen also continued his guidance of Chris Hinton, who was an All-Pro and All-NFC choice last year. Including their time with Indianapolis, Rowen has worked with Hinton for seven seasons, including five Pro Bowl appearances. Hinton signed with the Vikings in February, 1994. ■ In addition to allowing Atlanta's quarterbacks to throw for 28 touchdowns, the Falcons offensive line opened holes for Erric Pegram to finish fourth in the league in rushing with 1,185 yards in 1993. Also last year Falcons running backs posted three-of-the-top-seven (two by Pegram, one by Steve Broussard) rushing games in team history. Three Atlanta wide receivers caught more than 70 passes last season. ■ In 1992 Atlanta led the league in touchdown passes with 33. The Falcons also tied for fourth in the NFL in yards per play (5.4). In addition they set team records for touchdowns passes and completions in a season. ■ In his first year as the Falcons' offensive line coach in 1991, Rowen saw his charges set a team record for most pass attempts per sack (17.1, 31 in 531 attempts) while helping the Falcons to their first playoff appearance since 1982. Hinton made the Pro Bowl and Mike Kenn earned All-Pro honors as the Atlanta offense finished fifth in the NFL in yards per play (5.4) and tied for eighth in the league in yards per carry (4.1). ■ While overseeing special teams and tight ends for the Falcons in 1990, Rowen guided return and coverage units that were among the best in the league at creating big plays. That season Atlanta not only was the lone NFL team to return both a punt and a kickoff for a touchdown, but blocked nine kicks (5 field goals, 4 punts), forced three fumbles and twice tackled the punter before he could kick. The Falcons led the NFC in kickoff return average, and placed second in kickoff coverage and fourth in net punting average. ■ In 1989 Rowen guided special teams for New England, which finished fourth in the league in kickoff return average and set a team record for field goals made in a season. Patriots' kicker Jason Staurovsky also led the AFC in field goal percentage. ■ Prior to joining New England, Rowen spent four seasons (1985-88) as special teams/assistant offensive line coach with Indianapolis. During that stint the Colts went from 4-12 in 1984 to an AFC East title, their first in 10 seasons, in 1987. Rohn Stark led the AFC in punting and earned a Pro Bowl berth in both 1985 and '86. Dean Biasucci was named to the Pro Bowl after leading the league in field goal percentage in '87. On the offensive line, Hinton and Ray Donaldson started in the Pro Bowl, while Ron Solt was named All-AFC in '87. ■ Rowen first came to the NFL as running backs coach for Cleveland in 1984, when he groomed rookie running back Ernest Byner, who that season had the best rushing average (5.9) of any NFL back with more than 70 carries. Rowen's first pro coaching assignment came as offensive coordinator/offensive line coach for the Boston/New Orleans Breakers of the USFL in 1983-84. In '83 the Breakers allowed only eight sacks in 18 games. The following season they held opponents to just 11 sacks while finishing fifth in the league in offense. ■ In 1975 Rowen began his coaching career overseeing the defensive line at Stanford, where he guided All-America defensive end Gordon McCall. Rowen was named offensive line coach at Long Beach State in 1977. The 49ers finished ninth in the country in passing in both '77 and '78. ■ He then spent four seasons (1979-82) as the offensive line coach at Arizona, where in his first year there, the Wildcats posted their first winning season since 1975 and made their first bowl appearance since 1968. ■ A three-year letterman as an offensive tackle at Stanford, Rowen earned second-team Academic All-America honors in 1974. He was drafted by Philadelphia in 1975. ■ Born in New York, NY. (9/2/52), Keith L. Rowen attended Lincoln High School in San Francisco. He graduated Phi Beta Kappa from Stanford with a degree in political science. He also earned his master's from Stanford and his Ph.D. in physical education from the University of Southern California. Rowen also has authored several articles on football, including "Pass Protection" and "Utilizing the Tight End in the Passing Attack" that were published by the Athletic Journal. Keith and wife Sheri have three daughters — Mandee, Holly and Kelly. His father Vic is a former head football coach at San Francisco State University.

Richard Solomon

Defensive Backs

After two seasons (1992-93) of working with the Vikings outside linebackers, Richard Solomon, a collegiate defensive back who began his coaching career guiding the secondary, will oversee the team's defensive backs in 1994. Under Solomon's tutelage, strongside linebacker Carlos Jenkins, who hadn't started an NFL game prior to 1992, has developed into the big play man for the NFL's top defense. ■ On a unit that led the league in fewest yards allowed in 1993, Jenkins led all non-linemen in sacks with 2.5, tied for the team lead among non-defensive backs in passes batted down with seven and posted interceptions in back-to-back games against Chicago (9/26) and Tampa Bay (10/3). The Vikings also led the NFC in run defense and topped the NFL in fewest first downs allowed last season. ■ In 1992 Jenkins scored on a fumble recovery and an interception to tie a Vikings record for defensive touchdowns in a season. He also led all non-linemen in sacks with four on a Vikings defense that held opponents to 4.5 yards per play, second only to New Orleans in 1992. ■ Before joining the Vikings, Solomon was a scout for the New York Giants from 1987-91. During his five years there, the Giants posted a 49-30 record (.620), won two NFC East titles and defeated Buffalo in Super Bowl XXV. ■ As defensive coordinator at Illinois from 1980-86, Solomon helped turn around a program that hadn't posted back-to-back winning seasons or appeared in a bowl since the early 1960s. Behind Solomon's defense, which finished second in the Big Ten in 1983 and third in '84, the Fighting Illini put together five consecutive winning campaigns for the first time since the late 1920s. ■ In 1983 Illinois swept through the Big Ten with a 9-0 record to become the only Illinois team ever to beat all nine conference opponents in the same season. The Fighting Illini played in the 1982 Liberty Bowl, the 1984 Rose Bowl and the 1985 Peach Bowl. ■ As wide receivers coach at Syracuse in 1979, Solomon guided Art Monk, who caught 40 passes for a then-school record 716 yards to earn All-America honors. Monk went on to become the NFL's all-time leading receiver. Despite playing all their home games that season at neutral sites due to stadium construction, the Orangemen posted a 7-5 record and played in their first bowl game (Independence) since 1966. ■ Solomon began his coaching career tutoring defensive backs at Dubuque University in 1973. He also worked as defensive coordinator for the Spartans before departing to coach the secondary at Southern Illinois in 1976. From 1977-78 he worked with wide receivers at Iowa. ■ A three-year letterman (1969-71) at Iowa, Solomon started at defensive back his final two seasons with the Hawkeyes. Solomon, who also earned two letters in track in college, also played running back as a sophomore. Dennis Green and Solomon were teammates at Iowa. ■ A native of New Orleans, LA., (12/8/49), Richard Solomon was an all-state selection and three time all-league pick at St. Augustine High School. He earned his degree in physical education from Iowa. Richard and wife Clara have three children — Alesia, Brandon and Ryann.

JOHN TEERLINK

DEFENSIVE LINE

"What have you done today to get to the quarterback?" Even in the offseason this is the constant reminder from John Teerlinck to his charges on the defensive line, which over the past two seasons has been one of the most dominating in the NFL. Since 1992 this unit has accumulated more sacks (81) than any other defensive line in the league. ■ Last season the Vikings led the NFL in total defense and topped the NFC in defense against the run. Minnesota also held opponents to the fewest first downs in the league and finished third in the NFL in sacks per pass play (.09). The Vikings front four had more sacks than any other defensive line in the league with 40, which also was more than 16 other teams, in 1993. ■ Under Teerlinck's guidance, John Randle has gone from an updrafted rookie in 1990 to a starter in the Pro Bowl and a first-team All-Pro last season, when he and Henry Thomas combined for 21.5 sacks, the second most by a tackle tandem since the NFL began keeping sacks records in 1982. Randle also led all NFL interior linemen and tied Chris Doleman for third overall in the NFC in sacks last year. ■ Teerlinck also developed Roy Barker, who, in his first year as an NFL starter in '93, posted six sacks. Despite missing three games last year, Thomas posted a career-high nine sacks and was a second-team All-Pro choice. ■ In 1992 the Vikings finished second in the league in yards allowed per play (4.5) and third in the NFL in sacks with 51, the second most in a season in team history. The defensive line had 41 sacks, which was second only to Philadelphia's 42 among front four's in the league. In addition Doleman was named the NFC's Defensive Player of the Year, giving Teerlinck the distinction of coaching two conference defensive players of the year. Michael Dean Perry earned the honor in 1989 when Teerlinck tutored the Browns defensive line. ■ Prior to joining the Vikings Teerlinck spent a season (1991) with the Los Angeles Rams and two years (1989-90) with the Browns. In 1989 Cleveland set a season record for sacks with 45. He also is credited for turning Perry from a seldom-used backup into a perennial Pro Bowler. ■ In 1983 Teerlinck began his pro coaching career as the defensive line coach with the USFL's Chicago Blitz, who later became the Arizona Wranglers. During each of his three seasons there, the team led the USFL in defense and sacks. Teerlinck's charges also took nine-of-the-12 All-USFL defensive line spots available in the three-year existence of the league. ■ Teerlinck's initial coaching assignment came at Iowa Lakes Junior College in 1977. He then became defensive coordinator at Eastern Illinois University in 1978, when the Panthers won the NCAA Division II national championship. ■ In 1980 Teerlinck moved on to the University of Illinois, where he developed first-team All-Big Ten selections Mark Butkus and Don Thorp, who also was named the conference's Most Valuable Player. During Teerlinck's three seasons (1980-82) there, Illinois posted back-to-back winning seasons (1981-82) and played in a bowl game (1982) for the first time since the early 1960s. He worked on the same defensive staff at Illinois with Vikings secondary coach Richard Solomon. ■ A co-captain as a senior at Western Illinois University, Teerlinck earned Little All-America honors and was the team's defensive MVP after recording 122 tackles and 14 sacks in 1973. He still holds a share of the school's single-game sack record of four in '73. The Leathernecks compiled a 24-8 (.750) record during Teerlinck's three years there. ■ Drafted in the fifth round by San Diego in 1974, Teerlinck started two games at defensive end as a rookie then started five-of-the-first-six games at defensive tackle in 1975 before suffering a career-ending knee injury. In one of his first starts, he had two sacks against Denver on Dec. 15, 1974. ■ Born in Rochester, NY. (4/9/51), John Teerlinck earned All-Catholic League honors at Fenwick High School in Oak Park, IL. He earned his degree in physical education from Western Illinois and his master's in education from Eastern Illinois. Teerlinck opened a highly-successful brokerage firm in Phoenix in 1986. John and wife Sue have five children — Ann (6/21/75), Bill (7/23/78), Mark (10/24/80), Molly (2/17/84) and Mary (6/10/85).

TRENT WALTERS

OUTSIDE LINEBACKERS

After working with one of the top collegiate defenses and producing six NFL draft choices the past three seasons at Texas A&M, Trent Walters joined the Minnesota Vikings as outside linebacker coach in March, 1994. During his 25-year collegiate coaching career, Walter worked for some of the top coaches, including Don James at Washington, Howard Schnellenberger at Louisville and R.C. Slocum at Texas A&M. ■ In 1993 Walters guided a secondary that allowed Texas A&M to lead the nation in pass defense, hold opponents to a paltry 39.7 completion percentage and throw for only five touchdowns, while intercepting 13 passes. Leading the way was Aaron Glenn, who was named the Defensive Player of the Year in the Southwest Conference last season. Cornerback Ray Mickens and safety Michael Hendricks also earned first-team all-conference selection, while safety Junior White was a second-team All-SWC pick last year. ■ Texas A&M also placed second in the nation in scoring defense (10.8 points/game) and third in the country in total defense (247.6 yards/game) in '93. In addition the Aggies led the Southwest Conference in total defense, rush defense, pass defense and scoring defense to become only the second school in NCAA history to lead its conference in all four categories for three straight seasons. They held opponents to the fewest yards per game in the nation in 1991. ■ Including the three selections in 1993, Walters produced seven first-team All-SWC picks and six NFL draft choices — including first-rounders Kevin Smith, Patrick Bates and Glenn — during his three seasons with the Aggies. Texas A&M posted a 32-5 record, played in three Cotton Bowls and finished ranked among the top dozen teams in the nation each season from 1991-93. ■ Before joining the Aggies, Walters guided the secondary for five years at Louisville, where he helped turn around a Cardinals program from 3-8 in 1986 to 10-1-1 in 1990. In his final season at Louisville, the team won a school-record 10 games, played in its first postseason game (Fiesta Bowl) since 1977, and captured its first bowl victory (34-7 over Alabama) since 1970. ■ Walters began his coaching career overseeing the freshmen and junior varsity team at his alma mater Indiana in 1968. He coached defensive backs at Louisville in 1972 before returning to Indiana to guide the Hoosiers secondary for eight years (1973-80). In 1981 Walter took over defensive backs at Washington and during three seasons (1981-83) with the Huskies groomed future NFL players Vince Newsome, Ray Horton, Vince Albritton and Vestee Jackson. ■ In 1984 Walters received his first pro coaching opportunity tutoring defensive backs at Cincinnati. After a season with the Bengals, he guided the secondary at the University of Pittsburgh before returning to Louisville in 1986. ■ In 1966 and '67 Walters played for Edmonton of the Canadian Football League, leading the league in punt and kickoff return yardage both seasons. He played for former Vikings assistant Neill Armstrong, who was the head coach of the Eskimos from 1964-69. ■ A three-year letterman at Indiana, Walters led the Hoosiers in punt and kickoff returns as a senior in 1965. He earned his bachelor's degree in physical education and biology, and his master's in physical education administration from Indiana. He is a member of the Sports Hall of Fame in Knoxville, TN., where he attended Austin High School. Trent and wife Gail have three children — Trent, Vanessa and Troy.

Steve Wetzel

Strength and Conditioning

Never is the quality of a team's strength and conditioning program more evident than at the end of a game and the end of a season. Since Steve Wetzel came to Minnesota in 1992, the Vikings have shown great strides in both areas. ■ In 1993 the Vikings won four-of-their-last-five regular-season games, including the final three for the first time since 1974, to earn a wild card berth in the playoffs. Even more impressive is that four of the games were against playoff teams, including three division winners, and three of the games were on the road. Over the past two seasons the Vikings are 6-3 in December. ■ Minnesota also has improved in the fourth quarter the past two years. Prior to the Vikings' 21-20 win over Chicago on Oct. 4, 1992 after trailing 20-0 entering the final quarter, Minnesota had lost 10 straight games, in which they trailed after three quarters. The Vikings, who set a team record for fourth-quarter points in a season in 1992, not only have won four games that they trailed entering the final quarter the past two seasons, but have posted a 15-2 mark with a lead entering the fourth quarter. ■ In his four seasons in the NFL, Wetzel has seen his teams make the playoffs each year, including 1991 when he was part of the

The Coaching Staff on the Redskins' Super Bowl XXVI Championship team. In his two seasons in Washington, the Redskins posted a 28-9 (.757) record, including playoffs. ■ Before joining the Redskins, Wetzel spent four months as strength coach for George Mason University. He was the assistant strength coach at the University of Maryland from 1985-89. In his first season there, the Terrapins finished 9-2 and defeated Syracuse in the Cherry Bowl. ■ Wetzel earned his degree from Slippery Rock University, where he was a power lifter. He is a former record holder in the bench press in the American Drug Free Power Association. ■ A native of Washington, DC. (5/11/63), Steve Wetzel attended Park View High School in Sterling, VA., where he was a teammate of former Oilers running back Allen Pinkett. Steve and wife Michelle live in Eden Prairie.

Tyrone Willingham

Running Backs

Most coaches don't go through as much adversity in a career as Tyrone Willingham went through last season, however Willingham persevered and developed three running backs — two of whom had played in a combined two games prior to last year — who each had over 90-yard rushing games in 1993. ■ After losing Terry Allen, who set a team record for rushing yards (1,201) in a season in 1992, for the year due to a knee injury suffered early in training camp, Willingham developed Barry Word, who wasn't acquired by the Vikings until just before the start of the regular-season. In his first game with Minnesota, Word rushed for 94 yards to help beat Chicago, 10-7, on September 12. ■ As the season progressed, 1993 first-round draft choice Robert Smith began to emerge, averaging 8.0 yards per carry against Tampa Bay (10/10), scoring on a spectacular 26-yard run in Chicago (10/25) and rushing for 115 yards against Detroit (10/31). However in the weeks after the Lions game, Smith missed games due to chicken pox and an ear infection. He returned briefly but then suffered a season-ending knee injury in Detroit (12/5). ■ First-year man Scottie Graham, who hadn't carried the ball with the Vikings prior to December, replaced Smith. Against Green Bay (12/19) Graham rushed for 136 yards then the following week against Kansas City he gained 166 yards on the ground, which ranks as the fourth best game in team history. Graham finished the year as the Vikings leading rusher.

■ In his first year with the Vikings in '92, Willingham guided Allen, in only his second NFL season, to the record-breaking effort, which placed him third in the NFC and sixth in the NFL in rushing yards. Allen also finished second in the league in touchdowns with 15 and third in the NFL in rushing touchdowns with 13, which tied the Vikings season record. ■ As running backs coach under Dennis Green from 1989-91 at Stanford, Willingham oversaw Tommy Vardell, who set a school career mark for rushing touchdowns, and season records for rushing yards and touchdowns. He was selected in the first round by Cleveland in '92. ■ Willingham began his coaching career as a graduate assistant under head coach Darryl Rogers at Michigan State in 1977. That season with the Spartans Willingham aided defensive backs coach Sherman Lewis, currently the offensive coordinator with Green Bay. ■ In 1978-79 Willingham guided the secondary at Central Michigan. In '79 the Chippewas led the Mid-American Conference in pass defense, captured the conference title and earned a top 20 ranking. One of Willingham's pupils there was Robert Jackson, who later played five seasons for Cincinnati. ■ After returning to Michigan State in 1980, Willingham guided the Spartans secondary and special teams for three seasons. Michigan State held opponents to the fewest yards and the lowest pass percentage in the Big Ten in '80. Willingham also developed Lonnie Young, who played for the Cardinals. ■ Before going to Stanford Willingham spent three seasons (1983-85) overseeing defensive backs and special teams at North Carolina State and three years (1986-88) guiding receivers and special teams at Rice. ■ A walk-on in both football, as a quarterback, and baseball at Michigan State, Willingham earned three letters in each sport. He was named the Most Inspirational Player of the 1976 football squad and earned the Big Ten Medal of Honor for Outstanding Scholar-Athlete in 1977. In baseball he received the Sportsmanship Award in 1975 and was an All-Big 10 selection in '77. ■ A native of Jacksonville, NC. (12/30/53), Willingham earned his degree in physical education with a minor in health education from Michigan State. Tyrone and wife Kim have three children — Cassidy, Kelsey and Nathaniel.

ASSISTANT STRENGTH AND CONDITIONING

As assistant to Steve Wetzel, Mike Wolf has helped make the Vikings successful on the field, particularly in the fourth quarter and at the end of the season when strength and conditioning make a big difference. Since 1992, when Wolf joined Minnesota, the team has not only posted a 15-2 record when ahead after three quarters but have won four games when trailing entering the final quarter. ■ In December, 1993 the Vikings won four-of-their-final five games, including the final three for the first time since 1974. Overall Minnesota has a 6-3 record in December since 1992. ■ Wolf also has helped produce winning teams the past three seasons. In addition to the Vikings playoffs berths in '92 and '93, he was the assistant strength coach with Penn State in 1991, when the Nittany Lions posted an 11-2 mark, including a victory over Tennessee in the Fiesta Bowl. ■ In 1990 Wolf was the head strength coach at Lehigh, which finished with a 7-4 record. He began his coaching career as a graduate strength coach at Vanderbilt in 1988-89. ■ From 1984-87 Wolf played guard, center and tackle at Penn State. He began his senior year as the Nittany Lions starting center but suffered a season-ending hamstring pull against Boston College midway through the campaign. His brother Joe, an offensive lineman for Boston College and now for the Arizona Cardinals, suffered a fractured ankle in that game. ■ A native of Allentown, PA. (5/15/65), Michael Joseph Wolf was an all-state center at William Allen High School. He earned his bachelor's degree in exercise and sports science from Penn State and his master's in health promotion and exercise science from Vanderbilt.

Gary Zauner

Special Teams

After two seasons as a kicking and special teams consultant with many teams and kickers in the National Football League, Gary Zauner will lend his expertise solely to the Minnesota Vikings in 1994. Among the players who have worked with Zauner are Pro Bowlers Chip Lohmiller, Eddie Murray and Nick Lowery. In addition to aiding the professionals, Zauner also has developed many collegiate kickers through his firm in California. ■ In 1990-91 Zauner oversaw special teams at Long Beach State under George Allen, the legendary special teams enthusiast who revolutionized the coaching of the kicking units while head coach for the Washington Redskins in the early 1970s. ■ Prior to joining the 49ers, Zauner spent three seasons (1988-90) guiding the special teams at the University of New Mexico, where he developed kicker Rick Walsh, an All-Western Athletic Conference pick who played in the East/West Shrine Game. ■ From 1981-85 Zauner helped turn the special teams at San Diego State into one of the best in the nation. In his five seasons with the Aztecs, whose offensive coordinator at the time was current Vikings offensive coordinator Brian Billick, Zauner's coverage units never allowed a touchdown. The longest kickoff return San Diego State gave up was a meager 42 yards. Paced by the country's leading punt returner in Jim Sandusky with a 19.0-yard average, the San Diego State punt return unit led the nation with an overall rate of 17 yards per return in 1983. Zauner also developed Chris O'Brien, who set a WAC record with 25 consecutive field goals in 1984-85, and punter Mike Saxon, who has played nine seasons in the NFL. ■ Zauner's first coaching assignment came at Brigham Young in 1979, when he guided Clay Born, who was the nation's leading punter with a 45.3 average, and the country's best kickoff return unit (26.3 average) that season. He spent two seasons with the Cougars. ■ A four-year letterman in football and baseball at the University of Wisconsin-La Crosse, Zauner went to training camp with the Vikings in 1973 and Houston in '74. ■ Born in Milwaukee, WI., (11/2/50), Gary Zauner attended Hamilton High School. He earned bachelor's and master's degrees in physical education from Wisconsin-LaCrosse.

JERRY REICHOW

ASSISTANT GENERAL MANAGER, COLLEGE SCOUTING

Since Jerry Reichow joined the Vikings scouting department in 1966, he has had success not only with his early draft choices, but he has also found some gems in the late rounds. Some examples would be Scott Studwell (9th round), Wade Wilson (8th round), Steve Jordan (7th), Carl Lee (7th) and Todd Scott (6th) who have all played at least Pro Bowl. Terry Allen (9th) set a Vikings single-season rushing mark with 1,201 yards. ■ Reichow has served in his current position since 1992, when he was promoted from Director of Football Operations, a job he held since 1975. His first responsibilities as a Vikings administrator were as Director of Player Personnel from 1966-74. ■ Reichow came to Minnesota as a player in 1961 when then-coach Norm Van Brocklin acquired him from Philadelphia for a seventh-round draft pick. As a tight end and flanker for the Vikings, Reichow finished 1961 with 11 touchdown catches — good for fourth in the league — and was selected to play in the Pro Bowl. When he retired in 1964, Reichow held team career records for catches (144), receiving yards (2,183) and touchdown receptions (19). ■ Originally a fourth-round draft pick by Detroit in 1956, Reichow served as a reserve quarterback for the Lions until 1959. He was also part of Detroit's 1957 NFL Championship team. The Lions traded Reichow to Philadelphia before the 1960 season, when Van Brocklin quarterbacked the Eagles to the league title. ■ Reichow was an All-Big 10 and honorable mention All-America selection at Iowa in 1955 after finishing seventh in the NCAA in total offense with 1,091 yards as a senior. He also was named MVP of the 1956 Shrine game and was a member of Iowa's Final Four basketball team in 1955. With the Hawkeyes, he was a football teammate of Frank Gilliam, now the Vikings Director of Player Personnel. ■ A native of Decorah, IA. (5/19/34), Reichow and wife Carolyn have three children, Alan, Lori and Jimmie.

■ ■ ■ When he retired in 1964, Reichow held team career records for catches (144), receiving yards (2,183) and touchdown receptions (19). ■ ■ ■

Paul Wiggin

Assistant General Manager, Pro Personnel

Paul Wiggin enters his third year as Director of Pro Personnel, responsible for league-wide player evaluations and advance scouting. ■ After joining the Vikings as defensive line coach in 1985, Wiggin developed a front four, including Pro Bowler's Chris Doleman and Henry Thomas, that helped the Vikings lead the league in sacks with 71 in 1989. ■ Wiggin played 11 seasons at defensive tackle for the Cleveland Browns, earning Pro Bowl trips following the 1965 and 1967 campaigns. ■ Following his retirement as a player, Wiggin coached the defensive line at San Francisco (1969-73), before he was named the 49ers defensive coordinator in 1974. He then served as head coach for the Kansas City Chiefs from 1975-78. After a two-year stint in New Orleans (1978-79) as defensive coordinator, Wiggin returned to his alma mater, Stanford, as head coach from 1980-83. In 1984 Wiggin worked with the Los Angeles Olympic Organizing Committee. ■ Wiggin earned his Masters degree in education from Stanford in 1959. He and wife Carolyn have three daughters, Kymberly, Kristyn and Kellie.

Scott Studwell

Player Personnell Coordinator

After a highly successful playing career with the Vikings, Scott Studwell made the transition to the front office in 1991. ■ He served as Assistant to the President/Player Relations for two years then was named to his current position in 1992. ■ Studwell played middle linebacker for the Vikings from 1977-90 and finished his career as Minnesota's all-time leader in solo tackles (1,308), assists (673) and total tackles (1,981). Playing in the second-most games (202) for a linebacker in NFL history, Studwell led the Vikings in tackles eight-of-his-14 seasons. Originally drafted in the ninth-round by Minnesota in 1977, Studwell was elected to the Pro Bowl in 1987 and 1988. ■ An All-Big 10 selection in 1976 as a senior at Illinois, Studwell surpassed the school record for total tackles in a single season formerly held by Hall of Famer Dick Butkus. ■ Studwell (8/27/54), who majored in commerce at Illinois, is a native of Evansville, IN. He and wife Jenny have two daughters, Jessie and Samantha.

Don Deisch

Head Scout

Entering his 14th year in the Vikings scouting department, Don Deisch joined the team in 1980 after working three years with the Blesto scouting combine. His primary responsibility is the west coast. ■ Prior to working in scouting, Deisch had been a coach at the high school and college levels. He coached while teaching several subjects at Sunset High School in Beaverton, OR., and Hillsboro, OR., High School before moving to Stanford as defensive backs coach in 1971. The Cardinal finished 9-3 that season after defeating Michigan in the Rose Bowl and posted winning records the following two years. In 1974 he took a position as an offensive coach at Portland State, where he stayed for three years. ■ After serving in the Air Force, Deisch (12/8/39) was a two-year starting quarterback/defensive back at Southern Oregon. He and wife Marlene have a daughter, Kim.

Conrad Cardano

Regional Scout

A longtime high school and college football coach, Conrad Cardano joined the Vikings in 1987 after working for the Blesto scouting combine from 1984-86 as an area scout. Cardano played quarterback at Western Carolina University from 1967-71, graduating with a degree in health and physical education. He coached high school football and played in the Seaboard Pro League (1972-74), before serving as offensive coordinator at Catholic University in Washington, D.C. from 1975-78. ■ He was an assistant coach at Marshall University (1979-80) before moving to Eastern Kentucky (1981-83). While at Eastern Kentucky, Cardano coached the receivers, tight ends, tackles and worked with the quarterbacks on teams that won three conference titles and the 1982 Division 1-AA championship. ■ Cardano has two children, Anthony and Christopher.

ROGER JACKSON

REGIONAL SCOUT

Roger Jackson starts his first season with the Vikings after spending the previous two seasons as a talent scout with the Kansas City Chiefs. He will be responsible for the eastern region of the country. ■ Prior to joining the Chiefs Jackson spent four years as a scout with the Denver Broncos and one season coaching at the collegiate level. He had two stints with the Broncos as a regional scout in 1987-88 and again from 1990-91. In 1989 he coached the defensive backs at Howard University. ■ Jackson played in 53 games in his five seasons as defensive back with Broncos (1982-85, 87). He joined the Broncos as a rookie free agent out of Bethune-Cookman. ■ Jackson earned four letters as defensive back and kick return specialist while at Bethune-Cookman. He also lettered in track and graduated with degree in phsical eduation form Bethune-Cookman. ■ Born in Mason, Georgia (2/28/59), Jackson also makes his permanent residence in Mason.

JOHN FITZPATRICK

AREA SCOUT

Joining the Vikings scouting department this year is John Fitzpatrick, a former member of the National Football Scouting combine. He mainly will be responsible for the Rocky Mountain region. ■ Fitzpatrick began his scouting career with National in 1986 after coaching the offensive line at Arizona State for a year. He tutored current Vikings linemen Todd Kalis and Randall McDaniel during that season with the Sun Devils. ■ After beginning his collegiate career at Wyoming, where he set a Western Athletic Conference record for weight lifting, Fitzpatrick transferred to Purdue and was a starting offensive lineman in 1982 and '83. He signed with Dallas as a free agent in 1984 but suffered a career-ending injury during the preseason. ■ Fitzpatrick (6/6/61) attended Greencastle, IN., High School and currently resides in Canyon Lakes, TX.

JOHN CARSON

REGIONAL SCOUT

Sporting experience in private business as well as the NFL, John Carson joined the Vikings scouting department in 1983. He primarily is responsible for the southeast region. ■ Drafted in the 15th round by Cleveland in 1953, Carson played tight end for the Washington Redskins from 1954-59. He led the team in receiving three consecutive seasons (1955-57) and was named to the Pro Bowl following the 1957 season. He helped the Oilers win the 1960 AFL championship before retiring as a player. ■ He first became involved in player personnel as a scout for the Philadelphia Eagles following his playing career. He then left football for private business until joining Minnesota. ■ At the University of Georgia he lettered in four different sports (football, basketball, baseball, and golf). A scratch golfer, Carson led the University of Georgia to four straight SEC golf titles. At 16, he became the youngest player to ever qualify for the quarterfinals of the National Publinx Championship. In 1957 Carson was elected to the Georgia Sports Hall of Fame. ■ An Atlanta native, Carson (1/31/30) was an All-America selection at Georgia in 1952. He and wife Betsy have two children, John, Jr. and Dianne.

LINEBACKER · MICHIGAN · HT 6.3 · WT 230
BN 4/12/67 · FA FOR '93 · 5TH YEAR

PRO: Although Bobby Abrams only had two tackles in 1993, one of them may have vaulted the Vikings into the playoffs for the second consecutive season. With the Packers having first and goal on the Vikings' (12/19) two-yard line in the closing minutes and trailing 17-21, Abrams stuffed Darrell Thompson in the backfield for a five-yard loss and the Vikings eventually held Green Bay out of the endzone and won the game. Abrams played in final four games of the regular season and the playoff game vs. the N.Y. Giants (1/9/94) for the Vikings in 1993, playing primarily on special teams and in third down situations when the Vikings installed a 3-4 defense. The Vikings signed Bobby Abrams on December 7 to bolster the special teams and provide depth to the linebacking corps. Abrams spent the first 11 games of 1993 with Dallas before being released by the Cowboys on November 29. He played in five games, mainly on special teams, with the Cowboys, who signed him as a free agent last spring. Abrams also spent the first four games of 1992 with Dallas. He was claimed off waivers from the New York Giants on Sept. 1, 1992 and, despite practicing only a week with the team, tied for the team lead in special teams tackles with two against Washington (9/7). He was second on the Cowboys in special teams tackles with four stops when he was released on Oct. 6, 1992. Originally signed as a rookie free agent by the Giants in 1990, Abrams played in every game his first two seasons as a backup to All-Pros Lawrence Taylor and Carl Banks at outside linebacker. Abrams was one of the only rookie free agents with the Giants when they defeated Buffalo in Super Bowl XXV. Abrams' first pro start came in 1991 as a fifth linebacker against Dallas (9/16). Later in the season, he started in place of injured Carl Banks at left outside linebacker against Phoenix (12/23) and recorded three tackles and forced a fumble against the Cardinals. GAMES/STARTS (reg. season, playoffs): 1990 (16/0, 3/0-Gia.), 1991 (16/2-Gia.), 1992 (4/0-Dal.), 1993 (5/0-Dal.), (4/0, 1/0). Total — 45/2, 4/0. ■ COLLEGE: A three-year starter at outside linebacker for Michigan, Abrams earned second-team All-Big Ten honors as a senior. Against Maryland in 1989, Abrams had eight tackles, three sacks, batted down a pass and recovered a fumble. After beginning his collegiate career as a safety for the Wolverines in 1986, Abrams moved to linebacker in spring drills in 1987. He earned the starting right outside linebacker job four games into his sophomore year. Abrams played in three Rose Bowls and a Hall of Fame Bowl. ■ PERSONAL: Robert Abrams, Jr. was an all-state pick and made the honor roll for eight straight semesters at Henry Ford High School in Detroit. He also competed in track as a prepster. His father Bobby, Sr. was a three-time Golden Gloves boxing champion in Detroit.

SCOTT ADAMS 72

GUARD/TACKLE · GEORGIA · HT 6.5 · WT 293
BN 9/28/66 · FA FOR '91 · 3RD YEAR

PRO: Scott Adams finally got a chance to see what playing in the NFL on a regular basis is all about when he was inserted into the starting lineup vs. Chicago (9/12) last season at right guard. He went on to start the following nine games at right guard before finishing up the season backing up at both the left tackle and right guard spots. The only game he missed in 1993 was at Detroit (12/5) when he was de-activated. Adams played on the kickoff return team, and on the field goal and extra point protection teams. After spending a year on Minnesota's practice squad, Adams found a home on the Vikings roster in 1992. Adams was on the practice squad for the 1992 season opener vs. Green Bay (9/16) but saw action on special teams and at left tackle during the final 15 regular-season games and one playoff game. He also played at tight end in short yardage situations when Randall McDaniel was in the backfield. Adams spent most of 1991 on the Vikings practice squad. He was activated for the season finale against Green Bay (12/21) but did not play. Adams started all 10 regular-season games for Barcelona of the World League, helping the Dragons to a berth in the World Bowl in 1991 before signing with the Vikings prior to training camp. In 1990 he signed with the Atlanta Falcons as a free agent but was released prior to the regular season. Adams suffered a similar fate in 1989 when he signed as a free agent with Dallas. GAMES/STARTS (reg. season, playoffs): 1991 (0/0), 1992 (15/0,1/0), 1993 (15/10, 1/0). Total – 30/10, 2/0. ■ COLLEGE: Adams was an honorable mention All-America and second-team All-Southeastern Conference selection his senior year at Georgia. He started five games at right tackle before switching to right guard for the balance of the 1988 season. He started 10 games at left tackle and one on the right side his junior year after backing up at right tackle and left guard as a sophomore. ■ PERSONAL: Scott Adams was born in Lake City, FL., where he earned all-state honors in football at Columbia High School. The owner of a degree in marketing from Georgia, he enjoys hunting, fishing and listening to music.

TERRY ALLEN 21

RUNNING BACK · CLEMSON · HT 5.10 · WT 197
BN 2/21/68 · D9 FOR '90 · 5TH YEAR

PRO: In 1993 Terry Allen set out to take his game to an even higher level than the remarkable season he had in 1992, but his hopes were dashed when he ruptured his left anterior cruciate ligament during training camp in Mankato. During the offseason he has rehabilitated his knee and looks to the 1994 season with the same enthusiasm he had in the past few years. Allen enters 1994 within reach of the Vikings top 10 all-time rushers, needing 244 yards rushing to catch Clinton Jones (2,008) in 10th position. He is also within reach of Herschel Walker (2,264) in ninth, Alfred Anderson (2,374) in eighth, and Fran Tarkenton (2,543) in seventh. To start the 1992 season Allen had his chance to shine, and shine he did setting a Vikings single-season rushing record with 1,201 yards (old record 1,155 by Chuck Foreman, 1976). Allen also became the first Vikings running back since Ted Brown in 1981, and only the third player in team history, to go over the 1,000-yard rushing mark in a season. In addition Allen tied a Vikings record for rushing touchdowns in a season with 13 (13 by Chuck Foreman in 1975 and 1976), third best in the NFL in 1992. His 15 total touchdowns ranked second in the league to Dallas' Emmitt Smith who had 19. Allen's three touchdowns vs. Cincinnati (9/27) and the Rams (11/29), along with his 198 yards from scrimmage against the Rams, were career highs. Allen also tied a Vikings record for most rushing attempts in a game with 33 vs. Pittsburgh (12/20). Allen finished third in the NFC, sixth in the NFL, in rushing in 1992. In total yards from scrimmage, he placed second in the NFC, fifth in the NFL, with 1,679 yards (1,201 rushing, 478 receiving). He started all 16 games at running back and finished second on the team in receptions with 49 for 478 yards (9.8 avg.) and two touchdowns. He rushed for 100-yards-or-more three times: vs. Green Bay (9/6) with 140 yards on 12 carries, vs. Pittsburgh (12/20) with 172 yards on 33 carries, and vs. Green Bay (12/27) with 100 yards on 20 carries and one touchdown. In the season opener against the Packers, Allen averaged 11.7 yards per carry, second in team history only to the 12.2 average by Tommy Mason vs. Baltimore in 1963. With his efforts at the end of the year against the Steelers and the Packers, Allen became the first Vikings player since Darrin Nelson in 1985 (11/3 and 11/10) to have consecutive 100-yard games.

Allen also was the first Vikings running back since Nelson in 1983 to catch passes for over 100 yards in a game (10 for 110 vs. the Rams 11/29). In 1991 he played in 15 games and started six, (vs. Detroit 10/6 & 11/24, vs. Chicago 11/11, vs. Green Bay 11/17 & 12/21, vs. Tampa Bay 12/8) finishing second on the team with 563 yards rushing. He was named the NFC Offensive Player-of-the-Week for his efforts against Tampa Bay (11/3), when he rushed for 127 yards on 14 carries, caught one pass for 21 yards, and scored two touchdowns, including a 55-yard run. His 9.1-yard rushing average in that game tied him for third on the Vikings all-time single-game list. The only touchdown reception by a Vikings running back in 1991 belonged to Allen, vs. Green Bay in the season finale (12/21), making an over-the-shoulder catch for a nine-yard touchdown. Allen missed the entire 1990 season because of a knee injury sustained during the preseason. He underwent surgery to repair the knee in August. The Vikings ninth-round draft pick, Allen was the 241st player selected overall in the 1990 draft. GAMES/STARTS (reg. season, playoffs): 1990 (IR), 1991 (15/6), 1992 (16/16, 1/1), 1993 (IR). Total – 31/22, 1/1. ■ COLLEGE: A three-year letterman at Clemson, Allen finished his career as the school's number two all-time rusher with 2,778 yards (just 137 yards shy of the school mark). He received All-America honorable mention recognition in 1989 despite missing three games and parts of four others with a knee injury. Still he rushed for 613 yards, scored 10 touchdowns and was a two-time ACC player-of-the-week. Allen earned first team All-ACC honors in 1988, after rushing for 1,139 yards and 10 TDs. It was the third highest single-season total in school history. He also was the runner-up in the conference player-of-the-year voting. Allen became the first freshman in Clemson history to earn all-conference honors and was the first freshman in 10 years to lead the conference in rushing in 1987, when he rushed for 973 yards and eight touchdowns. ■ PERSONAL: Terry Thomas Allen, Jr., was born in Commerce, GA., and attended Banks County High School, where he was an all-area running back and also lettered four times in basketball and once in baseball. He enjoys fishing, hunting, and golfing. Terry and wife Annette have two daughters, Shayna (12/21/90) and Haley (7/21/92). His college major was management.

■ ■ ■ Allen tied a Vikings record for rushing touchdowns in a season with 13, third best in the NFL in 1992. ■

BRYAN BARKER 4

PUNTER · SANTA CLARA · HT 6.1 · WT 187
BN 6/28/64 · FA FOR '94 · 5TH YEAR

PRO: In four NFL seasons Bryan Barker has become a very reliable punter. In 16 games in 1993 for Kansas City, Barker averaged 35.4 net yards per punt, the highest in that department for a Chiefs player since 1984. Overall Barker posted a gross average of 42.6 yards on 76 punts with 19 punts inside the 20 and only eight touchbacks in 1993. During his NFL career he has downed 62 punts inside the opponents' 20-yard line while suffering only 28 touchbacks. Barker has seen only two of his 272 pro punt attempts blocked. In 1992 Barker ranked fourth in the AFC and eighth in the NFL with a 43.3-yard gross average, the best by a Kansas City punter since Jim Arnold's 44.9-yard avg. in 1984. Barker's 35.5-yard net average was a career best in '92. He had a 65-yard boot vs. Denver (12/27) and eight punts for a 45.0-yard avg., with four inside the 20-yard line in a playoff game at San Diego (1/2). His 35.0-yard net avg., was tops for K.C. since '84 in 1991. Barker had just 27 punts returned, third-fewest in the AFC and fourth-fewest in the NFL. In an overtime contest vs. San Diego, Barker placed two punts inside the five-yard line in the extra period to key a 20-17 win. He also booted eight punts of over 50 yards vs. Miami (10/13). Barker's sure-handed holding skills were key in Nick Lowery's 83.3% accuracy, ranking fifth in the NFL. Signed by the Chiefs as a free agent four weeks into the 1990 season, Barker earned all-rookie honors after averaging 38.7 yards per boot with only one touchback while landing 16 punts inside the opponents' 20-yard line. GAMES/STARTS (reg. season, playoffs): 1990 (13/0, 1/0-K.C.), 1991 (16/0, 2/0-K.C.), 1992 (15/0, 1/0-K.C.), 1993 (16/0, 3/0-K.C.) Total - 60/0, 7/0. ■ COLLEGE: Barker set several school records during his four-year career at Santa Clara, including a career punts record with 248, for a 37.8-yard average. Barker had a school-record 49.8-yard avg., vs. Humbolt State in '84, including an 81-yard boot. ■ PERSONAL: As a senior at Miramonte, CA., High School he punted and started at strong safety. He also lettered in golf. Barker majored in economics at Santa Clara. Barker and his wife, Leah, have one son Colin.

ROY BARKER 92

DEFENSIVE END · NO. CAROLINA · HT 6.4 · WT 280
BN 2/14/69 · DA FOR '92 · 3RD YEAR

PRO: Roy Barker enters the 1994 campaign looking to take on an increased role on one of the finest defensive lines in the National Football League. With the departure of Chris Doleman, Barker has an opportunity to build on his outstanding effort in 1993. He had an impressive sophomore season, starting all 16 games and one playoff game at left end and finishing fourth on the club in sacks with six in 1993. In addition he tied for the team lead in forced fumbles with three and also recovered one fumble. For his play in the Washington game (12/31) in which he had one sack, one forced fumble and one fumble recovery, Barker was named Defensive Player of the Week by The Sporting News. His forced fumble in that game that he recovered to seal the victory, which sent the Vikings to the playoffs for the second consecutive season. He had three five-tackle games; vs. Green Bay (9/26), at Tampa Bay (11/21) and vs. Dallas (12/12) in 1993. Barker recorded his first career sack in the home opener vs. Chicago (9/12). He saw action in nine games his rookie season in 1992 at defensive tackle and end but spent the first four weeks on injured reserve with a bad knee. His first NFL action came against Chicago on Oct. 10, 1992. Although he was active, he did not play against Washington (10/25), the Los Angeles Rams (11/29) or Pittsburgh (12/20) in 1992. GAMES/STARTS (reg. season, playoffs): 1992 (9/0, 1/0), 1993 (16/16, 1/1). Total 25/16, 2/1. ■ COLLEGE: Barker lettered four times at North Carolina, finishing his college career with 199 tackles, 11 sacks, two fumble recoveries and four forced fumbles. As a senior, he started 11 games and registered 57 tackles, four sacks and seven tackles for a loss. He started six games in 1990 and recorded 63 tackles and six sacks. ■ PERSONAL: Roy Barker was born in Manhattan, NY., and attended Central Islip, NY., High School, where he was an all-league, all-conference and all-Long Island selection at defensive end and offensive tackle. He lettered three times in football and basketball in high school. Barker graduated with a degree in speech communication from North Carolina.

■ ■ ■ For his play in the Washington game (12/31) in which he had one sack, one forced fumble and one fumble recovery, Barker was named Defensive Player of the Week by The Sporting News. ■

CRIS CARTER 80

WIDE RECEIVER · OHIO STATE · HT 6.3 · WT 197
BN 11/25/65 · WAIV (PHIL) FR '90 · 8TH YEAR

PRO: "Mr. Clutch" is what Cris Carter is referred to by many, for his ability to make a crucial first down or touchdown reception with either both hands or one of his patented one hand catches. Carter is definitely the go-to receiver in the Vikings offense and last season he was rewarded with his first trip to the Pro Bowl. He enters his fifth season with the Vikings after spending three years in Philadelphia. Among wide receivers in team history, Carter is fourth in receptions with 238 (third is Sammy White with 393), seventh in receiving yards with 3,127 (sixth is Paul Flatley with 3,222) and tied for sixth in touchdown catches with 23 (also sixth is Gene Washington). The 1993 season was another outstanding one for Carter, setting career highs for catches (86) and receiving yards (1,071) while starting all 16 games for the third time in his seven year career. Carter's 86 receptions tied for fourth in the NFC (and fourth in the NFL) and his 1,071 yards receiving ranked fifth in the NFC (and seventh in the NFL). He set a team record for receptions in a season by a wide receiver with his 86 grabs and became only the third player in Vikings history to have two seasons with 70-or-more receptions (Rickey Young and Anthony Carter). He led or tied for the team lead in receptions in 11-of-the-16 games and caught at least two balls in the other five games. Carter enters the 1994 season having caught at least one pass in 35 consecutive games. He has 29 straight contests in which he has caught at least two. He tied Anthony Carter for 100-yards plus receiving games in 1993 with three: vs. Denver (11/14) with six catches for 134 yards, vs. Green Bay (12/19) with six catches for 106 yards and vs. Washington (12/31) with seven catches for 113 yards. Carter had back to back two touchdown performances vs. Green Bay (12/19) and vs. Kansas City (12/26). In addition he caught the only touchdown pass in the postseason on a 40-yard reception vs. the N.Y. Giants (1/9/94). Claimed off waivers by the Vikings from Philadelphia on Sept. 4, 1990, Carter put on a strong showing in 1992, leading the club in receptions (53), and receiving yards (681), despite missing the final four games with a fractured collar bone suffered vs. the Rams (11/29). Carter also led the Vikings in touchdown receptions (six) and topped the team in receiving yards in five-of-the-12 games he played: vs. Tampa Bay (9/20) with four catches for 84 yards and two touchdowns, vs. Cincinnati (9/27) with 11 catches for 124 yards and two touchdowns, vs. Washington (10/25) with three receptions for 67 yards, vs. Tampa Bay (11/8) with eight catches for 84 yards, and vs. Houston (11/15) with three catches for 38 yards. His 11 receptions against the Bengals established a new single-game career high. Carter was selected to the All-Madden team in 1992. In 1991 he set career highs and led the club in receptions (72) and receiving yards (962). He also tied for first on the team in touchdowns receiving (five). Carter led the club in reception yards in eight games, including 100-yard receiving games vs. Phoenix (10/13) with six catches for 118 yards and one touchdown, New England (10/20) with 10 catches for 114 yards, Detroit (11/24) with seven catches for 111 yards, and the Raiders (12/21) with seven catches for 112 yards, including a season-long 50-yarder. His consecutive 100-yard receiving games against the Cardinals and Patriots make him one of 10 Vikings players to accomplish that feat (last time by Anthony Carter 10/28/90 & 11/4/90). He scored two touchdowns vs. Atlanta (9/8), including a one-handed acrobatic 39-yard reception to seal a 20-19 victory, and vs. Green Bay (11/17). Carter played in all 16 games in 1990, starting five. A 78-yard touchdown reception, the longest play of the year and sixth longest in team history, topped Carter's best effort in which he had six receptions for 151 yards vs. Philadelphia (10/15). Carter ranked first on the Eagles offense and third in the league with a career-high 11 touchdown receptions in 1989. He was named the NFC Offensive Player-of-the-Week after catching eight passes for 113 yards vs. Chicago (10/2). He also scored a touchdown on a fake field goal vs. Dallas (12/10) and Phoenix (12/24). In 1988 Carter and Keith Jackson led the Eagles with six touchdown receptions. Carter scored a touchdown vs. N.Y. Giants (11/20), when he recovered a fumble by Jackson. In their earlier meeting with the Giants (10/10), Carter caught an 80-yard touchdown pass, the longest of his career. Originally selected in the fourth round of the 1987 supplemental draft by Philadelphia, Carter's first reception as a pro was a 22-yard touchdown vs. St. Louis (11/1). GAMES/STARTS (reg. season, playoffs) 1987 (9/0-Phil.), 1988 (16/16, 1/1-Phil.), 1989 (16/15, 1/1-Phil.), 1990 (16/5), 1991 (16/16), 1992 (12/12, 1/1), 1993 (16/16, 1/1). Total – 101/80, 4/4 (Minn.-60/49, 2/2). ■ COLLEGE: Carter earned first-team All-America honors in 1986 and was a two-time All-Big 10 pick at Ohio State, where he finished as the Buckeyes' all-time leader in receptions (168) and touchdown catches (27). Carter set school single-season marks for touchdown catches (11) and receiving yards (1,127) in 1986, when he also was the Big Ten's leading receiver with 69 receptions. Carter ranks second in school history with 2,725 yards receiving. He set a Rose Bowl record as a freshman with 172 yards receiving. ■ PERSONAL: Christopher D. Carter was born in Troy, OH. and attended Middletown, OH., High School, where he was a 1983 PARADE All-America selection and a two-time All-Ohio split end in football. He caught 80 passes for over 2,000 yards and in basketball scored 1,600 career points. Carter frequently speaks to schools about drug awareness and is actively involved in the Big Brother-Big Sister program. He joined with William White of the Detroit Lions to establish the Carter-White Charitable Foundation, which sponsors numerous activities, such as non-profit football camps for underprivileged children and assists underprivileged high school students preparing for college entrance examinations by financing preparatory courses. His older brother Butch played seven years in the NBA and is now an assistant coach with the Milwaukee Bucks. Cris and wife Melanie have two children Duron Christopher (3/22/91) and Monteray.

■ ■ ■ He set a team record for receptions in a season by a wide receiver with his 86 grabs. ■

JEFF CHRISTY 62

CENTER · PITTSBURGH · HT 6.3 · WT 277
BN 2/2/69 · FA FOR '93 · 2ND YEAR

PRO: Jeff Christy enters his second season in the NFL having waited patiently for his chance to play at center behind 11-year veteran Adam Schreiber. Christy played in nine games for the Vikings in 1993, playing primarily on special teams. He played in his first NFL game vs. San Francisco (10/3), playing on the kickoff return team. Christy was active but did not play in the four following games before returning to the lineup vs. Denver (11/14). He played in every game the second half of the season and the playoff game vs. the N.Y. Giants (1/9/94). Christy joined the Vikings as a free agent on March 11, 1993. He spent 1992 on the Cardinals' practice squad. Christy was originally drafted by the Phoenix Cardinals in the fourth round (91st overall pick) of the 1992 draft. ADRIAN COOPER 87

TIGHT END · OKLAHOMA · HT 6.5 · WT 263
BN 4/27/68 · TRADE (PITT.) FOR '94 · 4TH YEAR

PRO: Playing behind one of the NFL's top tight ends in Eric Green for his first three seasons, Adrian Cooper is looking to carve his own niche in 1994. At 6'5" and 263 pounds, Cooper is a powerful blocker with above-average hands and agility. Or as Viking head coach Dennis Green said, "We view Adrian Cooper as an outstanding all-around tight end. He's an excellent blocker, a fine receiver, and a guy who knows how to work hard." Last season Cooper caught nine passes for 112 yards, including a 38-yarder at Buffalo (11/15) and a 24-yarder vs. New Orleans (10/17). He grabbed a 10-yard scoring toss in the playoff game against Kansas City. Cooper also helped pave the way for the Steelers' rushing attack, which placed second in the AFC and produced two (Barry Foster and Leroy Thompson) of the conference's top 10 ground gainers in 1993. Starting 15 games in 1992 Cooper got a chance to show his skills due to injuries and a suspension to Green. He tied for the team lead with three touchdown receptions on 16 grabs for 197 yards. The mammoth tight end was also a major factor in Barry Foster's AFC leading 1,690-yard season, second only behind Emmit Smith. Pittsburgh finished fourth in the league in rushing and time of possession in '92. In the Steelers' season opener, Cooper caught a game-winning nine-yard touchdown pass to defeat the Oilers in Houston. Three weeks later against San Diego, Cooper snagged a 24-yard scoring pass in a 23-6 win. Cooper displayed his blocking skill against Kansas City when he controlled Derrick Thomas and had 3 catches for 27 yards in a 27-3 victory. He also recorded a career-high 58 yards receiving against Chicago on Dec. 13, 1992. Cooper was selected as the tight end on Dr. Z's All-Pro team in Sports Illustrated. Selected in the fourth round by the Steelers in 1991, Cooper was the second tight end taken in that year's draft. He earned all-rookie honors and was named Pittsburgh's rookie of the year after starting eight games and catching 11 passes for 147 yards and two scores, including a season-long 47-yard catch vs. Washington. GAMES/STARTS (reg. season, playoffs): 1991 (16/8 - Pitt.), 1992 (16/15, 1/0 - Pitt.), 1993 (14/3, 1/0 - Pitt.). Totals - 46/26, 2/0. ■ COLLEGE: A two-year starter at Oklahoma, Cooper led the Sooners in catches with 13 for 301 yards and 2 touchdowns for the nation's fifth-ranked rushing attack. Cooper earned second-team All-Big Eight honors in 1990. ■ PERSONAL: As a senior at South Denver, CO., High School, Cooper earned all-state honors. Cooper is the youngest of six children. He has a bachelor of arts in communication from Oklahoma. Adrian and his wife, Trina, have one daughter, Arielle.

BN 5/8/68 · D10 FOR '92 · 3RD YEAR

PRO: Despite not being drafted until the 10th round in 1992, Brad Culpepper has been a solid backup and a fierce competitor at defensive tackle for the past two seasons. Culpepper played primarily on special teams in 1993, but did see extensive playing time at nose tackle, splitting time with Esera Tuaolo in Henry Thomas' absence the final three games of the season. He recorded three tackles in game vs. Dallas (12/12) and at Washington (12/31). He suffered a concussion vs. San Diego (11/7) and had to stay overnight in the hospital for observation, but returned to the lineup the following week in Denver (11/14). Culpepper was active for every game except at Detroit (12/5). After leading the team with 4.5 sacks during the 1992 preseason, Culpepper was given the nod to start at right defensive tackle against Green Bay in the first game, the first Minnesota defensive rookie to start a season opener since Al Noga in 1988. Culpepper also was the lowest pick in the 1992 draft to start on opening weekend. His other start came vs. Cleveland (11/22) when he recorded three solo tackles before suffering a dislocated toe. That injury sent Culpepper to injured reserve for the remainder of the season. GAMES/STARTS (reg. season, playoffs): 1992 (11/2, IR), 1993 (15/0, 1/0). Total- 26/2, 1/0 ■ COLLEGE: A three-year starter and four-year letterman for the Gators, Culpepper finished fifth on the school's all-time list with 47.5 tackles for loss. He was named first team All-America by Kodak, the Associated Press and the Football News as a senior. He also earned All-Southeastern Conference first-team honors after recording 82 tackles (56 solo), seven sacks, 21.5 tackles for a loss, three fumble recoveries and one forced fumble in 1991. ■ PERSONAL: John Broward Culpepper earned second team All-America honors and was named to The Sporting News' Top 100 recruit list as a defensive tackle, offensive tackle and fullback at Leon High School in his native Tallahassee, FL. He lettered four times each in football and baseball, and three times each in track and weightlifting. PRO: After developing his skills on the practice squad for most of the 1992 season, Bernard Dafney emerged in 1993, first splitting time at right tackle with Tim Irwin and then starting the final four games of the season and the playoff game at left tackle. Dafney along with the rest of the offensive line set a team record by not allowing a sack over the final 14 quarters of the season. Over the final three games of the season (12/19-12/31) Dafney helped pave the way for 343 yards on the ground by running back Scottie Graham. Dafney alternated at right tackle with Irwin for four games (11/4 at Denver through 12/5 at Detroit) before being inserted into the starting lineup. His first ever NFL start came vs. Dallas (12/12) after Everett Lindsay was placed on injured reserve. Although he didn't catch a pass, Dafney was an eligible receiver on short yardage and goalline situations when Randall McDaniel moved to the backfield. Dafney spent the first seven games of 1992 on the practice squad before seeing action at tackle against Chicago (11/2) and Tampa Bay (11/8). Although he was active, he did not play the final seven weeks of the 1992 season. Dafney was de-activated for the playoff game against Washington (1/2). The Vikings signed him to the practice squad on Sept. 9, 1992, after he was released by Houston in preseason. The Oilers select-

He was switched from defensive end to offensive line prior to fall drills his junior season. He saw action at both left tackle and right guard in 1990 and scored a 32-yard touchdown on a "fumbleroosky" in a 40-7 victory over Mississippi State. Dafney transferred to Tennessee from Los Angeles Valley College following his sophomore season, when he registered 14 sacks and was named the team's MVP and first-team all-conference. In 1988 he recorded five sacks and was named all-conference. ■ PERSONAL: Bernard Eugene Dafney was born in Los Angeles, CA., and attended Fremont, CA., High School, where he lettered in football and basketball. PRO: Jack Del Rio's team-leading 169 tackles (108 solo) were a key reason the Vikings were the number one defense in the NFL in 1993. The 169 stops were a career high for Del Rio and the most by a Vikings middle linebacker since 1989 when Scott Studwell recorded 173 tackles. Del Rio led or tied for the team lead in tackles in nine-of-the-16 regular season games. In addition he led the club in tackles in the playoff game vs. the N.Y. Giants (1/9/94) with 14. He had his season-high in the opener vs. the L.A. Raiders (9/5) with 15 tackles (11 solo). Del Rio tied a team record for interceptions in a game with three vs. Detroit (12/5). It was the most by a linebacker in the NFL since Larry Gordon of Miami had three vs. the Raiders on December 10, 1978. His other interception came vs. Chicago (10/25) on the goalline in the closing seconds to help preserve a 19-13 victory. In that same game Del Rio had a half of sack and also forced a fumble. In each of the past four seasons, Del Rio has increased his career-high for tackles while starting in 76 consecutive games (32 with Minnesota, 44 with Dallas). Del Rio also played an integral part on teams (Cowboys in 1991 and the Vikings in 1992-93) making the playoffs the past three years. He has remained undaunted despite playing under six head coaches and seven defensive coordinators in his nine NFL seasons. After leading the Dallas Cowboys in tackles in 1991 with 130, he stepped into the starting middle linebacker role without missing a beat and led the Vikings in tackles in 1992. He started 16 games in 1992 and registered 110 solo tackles and 149 total tackles. He was named NFC Defensive Player of the Week for his performance in the 38-10 victory over Chicago (11/2), when he had one forced fumble, nine tackles and two interceptions , including one returned 84 yards for a touchdown. The other two turnovers also resulted in Vikings scores. His interception return for a touchdown was his first in the NFL, the fifth longest in Vikings history, the second longest by a Vikings linebacker and the longest in the NFC since Detroit's Ray Crockett returned a pick for a 96-yard touchdown in 1991. It was the longest interception return by an NFL linebacker since the Vikings Walker Lee Ashley returned one 94 yards for a touchdown against Chicago on Dec. 19, 1988. Del Rio's two interceptions against the Bears were one short of his three interceptions in seven previous NFL seasons and tied for the second-most in a game by a Vikings linebacker. He also batted down three passes against Washington (10/25), tying the Vikings single-game record for a linebacker. In addition, Del Rio registered two sacks in 1992 which tied a career-high from 1987, and was named to the All-Madden team. In his final season with the Cowboys in 1991 Del Rio had his second consecutive year over the century mark in tackles with 130. He had a career high 16 tackles vs. interstate rival Houston (11/10). In 1990, he started all 16 games for the Cowboys at outside linebacker where he finished third on the team in tackles with 104 and registered 1.5 sacks. Del Rio was claimed off waivers by Dallas from Kansas City in 1989 and started 12 games at strongside linebacker his first year with the Cowboys. He recovered two fumbles, including one he returned 57 yards for a touchdown against Green Bay (12/23). In 15 games with Kansas City in 1988, Del Rio registered 77 tackles (45 solo), one sack and one interception. He played in 10 games for Kansas City in 1987 after the Chiefs acquired him from New Orleans for a 1988 fifth-round draft choice. He registered 44 total tackles (32 solo), two sacks and one forced fumble his first season with the Chiefs. In 1986 Del Rio played both inside and outside linebacker at New Orleans. As a rookie in 1985, Del Rio played in 16 games and tied a Saints' season record with five fumble recoveries. He also registered 68 tackles, intercepted two passes and forced three fumbles to earn all-rookie honors. His first NFL touchdown came

Total – 135/103, 4/4 (Minn.-32/32, 2/2). ■ COLLEGE: A four-year letterman at Southern California, Del Rio earned All-America honors his senior season. The 1984 Lombardi Award finalist led the Trojans in tackles for a loss for three straight seasons. He played in the East-West Shrine Game and the Japan Bowl. ■ PERSONAL: Jack Del Rio Jr. earned all-state honors in football, basketball and baseball at Hayward, CA., High School. Del Rio, who was drafted out of high school by the Toronto Blue Jays, was the starting catcher on the Trojans baseball squad, where one of his teammates was current Oakland A's first baseman Mark McGwire. He earned his degree in political science from the University of Kansas in 1990. Jack and wife Linda have three daughters - Lauren (4/28/81), Hope (12/13/88) and Aubrey (9/15/93).

PRO: Although he's not Pele, Emerson Fittapaldi or Bjorn Borg, Charles Evans is a international sports star. Last year Evans was named the Most Valuable Player of the American Bowl in Berlin, Germany in the preseason vs. Buffalo (8/7), rushing for 78 yards on 13 carries (6.0 avg.) and one touchdown. The Vikings project Evans as the starting fullback for 1994 as they plan on using more two-back formations. He played in the first three games of the regular season before being placed on injured reserve (10/11) after fracturing his right wrist vs. Green Bay (9/26). His top performance in 1993 came vs. Chicago (9/12) when he carried the ball eight times for 23 yards and caught three passes for 18 yards. Evans was originally drafted by the Vikings in the 11th round (95rd overall pick) of the 1992 draft. Evans spent his rookie season on the Vikings' practice squad. GAMES/STARTS (reg. season, playoffs): 1993 (3/0, 0/0) ■ COLLEGE: Evans was a four-year starter for the Panthers. In 1991 he rushed for 871 yards and 15 touchdowns on 87 carries (10.0 avg.) and had two 100-yard rushing games; vs. Livingstone College (108 yards) and vs. Morehouse College (100 yards). As a junior in 1990, he rushed for 594 yards and seven touchdowns on 96 carries (6.1 avg.). In addition he played some at strong safety and finished his collegiate career with two interceptions. ■ PERSONAL: Born in Augusta, GA., Charles Evans Jr. attended Glen Hills High where he was an all-conference and all-state performer at running back and linebacker. He lettered three times in football and twice in basketball. His college major was health and physical education.

PRO: The Stanford connection with the Vikings continued in 1993 with David Garnett joining the Vikings squad. He follows head coach Dennis Green, coaches Brian Billick, Tyrone Willingham, and Chris Foerster and Director of Pro Personnel Paul Wiggin in the journey from Palo Alto to Minnesota. Although he wasn't drafted, Garnett made the club and was also the only Vikings rookie to play in every game in 1993. His 20 tackles on special teams ranked him second on the Vikings squad in 1993. At the linebacker position he recorded 11 tackles, including seven vs. Kansas City (12/26). Only Jack Del Rio's 11 tackles topped Garnett's total against the Chiefs (12/26). Garnett played up on the line throughout the season on short yardage and goalline situations. Garnett was originally signed as a free agent by the Vikings in 1993. He also was a three-time Academic All-PAC 10 pick and honorable mention All-PAC 10 selection. Garnett started 40 of the 45 games he played for the Cardinal after moving into the starting lineup midway through his freshman year. In 1992 he led the team in solo tackles (48), tied for the team lead in fumbles recovered (2), finished second in total tackles (72), tied for second in tackles for a loss (12) and placed third in sacks (4). In 1990 he tallied a season-high 12 tackles, along with a tackle for a loss and a sack in Stanford's upset win over then-No. 1 ranked Notre Dame in South Bend. Dennis Green was the head coach at Stanford for Garnett's first three seasons with the Cardinal. ■ PERSONAL: Dave Garnett earned honorable mention All-America honors from USA Today, as well as all-state honors at Naperville, IL., High School. BN 10/26/64 · PB (N.O.) FOR '92 · 9TH YEAR

PRO: Vencie Glenn is a key ingredient if the Vikings look to repeat as the number one defense in the NFL again in 1994. He moved into the starting role at free safety in 1993 and led the club in interceptions with five, which tied him for sixth in the NFC, and finished fifth with 76 tackles (51 solo). In starting all 16 games for the first time since he was with San Diego in 1989, Glenn finished tied for second on the team in passes defensed with 10. He picked off two passes vs. Tampa Bay (10/10) and one each vs. the Raiders (9/5), vs. Detroit (10/31) and vs. Green Bay (12/19). Glenn left the game after the first play vs. Green Bay (12/19), but returned in the second half to make some game-saving plays for the Vikings in their drive to get into the playoffs. First with the Packers inside the Vikings 10-yard line, Glenn knocked a sure touchdown pass in the endzone on fourth and goal. He then followed up that effort with an interception on Green Bay's last possession to seal the game 21-17 win. In the past two seasons only Seattle's Eugene Robinson has more interceptions (16) among NFL free safeties than Glenn's 10. Glenn stepped into the starting free safety role for the injured Felix Wright in the 13th week and put up some impressive numbers in 1992. He was named NFC Defensive Player-of-the-Week against Green Bay (12/27) in the season finale, when he pulled down three interceptions, tying a team single-game record and an NFC game-high for 1992. Glenn saw action in all 16 games in 1992 and picked off two other passes, tying him for second on the team in interceptions with five. After signing with the Raiders in 1991, as a Plan B free agent, he was traded to New Orleans on August 14 for a draft choice. He finished third in interceptions with four, despite starting only one game for the Saints. In 1990 Glenn started 14 games at free safety for San Diego, where he registered 54 tackles, one interception and five passes defensed. A starter in 16 games in 1989, Glenn led the Chargers secondary in tackles with 68 and finished second on the team in interceptions with four. Glenn also recorded one sack and recovered one fumble, which he returned for an 81-yard touchdown against the Giants (10/22). He finished second on the team with a career-high 90 tackles in 1988. In 1987 he started 12 games and was voted by his teammates as the Chargers' Outstanding Defensive Player after tying for third on the team in tackles with 66 and finishing second in interceptions with four, including an NFL-record 103-yard touchdown vs. Denver (11/29) - a mark tied by the Dolphins' Louis Oliver in 1992. Glenn started the 1986 season as a nickel back before moving into the starting lineup at free safety. In 12 games for San Diego, he registered two interceptions and recovered two fumbles after being acquired from New England on Sept. 26, 1986, for a fifth-round draft choice in 1987. He played the first four games of his rookie season with the Patriots, playing nickel back and special teams. He was drafted in 1986 by New England in the second round, 54th overall. SCOTTIE GRAHAM 31

RUNNING BACK · OHIO STATE · HT 5.9 · WT 215
BN 3/28/69 · FA FOR '93 · 2ND YEAR

PRO: Scottie Graham went from selling pills to running with the pill in a hurry in 1993. From working in a pharmacy in Columbus, OH., signing with the Vikings, to being placed on the practice squad, to being activated, to playing, to backing up at running back, to starting at running back, to finishing the season as the team's leading rusher, Graham certainly climbed through the ranks to make a name for himself in 1993. Prior to game vs. Detroit (12/5), Graham had not carried the ball for the Vikings. By the end of December he was the Vikings' leading rusher for the season with 488 yards on 118 carries. The 488 yards placed him 16th in the NFC in rushing and he did it without fumbling the ball once. He got his chance to be the team's featured running back when Robert Smith suffered a season-ending knee injury against Detroit (12/5). Graham had his first 100-yard rushing day of his career with 139 yards on 30 carries vs. Green Bay (12/19). It didn't take long for his second 100-yard day, coming one week later vs. Kansas City (12/26) when he gained 166 yards, the fourth highest total in team history, on 33 chances. His 33 attempts vs. Kansas City (12/26) tied a team record that has been done three times previously (twice by Chuck Foreman and once by Terry Allen). Graham's 305 yards rushing in those two games (12/19-12/26) were the most ever by a Viking running back over a two-game stretch. Graham started the first game of his career vs. Dallas (12/12) and also scored his first ever NFL touchdown. His first two games with the Vikings he played on special teams vs. Tampa Bay (11/21) and vs. New Orleans (11/28). The Vikings activated Scottie Graham on November 9 after he spent six weeks on the team's practice squad. Drafted in the seventh round by Pittsburgh in 1992, Graham spent the first 14 weeks of last season on the Steelers' practice squad. He was signed off that roster by the New York Jets on December 15. Graham led the Jets in rushing against Miami (12/20). He also received most of the playing time at fullback in the Jets' regular-season finale against New Orleans (12/26). GAMES/STARTS (reg. season, playoffs): 1992 (2/0-N.Y.J.), 1993 (7/3, 1/1). Total — 9/3, 1/1 (Minn.-7/3, 1/1).

■■■ Graham's 305 yards rushing in those two games (12/19-12/26) were the most ever by a Viking running back over a two-game stretch. ■

■ COLLEGE: A three-year starter at fullback at Ohio State, Graham averaged 5.0 yards per carry, while rushing for 1,704 yards and 19 touchdowns during his collegiate career. In his first year as a starter in 1989, Graham finished second on the team in rushing with 924 yards, the most by a Ohio State fullback since Pete Johnson in 1975. In 1990 Graham played in the same backfield as current Vikings running back Robert Smith. ■ PERSONAL: James Otis Graham earned All-America and all-state honors at Long Beach, NY., High School, where he rushed for 1,534 yards (10.7 avg.) and 17 touchdowns as a senior. He also ranked third in the state as a junior heavyweight wrestler. Graham earned his degree in recreation education. Scottie and wife Mary have a son, Dennis Mylek (1/26/93).

WIDE RECEIVER · ARIZONA STATE · HT 5.8 · WT 165
BN 10/25/69 · FA FOR '93 · 2ND YEAR

PRO: If you only have one catch on the season, it's likely to be a faded memory among the NFL fans. That is unless you're Eric Guliford and your one catch is on a "Hail Mary" that sets up the winning field goal at the end of the game vs. Green Bay (9/26). The 45-yard grab from Jim McMahon, the first play from scrimmage in his NFL career, came with six seconds left in the game and helped beat the interdivision rivals, 15-13. Guliford mainly returned punts in 1993, finishing 10th in the NFC with 7.3 yard average. He had his best day returning punts vs. San Francisco (10/3), returning two punts for 55 yards, including a long of 50 yards. He played in 10 games in 1993, but only three at wide receiver. Guliford was one of three undrafted rookies (along with David Garnett and Ron Carpenter) to make the Vikings' opening-day roster in 1993. GAMES/STARTS (reg. season, playoffs): 1993 (10/0, 0/0) ■ COLLEGE: Only two players (Hugh Campbell, Wash. St., 176; Brian Treggs, Cal., 167) have caught more passes in the PAC-10 during their collegiate career than Guliford's 164 receptions. The second-team All-PAC 10 pick in 1992 also finished his Sun Devils career second in school history in catches behind the 188 receptions by John Jefferson, a first-round draft choice by the Charger in 1978. (Arizona State wasn't in the PAC 10 when Jefferson played there). During his career, he caught over 100 yards in passes in nine games, including a team-record 232 yards on a career-high 12 catches against Houston in the Tokyo Dome on Dec. 1, 1990. In 1991 Guliford was named the Sun Devils most valuable offensive player after leading the team in receptions with a career-high 55 and receiving yards with 801. As a sophomore Guliford started nine games and led Arizona State in catches with 48 to earn honorable mention All-PAC 10 recognition. Guliford led the PAC 10 in punt return average as a freshman with a 10.0 mark. ■ PERSONAL: Eric Andre Guliford earned all-state honors as a senior, when he averaged 26.0 yards every time he touched the ball, at Peoria, AZ., High School. He also was named most valuable player on a team which captured the state title and sent six of its member to play for division I schools. As a junior he also helped the team to the state championship, the first in the 63-year history of the school. Guliford also lettered in baseball, track and basketball in high school. He majored in sociology at Arizona State.

JAMES HARRIS 99

DEFENSIVE END · TEMPLE · HT 6.4 · WT 270
BN 5/13/68 · FA FOR '92 · 2ND YEAR

PRO: James Harris enters his second season in the NFL in a fierce battle for the starting right defensive end spot. The position, left vacant by Chris Doleman, is being sought after by Harris, Robert Harris and rookie Fernando Smith. Harris saw action in six games for the Vikings in 1993, playing primarily on special teams. He played in his first NFL game vs. San Francisco (10/3). His next action came vs. Chicago (10/25) when he was on the field goal block team. Harris played the following three games, seeing action at right defensive end in the fourth quarter vs. Denver (11/14). He played his final game of 1993 vs. Detroit (12/5) on the punt return team. He was signed to the Vikings practice squad on Sept. 10, 1992, but suffered an ankle injury after a week and did not practice the remainder of the season. He was originally signed as a free agent by the Seahawks in 1992 but released in the preseason. GAMES/STARTS (reg. season, playoffs): 1993 (6/0, 0/0) ■ COLLEGE: A four-year letterman at Temple, he finished his collegiate career with 103 tackles, 19 tackles for loss, 14 sacks and a school-record nine blocked kicks. He started the final two games of the 1990 and all 11 games in 1991 at outside linebacker. Harris started his collegiate career at tight end and caught two passes for 23 yards in 1988. ■ PERSONAL: A native of East St. Louis, IL., Harris lettered in football and basketball at East St. Louis High School. He was an education major at Temple.

ROBERT HARRIS 90

DEFENSIVE END · SOUTHERN · HT 6.4 · WT 290
BN 6/13/69 · D2 FOR '92 · 3RD YEAR

PRO: With injuries diminishing his chances to start in 1993, Harris sees an open spot on the 1994 defensive line with the departure of Chris Doleman. Harris played in all 16 games and one playoff game in 1993, primarily rotating at left end with Roy Barker. He had his lone sack of the season and the first of his NFL career vs. Tampa Bay (10/10). He also played on defensive line in goalline situations and on field goal and extra point block teams. As a rookie in 1992, Harris played in seven regular-season games. Vs. Cincinnati (9/27) in his first NFL game action, he suffered a knee injury which forced him onto injured reserve. He was re-activated on November 11 and played against Houston (11/15) but did not appear the following week vs. the Rams (11/29). He played in the Vikings' last five regular-season games and the playoff game. Selected in the second round, Harris was the Vikings' first choice, the seventh defensive lineman, the fourth defensive end and the 39th player taken overall in the 1992 draft. GAMES/STARTS: 1992 (7/0, 1/0), 1993 (16/0, 1/0). Total- (23/0, 2/0). ■ COLLEGE: A two-year starter for Southern University, Harris finished his college career with 158 tackles, 17 sacks, two fumble recoveries and four forced fumbles. In his final game with the Jaguars, he had five tackles, three sacks and four stops for losses in a 31-10 decision over Grambling in the Bayou Classic. Harris played in every game as a junior in 1990 and recorded 61 tackles (23 solo) with five sacks for 80 yards in losses, recovered two fumbles and caused another. He also played in the Senior Bowl. ■ PERSONAL: Robert Harris was born in Riviera Beach, FL., where he attended Suncoast High School. An all-state selection at defensive tackle and offensive guard, Harris earned three letters each in football, basketball and track in high school. He majored in physical education and criminal justice at Southern. Robert and wife Johnetta live in Minnetonka, MN.

CHRIS HINTON 75

TACKLE · NORTHWESTERN · HT 6.4 · WT 305
BN 7/31/61 · FA (ATL.) FOR '94 · 12TH YEAR

PRO: After 11 NFL years, seven Pro Bowl appearances, and 153 career starts, including 60 consecutive, offensive lineman Chris Hinton and Vikings head coach Dennis Green are reunited. Green coached Hinton at Northwestern and subsequently moved him from tight end to left tackle prior to his senior year feeling the move would turn him into a first-round pick. "After my years with the 49ers I knew what was needed to be a left tackle in the pros and Chris was a classic," said Green. Originally selected by Denver with the fourth overall choice in 1983 behind John Elway, Eric Dickerson and Curt Warner, Hinton was traded along with quarterback Mark Hermann and a first-round draft choice to the Colts for Elway. On April 20, 1990, he was traded along with Andre Rison and a first and fifth-round choice to Atlanta for the first pick in the draft, which the Colts used to select Jeff George. In his first season at right guard with the Falcons in 1993, Hinton earned all-pro honors on an offensive line that led the way for Erric Pegram's 1,185 yards rushing, (4th NFL), and Bobby Hebert's 24 touchdowns passes, (third NFL). In his career, Hinton has been part of offensive lines that have led running backs to 1,000-yard rushing seasons four times (Curtis Dickey, Colts 1,122 yds., '83; Eric Dickerson, Colts, 1,011 yds., '87, 1,659 yds., '88, 1,311 yds., '89; Peagram, 1,185 yds., '93). In 1992 Hinton started every game at right tackle for an offense that set club records in pass completions (336), touchdown passes (33) and first downs passing (194). The 33 touchdown passes were the best in the NFL and the teams 3,635 yards passing ranks second all-time in Falcons ledgers. In 1992 Hinton's pass-blocking enabled Andre Rison to snag 93 passes, (2nd NFL) for 1,119 yards (4th NFL).

He also was a part of Michael Haynes' club and NFL season best 89-yard touchdown grab vs. Washington (9/13), Chris Miller's 351-yard, four touchdown passing day at Chicago (9/27), Wade Wilson's 374-yards throwing vs. Rams (12/27) and Rison's 177-yard receiving at Chicago (9/27). In 1991 Hinton was a Pro Bowl selection at right tackle, making him the first offensive lineman in history to be voted to Hawaii at three different positions: right guard, left tackle, and right tackle. Behind Hinton, Chris Miller threw 26 touchdown passes (3rd NFL), and 3,103 yards, en route to his first Pro Bowl. The '91 Falcons were the league's 5th-best scoring team (361 points) and 8th-ranked offense. With Hinton on the front line, Atlanta set a club record with only one quarterback sack per 17 pass attempts. Because of contract squabbles and a calf injury, Hinton started slow in 1990, but finished strong making 12 starts and earning first alternate Pro Bowl and honorable mention AP All-Pro honors left tackle. When asked about Hinton's late-season performance Falcons Coach Jerry Glanville said, "Chris isn't just blocking guys, he's mauling them. This is the type of play we expected from a Pro Bowl player." In his first game of the season against San Francisco (10/14) Hinton's presence was a boost to an Atlanta offense that racked up 394 yards total offense. In 1989 Hinton finished his Colts career by earning a sixth Pro Bowl assignment at right tackle, along with Pro Football Writer's First Team All-AFC recognition. Hinton's tenacious blocking opened holes for Dickerson's 1,311 yard season (3rd NFL). Despite missing three starts from a calf injury in 1988, Hinton earned Pro Bowl and UPI All-AFC second team honors at right tackle. Hinton's overpowering blocks enabled Dickerson to top the NFL rushing ledgers with 1,659 yards and 14 touchdowns and a 140 yards per game team average (4th NFL). Dickerson made a killing running over Hinton in a 169-yard perfomance vs. Miami (12/4) and a 166-yard game vs. Buffalo (12/18), earning AFC Offensive Player of the Month honors. In 1987 Hinton made a smooth transition to left tackle earning Pro Bowl, Sporting News All-NFL, an Pro Football Weekly All-AFC honors. He was a big part of the Colts claim of the '87 AFC East title, their first in 10 years. Hinton's move to left tackle was a blessing to Colts quarterbacks, where sacks allowed was cut from 53 in 1986 to 24 in '87. With Hinton firing off the ball, Dickerson dashed for 1,011 yards, including a 196-yard game vs. Tampa Bay (12/27). In '86 Hinton started the first 13 weeks at left tackle, shifting to left guard for the final three contests. He earned a third Pro Bowl nod at left tackle and also nabbed UPI All-AFC first team, and Football News All-NFL recognition. Coming off an injury-riddled season, Hinton responded with Pro Bowl, AP All-NFL, and UPI ALL-AFC accolades at left tackle in 1985. A healthy Hinton enabled the Colts to possess the NFL's first season rushing average of 5.0 yards in a decade. In 1984, Hinton started the first six games, but then suffered a sprained ankle and broken fibula vs. Washinton (10/7) shelving him for the last ten weeks, where the Colts lost eight-of-ten games. Hinton made NFL history in 1983 by being the first rookie lineman ever to earn Pro Bowl honors. Hinton also made Football Digest All-Rookie and Pro Football Writers All-AFC teams. GAMES/STARTS (reg. season/playoffs): 1983 (16/15 - Ind.), 1984 (6/6 -Ind.), 1985 (16/16 - Ind.), 1986 (16/16 - Ind.), 1987 (12/12, 1/1 - Ind.), 1988 (14/14 - Ind.) 1989 (14/14 - Ind.), 1990 (16/12 - Atl.) 1991 (16/16, 2/2- Atl.) 1992 (16/16 -Atl.) 1993 (16/16 Atl.). Total - (157-153, 2/2). ■ COLLEGE: An All-Big Ten and All-America selection at left tackle, Hinton was moved from tight end by then Wildcats coach and present Vikings mentor Dennis Green. Hinton played three different positions with the Wildcats, starting his collegiate career as a outside linebacker. After six starts and 46 tackles at linebacker as a freshman and six starts with 38 tackles as a sophomore, Hinton switched to tight end as a junior, catching 19 passes for 265 yards, including an 83 yard recieving game vs. Michigan. In his first year at left tackle, the senior captain was chosen as the Wildcats MVP. Hinton was named to the 1982 college All-America strength team. Hinton earned a sociology degree from Northwestern. ■ PERSONAL: As a senior at Wendell Phillips, Chicago, Ill., High School, Hinton earned All-State, All-City and Honorable Mention All-America honors, as well as competing in wrestling, basketball and track. Hinton returned to his alma mater to make the commencement speech for the class of '90. Hinton's high school teacher, Leroy Lovelace, won NFL's November teacher of the month award in '90. Hinton is active in Adopt-A-Family and Special Olympics programs. His wife, Carole, have a three-year-old daughter, Caris.

WIDE RECEIVER · SYRACUSE · HT 6.0 · WT 192
BN 11/8/70 · D2 FOR '93 · 2ND YEAR

PRO: After getting a good feel for the NFL in 1993, Qadry Ismail would like to go a step further in 1994 and "missile" into a starting position at wide receiver. Playing primarily at the third wide receiver spot last year, Ismail finished his rookie season third among Vikings wide receivers in catches with 19 for 212 yards (11.2 avg.). His biggest receiving day of the year came vs. San Francisco (10/3), catching five passes for 65 yards (13.0 avg.), in his first career start. Nicknamed "The Missile", Ismail had a season long 37-yard reception vs. New Orleans (11/28) in the closing minute to give the Vikings a chance at a game-tying field goal. Ismail scored his first NFL touchdown vs. Green Bay (12/19) in Milwaukee on a six-yard strike from Jim McMahon. As the Vikings' main kickoff return man, Ismail finished seventh in the NFC and 10th in the NFL with a 21.5-yard average. His top returning performance came vs. San Diego (11/7) with five returns for 133 yards (26.6 avg.), becoming the first Vikings player to go over the 100-yard mark since Herschel Walker had 116 yards vs. Chicago (11/25/90). In addition Ismail's long return of 47 yards vs. Dallas (12/12) was the longest kickoff return since Walker had a 63-yarder in that game against the Bears. Only one Vikings rookie, David Garnett, played in more games in 1993 than Ismail's 15. The only game he missed was vs. Tampa Bay (11/21). Ismail was originally drafted by the Vikings in the second round (52nd overall pick) in 1993. The sixth wide receiver selected in 1993, Ismail was taken with the highest choice used on an Orangemen wide receiver in the regular draft, since future Hall of Famer Art Monk was taken in the first round in 1980. GAMES/STARTS (reg. season, playoffs): 1993 (15/3, 1/0). ■ COLLEGE: Of his 12 career touchdowns at Syracuse, 10 came from 33-or-more yards, including five from beyond 64 yards for an average of 46.6 yards per score. Ismail also averaged 19.1 yards every time he touched the ball for the Orangemen. As a freshman and sophomore at Syracuse, he put together the two best kickoff return yardage seasons in school history. Following his junior season, Ismail was named All-America by the Football Writers Association and first-team All-Big East as a wide receiver and second-team all-conference as a kickoff returner. Ismail set a Syracuse career mark for kickoff return yards in only three seasons, surpassing the old record (1,562 yards by Harold Gayden) his junior year. He is one of only eight players in NCAA history with over 2,000 kickoff return yards and ranks third in school history in all-purpose yards with 4,041 behind Joe Morris (5,581) and Floyd Little (4,928). ■ PERSONAL: Born in Newark, NJ., Qadry Rahmadan Ismail (KAH-dree ISS-mile) was named Track Athlete of the Year, and earned All-America and three-time all-state honors in track in high school. In 1988 he boasted the fastest high school 110-meter hurdles time in the country. Ismail, who earned the Martin Luther King Leadership Award in high school, was honored as one of 11 Fiesta Bowl Samaritan All-Americas, for excellence in academics, citizenship and athletics, in May, 1992. An outstanding performer in Pop Warner, who regularly scored six touchdowns a game, Ismail was forced to play fullback at E.L. Meyers High School in Wilkes Barre, PA., because he was the only one fast enough to block for his brother, Raghib, who played tailback. Raghib played for Toronto of the Canadian Football League in 1991-92 and for the L.A. Raiders last season. Ismail also earned All-America honors in the 55-meter indoor hurdles and the 110-meter outdoor hurdles in 1992, to become Syracuse's first two-sport All-America since Jim Brown in football and lacrosse in 1956. Ismail set or tied school records for the 55-meter hurdles, 110-meter hurdles, and the 200-meter dash, and was part of the record-breaking efforts on the 4x100-meter and 4x400-meter relay teams. Qadry majored in speech communications at Syracuse.

CARLOS JENKINS 51

LINEBACKER · MICHIGAN STATE · HT 6.3 · WT 217
BN 7/12/68 · D3A FOR '91 · 4TH YEAR

PRO: Carlos Jenkins continued to be a player that came up with the big plays in 1993. He led all non-linemen in sacks (2.5), intercepted two passes, tied for the team lead in forced fumbles with three and recovered one fumble. He started all 16 games and the playoff game at strongside linebacker, finishing third on the team in tackles with a career-high 88 (58 solo). His two interceptions came in back-to-back games vs. Green Bay (9/26) and at San Francisco (10/3). In week 11 vs. Denver (11/14), Jenkins forced Glyn Milburn to fumble inside the Vikings 30-yard line in the closing minute of play to seal a 26-23 victory. In 1992 he tied for second in the Vikings record book with two defensive touchdown returns (one interception and one fumble) in a season. In 16 games and 12 starts, he tied for fourth on the team in tackles with 69 (52 solo) and led all linebackers in sacks with four. He did not start against teams that use run-and-shoot offenses, Detroit (9/13,10/10) and Houston (11/15), when a fifth defensive back was employed. Although he did not start against Philadelphia (12/6) because of a knee injury, he still saw limited action in the contest. Jenkins scored his first NFL touchdown on a 19-yard interception return vs. Chicago (11/2). The following week vs. Tampa Bay (11/8), he scored another touchdown on a 25-yard fumble return, making him the first Vikings player with defensive touchdowns in consecutive games. Vs. Houston (11/15) he forced a fumble that Anthony Parker returned 58-yards for a touchdown. Jenkins played in three games in 1991 mostly on special teams, spending the rest of the year on injured reserve due to a nagging ankle injury he suffered in training camp. The Vikings selected Jenkins in the third round of the 1991 draft. GAMES/STARTS: 1991 (3/0), 1992 (16/12, 1/1), 1993 (16/16, 1/1). Total – 35/28, 2/2. ■ COLLEGE: Jenkins earned first-team All-Big Ten honors as a senior at Michigan State after recording 100 tackles, a pair of sacks and eight stops for 22 yards in losses. He also caused three fumbles, recovered another, deflected four passes and intercepted two passes. He started every

A starter in every game at outside linebacker as a sophomore in 1988, he ranked second on the team with 99 tackles. Jenkins finished his collegiate career with 293 total tackles, seven sacks and 21 tackles for a loss. ■ PERSONAL: Carlos Edward Jenkins was born in Palm Beach, FL., and attended Santa Luces High School in Lantana, FL., where he was an all-state and All-South Florida tight end and outside linebacker. In addition to earning four letters in football, he also earned two letters in basketball and three in track. His senior year, he placed second in the triple jump in the state track meet. Hobbies include car detailing and music.

BRAD JOHNSON 14

QUARTERBACK · FLORIDA STATE · HT 6.5 · WT 221
BN 9/13/68 · D9A FOR '92 · 3RD YEAR

PRO: Brad Johnson enters his third season with the Vikings in a battle for the backup quarterback position with former Heisman Trophy winners Gino Torretta and Andre Ware. Johnson dressed as the third quarterback, but was not active for the first 10 games of 1993. He did not dress the final six games last season . Although he didn't throw a pass during the regular season, he connected on 7 of 18 passes for 93 yards and one touchdown during the 1993 preseason. The touchdown pass was a 30-yarder to Derek Tennell vs. Kansas City (8/21). In 1992 he was de-activated for 15 games and was active but did not play for one game (vs. Washington 10/25/92). During the 1992 preseason Johnson completed three of six passes for 44 yards. Johnson was originally drafted by the Vikings in the ninth round (227rd overall pick) of the 1992 draft. GAMES/STARTS (reg. season, playoffs): 1992 (0/0,0/0), 1993 (0/0, 0/0) ■ COLLEGE: Johnson was a one-year starter and a four-year letterman for the Seminoles. He played in nine games in 1991 and started the Louisville contest, completing 16 of 26 passes for 190 yards and one touchdown pass in the 40-15 win over the Cardinals. He finished his senior season connecting on 37-of-61 passes (60.7%) for 462 yards and five touchdowns and also rushed for 52 yards on 10 carries (5.2 avg.). As a junior in 1990, he began the season as the Seminoles' starting quarterback before being replaced by Casey Weldon in the sixth game. He finished the season with a career high 1,136 yards passing on 109-of-163 passes (66.9%) and eight touchdowns. ■ PERSONAL: James Bradley Johnson was born in Marietta, GA. and attended Owen High in Black Mountain, NC. where he was an All-America quarterback and an all-state basketball player. A teammate of NBA star Brad Daugherty on the high school basketball team, Johnson lettered four times each in football and basketball. Johnson is an avid bowler and during the offseason he bowled a 278 in a charity league for leukemia. Johnson graduated with a degree in physical education. Johnson played two years for the Seminoles' basketball team (1987, 88), starting 11 games as a freshman in 1987.

AMP LEE 32

RUNNING BACK · FLORIDA ST. · HT 5.11 · WT 200
BN 10/1/71 · FA FOR '94 · 3RD YEAR

PRO: When the Vikings signed running back Amp Lee from San Francisco (5/24/94) maybe they remembered the old phrase, "If you can't beat them, join them." Starting for the injured Ricky Watters, Lee had a career-best day against Minnesota (12/13/92) with 134 yards and a touchdown on 23 carries, including a 43-yard jaunt to lead the 49ers to a 20-17 win. He also caught four passes, including one for a score and earned NFC Offensive Player of the Week honors. A second-round choice by the 49ers in 1992, Lee was the fourth running back chosen behind only Tommy Vardell, 9th, Cleveland; Tony Smith, 19th, Atlanta; and Vaughn Dunbar, 21st, New Orleans. In two NFL seasons, Lee has rushed for 592 yards and three touchdowns on 163 carries (3.6 avg.) with a long run of 43 yards. In six starting roles, Lee has 403 yards and three touchdowns on 96 carries (4.2 avg.) and 23 receptions for 137 yards and three scores. The 49ers have posted a 4-2 record in games Lee started and a 24-7 mark in games he played. He's also played in three postseason games, including two NFC Championship Games. After backing up at running back for the first 12 games of 1993, Lee started at Atlanta (12/11), at Detroit (12/19) and vs. Houston (12/25) due to an injury to Watters. In those three starts he rushed for a combined 186 yards and a touchdown, while catching 14 passes for 103 yards and two more scores. Lee missed the season finale against Philadelphia (1/3) due to a shoulder injury. It was the first time he missed a game in his pro career. In addition, Lee was a major contributor on special teams with 10 kickoff returns for 160 yards, five solo tackles and a deflected pass on a fake punt vs. Cincinnati (12/5). In 1992 Lee earned all-rookie honors despite starting only three games (Miami, 12/6; Minnesota, 12/13; Tampa Bay, 12/19) late in the season in place of an injured Watters. He rushed for 217 yards and two touchdowns and caught nine passes for 34 yards and another score in those three games. In the season finale against Detroit (12/28), he caught a career-high seven passes, including Joe Montana's final scoring toss with the 49ers. Lee also had 14 kickoff returns for 276 yards, including a 33-yard return vs. New Orleans (9/27). GAMES/STARTS (reg. season, playoffs): 1992 (16/3, 1/0), 1993 (15/3, 2/0). Total - 31/6, 3/0. ■ COLLEGE: Lee led the Seminoles in rushing as a junior with 977 yards and 11 touchdowns. He was an All-South Independent pick as a sophomore in 1990, after rushing for a team-leading 825 yards and 16 touchdowns. Lee's 16 touchdowns in '90 ranks second on the Seminole's all-time single-season scoring chart behind Greg Allen's 20 in 1982. As a freshman Lee played behind current 49ers running back Dexter Carter registering 290 yards on 61 carries and three scores. He also caught 10 passes for 272 yards and three touchdowns in 1989. ■ PERSONAL: As a senior at Chipley, FL., High School, Lee earned USA Today honorable mention All America and Class 2A all-state honors for a state finalist squad. Lee rushed for over 4,000 yards and scored 68 touchdowns with 25 pass interceptions in his three prep seasons. He also excelled in basketball leading his alma mater to the state finals. Lee majored in physical education at Florida St.

EVERETT LINDSAY 61

OFFENSIVE LINE · MISSISSIPPI · HT 6.4 · WT 290
BN 9/18/70 · D5 FOR '93 · 2ND YEAR

PRO: Everett Lindsay entered the NFL in 1993 trying to earn a spot on the roster. He did that and more as he found himself starting the first 12 games at left tackle until a shoulder injury sidelined him for the remainder of the season. Despite missing the final four games of the year, Lindsay was selected to the All-Rookie team by Football News. Lindsay had a solid preseason and was selected to start the season opener vs. the L.A. Raiders (9/5). With that start he became the first Vikings rookie ever to start on the offensive line on opening day and the first Vikings rookie offensive lineman to start since Randall McDaniel in the second game of 1988 vs. New England (9/11/88). In addition he was the first Vikings rookie to start on offense in the season opener since D.J. Dozier vs. Detroit (9/13/87) and the first Vikings rookie to start the season opener since defensive tackle Brad Culpepper vs. Green Bay (9/6/92). He was officially placed on injured reserve on December 22, 1993. When he left the lineup he was one of only two rookies to have played in the first 12 games of the season (along with David Garnett). Lindsay was drafted by the Vikings in the fifth round (133rd overall pick) in 1993. GAMES/STARTS (reg. season, playoffs): 1993 (12/12, 0/0) ■ COLLEGE: Everett earned All-America honors from Associated Press, Football Writers, United Press International, Football News, The Sporting News, and College and Pro Football Newsweekly in 1992. He was also a first-team All-Southeastern Conference selection by Associated Press, SEC coaches and Football News. Lindsay was awarded the Jacobs Best Blocker Award for the SEC and was selected to play in the Senior Bowl and East-West Shrine games. He was named to the College and Pro Football Newsweekly second team and Football News honorable mention All-America team as well as first team all-SEC by Football News and second team all-conference by Associated Press in 1991. PRO: After leading the Vikings in special teams tackles (26) in 1993, Greg Manusky will try to become the first Vikings player since Walker Lee Ashley (1986-87) to lead the club in that category in back-to-back seasons. Manusky played in all 16 games during the 1993 campaign, making special teams tackles in 13 of them. Despite playing in only 11 games in 1992, he finished third on the club in special teams tackles with 17 (12 solo). After suffering a bruised kidney against Houston (11/15), he was placed on injured reserve (11/25) for four weeks before returning in the season finale vs. Green Bay (12/27). In his first season with the Vikings in 1991, Manusky ranked second on the Vikings in special teams tackles with 22 stops to earn All-Madden team recognition, the only Minnesota player to earn that honor that year. He was signed as a Plan B free agent by Minnesota after three seasons with Washington. While starting eight-of-16 games for the Redskins in 1990, Manusky finished third in tackles with 88 and also batted down three passes. He started seven games in 1989, when he tallied 72 tackles, a fumble recovery and a pass deflection. Against the Giants (10/15) in his first NFL start, Manusky registered a game-high 13 tackles. He led Redskins' linebackers in tackles six times and finished first in special teams stops. Originally signed as a free agent by Washington in 1988, Manusky spent the first nine games of his rookie season on injured reserve due to a thigh problem. He returned to play on special teams the remaining seven games of the year. GAMES/STARTS (reg. season, playoffs): 1988 (7/0-Was.), 1989 (16/7-Was.), 1990 (16/8, 2/0-Was.), 1991 (16/0), 1992 (11/0,1/0), 1993 (16/0, 1/0). Total – 82/15, 4/0 (Minn.-43/0,2/0). ■ COLLEGE: A four-year letterman and a two-time all-conference pick, Manusky was named the Colonial League Defensive Player-of-the-Year as a senior, when he recorded 134 tackles and four sacks for Colgate. Of his 408 career tackles, 162 came his junior year, when he also had a team-high five sacks. ■ PERSONAL: Gregory Manusky was born in Wilkes-Barre, PA., and attended Dallas, PA., High School. Manusky, who enjoys hunting, fishing and playing racquetball, graduated with a double major in education and geology.

PRO: Ed McDaniel hopes to regain the starting weakside linebacker spot he lost after the opening game of the 1993 season vs. L.A. Raiders (9/5) when he tore tendons in his right shoulder. After a successful preseason in which he led the club in tackles (28), McDaniel earned the starting spot. In the game vs. the Raiders (9/5), he had a career high eight tackles. After injury that kept him out of the lineup for nine weeks, he returned to action vs. New Orleans (11/28) and went on to play in the final five games and the playoff game, splitting time at weakside linebacker with Fred Strickland. A fifth-round draft pick in 1992, McDaniel spent the first part of his rookie season on the Vikings' practice squad. He was signed activated in November and played in his first NFL game vs. Tampa Bay (11/8). Playing primarily on special teams, McDaniel saw action in the last eight regular-season games and the Vikings playoff game against Washington. He recorded nine tackles and nine more on special teams. His best game of the year was vs. Green Bay (12/27), when he played at linebacker and recorded two solo tackles and one assist. He also had two tackles on special teams in that game. GAMES/STARTS: 1992 (8/0,1/0), 1993 (7/1, 1/0). Total- 15/1, 2/0. ■ COLLEGE: A four-year starter for the Tigers, McDaniel was a first-team All-Atlantic Coast Conference selection and earned third-team All-America honors from Associated Press in 1991 after leading the team with 114 tackles (72 solo), 10 tackles for loss, one recovered fumble and two forced fumbles. As a junior, McDaniel earned first-team All-ACC and honorable mention All-America honors after starting every game and recording 109 tackles (75 solo), one sack and 13 tackles for loss. A starter in six games in 1989, McDaniel recorded 12 tackles (seven solo) and a fumble recovery in Clemson's 30-0 win over Illinois in the 1989 Hall of Fame Bowl. RANDALL MCDANIEL 64

GUARD · ARIZONA STATE · HT 6.3 · WT 275
BN 12/19/64 · D1-88 · 7TH YEAR

PRO: If there was a perfect mold for an offensive lineman, Randall McDaniel would fit it. McDaniel combines a rare combination of speed, quickness and strength that is hard to find in any other offensive lineman in the league. McDaniel has quickly become one of the elite among National Football League offensive linemen in just six years, starting in five consecutive Pro Bowls (1989-1993), and being named All-Pro (1989-93) for five straight seasons. The Associated Press, The Sporting News, Pro Football Weekly/Pro Football Writers of America, Sports Illustrated, College and Pro Football Newsweekly, United Press International (NFC), Football News (NFC), all selected McDaniel to their All-Pro teams in 1993. One may also notice his resume also includes "fullback." The 275-pounder has lined up in the offensive backfield on several occasions over the past three seasons.

Although he has never carried the ball, he has made some key blocks, especially in short-yardage and goalline situations. However, there is no doubt that McDaniel's true calling is guard. His current streak of 74 consecutive regular-season starts is first on the Vikings' all-time list among guards. The Associated Press, Sporting News, Newspaper Enterprise Association, College and Pro Football Newsweekly, and Professional Football Writers Association/Pro Football Weekly named him to their All-Pro teams in 1992. He had a key block from his fullback position that enabled Roger Craig to score a game-winning touchdown in the Vikings' comeback victory over Chicago (10/4) in 1992. In 1991 he earned first team All-Pro recognition from College and Pro Football Weekly, The Sporting News, and Newspaper Enterprise Association, as well second team All-Pro from Associated Press. He started all 16 games at left guard and saw limited action in the backfield as a blocking fullback. In 1990 he was distinguished as being one of only two Vikings players (Joey Browner was the other) to be selected to the All-Pro team by Associated Press. He also was named to the All-NFC squad by UPI. In 1989, after playing just two seasons in the league, he became only the fifth player in club history to earn a Pro Bowl berth so early in a career. In addition, he earned College and Pro Football Newsweekly All-Pro honors and Pro Football Weekly All-NFC recognition despite missing two games with a sprained knee, which he suffered vs. Pittsburgh (9/24). He returned to the lineup four weeks later against Detroit (10/22). In 1988 he was named to the UPI and Pro Football News All-Rookie team and second-team All-NFC by UPI after starting lineup at left guard for the final 15 regular-season games and both playoff games. His first start came against New England (9/11) in place of injured Dave Huffman. Also in 1988 he set a Vikings single-season record for starts by a rookie guard, surpassing the old mark of 14 by Larry Bowie in 1962. McDaniel was the first guard, fourth offensive lineman and the 19th pick overall in the 1988 college draft.

■ COLLEGE: McDaniel was the recipient of the Morris Trophy as the PAC 10's outstanding offensive lineman, as well as a first-team All-America and first-team All-PAC 10 choice in 1987. He led an offensive line that enabled Arizona State to gain 190 yards per game on the ground. In 1986 he was a first-team All-PAC 10 and honorable mention All-America selection. He became a starter in 1984 and started 39 consecutive games for the Sun Devils after moving from tight end and learning the guard duties in only eight days. He also played in the Japan, Senior and East-West Shrine games. ■ PERSONAL: Randall Cornell McDaniel was born in Phoenix, AZ., and was an all-state tight end and linebacker at Agua Fria High School in Avondale, AZ. He lettered three times in football and basketball and twice in track. McDaniel was the 275-pound class champion at the American Drug Free Powerlifting Association Collegiate Championships in 1986 and held the collegiate record with a 620-pound deadlift. He graduated with a degree in physical education from Arizona State. Randall and wife Marianne spend much of their free time working with the homeless children from YMCA Housing in St. Paul and the Learning Center in Minneapolis.

LAMAR MCGRIGGS 37

SAFETY · WESTERN ILLINOIS · HT 6.3 · WT 210
BN 5/9/68 · FA FOR '93 · 4TH YEAR

PRO: The word best used in describing Lamar McGriggs is opportunistic. Once he got his chance to start, he made the best of it. Starting his first game of the season vs. Detroit (12/5), McGriggs came up with the play of the day with a 63-yard interception return for a touchdown in the closing minutes of the game to seal a 13-0 victory. The interception and the touchdown were both career firsts. The following week vs. Dallas (12/12) he led the team with a season-high 13 tackles and also forced a fumble. He started four-of-the-final five games of the regular season and the playoff game vs. his former teammates, the N.Y. Giants (1/9/94).

■■■ Starting his first game of the season vs. Detroit (12/5), McGriggs came up with the play of the day with a 63-yard interception return for a touchdown in the closing minutes of the game to seal a 13-0 victory.■

McGriggs got his first chance to play on a regular basis when Todd Scott injured his ribs vs. New Orleans (11/28). Signed as a free agent by the Vikings on November 3, McGriggs started 10-of-the-first-12 games at strong safety for the New York Giants in 1992. He finished fifth in defensive tackles with 59 and tied for second with Pro Bowler Reyna Thompson in special teams tackles with 12. In his first NFL start in the season opener against San Francisco (9/6), McGriggs recorded seven tackles. He blocked a extra point attempt against Philadelphia (11/22) then four days later recorded a career-high eight stops in Dallas (11/26). In the regular-season finale at Philadelphia (12/27), McGriggs blocked a field goal attempt. Drafted in the seventh round by the Giants in 1991, McGriggs recorded 11 tackles, forced a fumble and recovered a fumble, all on special teams as a rookie. GAMES/STARTS (reg. season, playoffs): 1991 (16/0-Gia.), 1992 (16/10-Gia.), 1993 (9/4, 1/1). Total — 41/14, 1/1 (Minn.-9/4, 1/1).

■ COLLEGE: As a senior at Western Illinois, McGriggs recorded 118 tackles, three interceptions, four forced fumbles and a blocked punt to earn All-Gateway Conference honors. He also was named the Leathernecks' Defensive Player of the Year in 1990. Before transferring to Western Illinois, McGriggs was named the Big Eight Newcomer of the Year at Oklahoma State. He began his collegiate career at Ellsworth Junior College, where he earned All-America honors while leading the Panthers to the junior college national championship in 1987. ■

PERSONAL: Born in Chicago, IL., Lamar V. McGriggs earned All-America and all-state honors at Thornton Township High School in Harvey, IL. He was named all-conference in basketball in high school. Lamar and wife LaTanya have a daughter, LaMara (11/30/92).

WARREN MOON 1

QUARTERBACK · WASHINGTON · HT 6.3 · WT 212
BN 11/18/56 · TRADE (HOU.) FOR '94 · 11TH YEAR

PRO: The acquisition of Warren Moon by the Vikings on April 14 has sharp similarities to the trade the team made 22 years ago for Fran Tarkenton. Moon, who comes to a Minnesota team that has made the playoffs the past two seasons, has thrown for more yards — 54,913, including six seasons in the Canadian Football League — than any professional quarterback. He also is among the top 10 in National Football League history in passing yards (33,685) and completions (2,632). Tarkenton, who joined a Vikings squad coming off four straight playoff appearances, went on to throw for more yards (47,003) and touchdowns (342) than any player in league history. He also was the first Vikings player inducted into the Pro Football Hall of Fame. Ironically the two quarterbacks also have the same career passer rating of 80.4. Although Moon is in his 11th NFL season and his 18th year as a pro, he continued to play at a top level in 1993, when he led the Oilers to 10 straight wins to capture the AFC Central title and a playoff berth for the seventh consecutive season. In addition Moon posted three 300-yard passing games — a total matched only by John Elway and Steve Young in '93 — and tied for the NFL single-game high for the season with four touchdown passes at Cincinnati (11/14) last year. He finished third in the league in passing yards with almost 3,500 and fourth in the NFL in completions and touchdown passes, despite missing the regular-season finale due to a broken rib in '93. Also last season, Moon earned his sixth straight trip to the Pro Bowl. In addition against Buffalo (10/11), Moon had a 35-yard scamper, the longest of his career and the longest run by the Oilers in '93. Against Seattle (11/7) he completed 36 passes, the second highest (41 vs. Dallas, 11/10/91) of his career, for 369 yards, his best since Nov. 17, 1991 when he threw for 399 yards against Cleveland. Earlier in the season against the Bengals (10/24), Moon completed 24-of-34 passes (70.6%), including 11 in a row, for 253 yards and two touchdowns to earn AFC Offensive Player of

■■■ He finished third in the league in passing yards with almost 3,500 and fourth in the NFL in completions and touchdown passes, despite missing the regular-season finale due to a broken rib in '93. ■ the Week recognition. In the playoff game against Kansas City (1/16), Moon completed 32-of-43 passes for 306 yards, his third consecutive postseason game with over 300 yards passing to tie Jim Kelly for the second longest such streak in league playoff history behind Dan Fouts' four straight. Overall Moon has thrown for over 300 yards in four playoff games, which ranks third in the playoff record book behind Fouts and Joe Montana with five each. Moon's 230 career completions are fourth in NFL playoff history, and his career completion percentage of 65.5% is fifth in NFL postseason annals. Moon's name also dots the NFL's regular-season record book. He has two (4,690 in '91, 4,689 in '90) of the top six passing yardage seasons in league history. Overall he has six seasons of 3,000-or-more yards, which ties for the fifth most in league history. His 38 career 300-yard passing games are third in NFL history behind Fouts (51) and Dan Marino (44). On the league's all-time passing lists, Moon stands ninth in yards and completions, 17th in rating and tied for 18th in scoring tosses. Despite playing in a passing offense with four wide receivers for most of his career, Moon has shown tremendous durability. He's missed only 16 of the 166 games, including playoffs, that Houston has played since 1984. He's also started in 148-of-the-150 games, including playoffs, he's played over the past decade. Moon has thrown at least one touchdown pass in his past 19 games, including playoffs, two shy of his career-high streak of 21 in 1990-91. During his 10 years with Houston, Moon led the Oilers to the tying or go-ahead score in the fourth quarter in 28 games, 17 of those in the final two minutes or overtime. Houston won 21 of those games, 17 of which they trailed in the fourth quarter, nine of which they were behind in the final two minutes. Over the past three seasons, Moon led the Oilers to a 29-13 (.691) regular-season record, including a 19-5 (.792) record indoors. Against NFC Central teams besides the Vikings, Moon led the Oilers to a 4-2 mark while completing 107-of-175 passes (61.1%) for 1,631 yards, 10 touchdowns and eight interceptions for a rating of 91.9. He guided Houston to wins in their past three games vs. NFC Central teams, except Minnesota, with the last loss coming against Chicago on Oct. 12, 1986. In 1992 Moon was on a pace to throw for over 4,000 yards and 29 touchdowns before suffering a fractured upper left arm at Minnesota (11/15). He missed six starts but still led the AFC in passer rating (89.3) and touchdown percentage (5.2%) and finished second in the conference in completion percentage with a career-high 64.7%. Moon also rushed for a career-high 5.4 yards per carry. At Cincinnati (10/11) he tied an NFL season-high for '92 with five touchdown passes. The following week in Denver he passed Ron Lancaster (50,535 yards) to become the leading yardage passer in pro football history. Prior to suffering the injury against the Vikings, Moon reached 30,000 passing yards in the NFL in fewer games (125) than any other player besides Marino (115 games). Moon returned to the starting lineup in the playoff game at Buffalo (1/3) and not only set an NFL mark for completions (36) in a playoff game but posted a new Houston standard for passing yards in a playoff game with 371. In 1991 Moon set league records for completions (404) and attempts (655) in a season. He also became only the third player in league history to throw for over 4,000 yards in back-to-back seasons with 4,690 yards, the fifth most in NFL history. Against Dallas (11/10) he completed 41 passes, the second most in a game in league history to Richard Todd's 42 in 1980, for 432 yards, the most in the AFC in '91. The following week against Cleveland, he completed 31-of-44 passes for 399 yards and three touchdowns to earn AFC Offensive Player of the Week honors. In 1990 Moon led the NFL in passing yards (4,689), completions (362) and touchdown tosses (33) to earn NFL Offensive Player of the Year from AP, AFC Most Valuable Player of the Year from USA Today and AFC Offensive Player of the Year from UPI. He also was named All-Pro (Sporting News), All-AFC (UPI, Pro Football Weekly, Football News) and the NFL Alumni Quarterback of the Year in '90. His 4,689 passing yards are the sixth most in a season in league history, while his 362 completions are tied for third in the league's record book. He threw an AFC season-high five touchdown passes against both Cincinnati (10/14) and Cleveland (11/18), earning AFC Offensive Player of the Week for each game. In November Moon was named AFC Offensive Player of the Month. He also was named AFC Offensive Player of the Week after throwing for 527 yards, the second most in a game in league history, vs. Kansas City (12/16). He tied an NFL record with nine 300-yard passing games, including four straight to tie for the third longest such streak in the league. Moon accomplished this despite missing the regular-season finale and the playoff game against Cincinnati due to a dislocated right thumb. Moon was named AFC Player of the Year by Football News in 1989. He also was an All-AFC pick by UPI. In Chicago (10/15) he led Houston to two fourth quarter touchdowns, including the game-winner with 1:46 remaining to earn AFC Offensive Player of the Week honors. He also was elected to the Oilers' 30th Anniversary "Dream Team" in '89. Despite missing five games due to a fractured right arm suffered in the season opener at Indianapolis (9/4), Moon earned his first trip to the Pro Bowl, as a starter, in 1988. He also was named second-team All-AFC (UPI) and honorable mention All-Pro (AP) after leading the Oilers to 424 points, the team's best output since a team-record 513 points in 1962. In the playoff win over Cleveland (12/24), he led Houston from a 16-14 deficit entering the fourth quarter to a 24-23 win. In 1987 Moon guided the Oilers to their first winning season and playoff appearance since 1980 and their first playoff win since 1979. He led Houston to wins after trailing in the fourth quarter in three games, including back-to-back games against Atlanta (10/25), when he threw a game-winning 14-yard scoring toss to Clyde Duncan with 27 seconds left, and vs. Cincinnati (11/1), winning the game with a one-yard scoring run with 55 seconds remaining. He also engineered a 61-yard drive to the winning field goal for a 23-20 overtime victory against Seattle (1/3/88) in the first round of the playoffs. In his first three seasons with the Oilers, Moon was sacked 134 times, including an NFL record-tying 12 by Dallas in 1985. He still missed only three games (San Diego, 11/24, and Cincinnati, 12/1, due to a hip pointer in '85; San Diego, 12/7, due to a thumb injury in '86) and threw for over 3,000 yards twice (3,489 in '86; 3,338 in '84) during those three campaigns. After signing with the Oilers on March 1, Moon threw a 61-yard touchdown pass against the New York Jets (8/11) in his first NFL preseason game. He began the regular season with 130 consecutive passes without an interception and finished the year with a spot on the All-Rookie team (Pro Football Writers). Moon began his professional football career with Edmonton of the Canadian Football League in 1978, when he led the Eskimoes to the first of six consecutive Grey Cup wins. During his seven years there he led Edmonton to a 78-23-5 (.759) record. In 1983 he was named the league's Most Valuable Player after throwing for 5,689 yards, which, until 1991, stood as the most ever in a season in pro football history. Moon's efficiency rating of 108.3 in 1981 still stands as the CFL season record. GAMES/STARTS (reg. season, playoffs): 1984 (16/16-Hou.), 1985 (14/14-Hou.), 1986 (15/15-Hou.), 1987 (12/12,2/2-Hou.), 1988 (11/11,2/2-Hou.), 1989 (16/16, 1/1-Hou.), 1990 (15/15-Hou.), 1991 (16/16, 2/2-Hou.), 1992 (11/10, 1/1-Hou.), 1993 (15/14,1/1-Hou.). Total — 141/139,9/9. ■ COLLEGE: The PAC 8 Player of the Year in 1977, Moon was the Most Valuable Player in Washington's 27-20 victory over Michigan in the 1978 Rose Bowl. He completed 242-of-496 passes for 3,277 yards, 19 touchdowns and 17 interceptions during his career with the Huskies. Moon transferred to Washington after a season at West Los Angeles Junior College, where he is a member of the school's Hall of Fame. ■ PERSONAL: Harold Warren Moon earned All-America honors and was the city Most Valuable Player at Hamilton High School in Los Angeles. He was named the NFL Man of the Year in 1989 for his community endeavors, including the Crescent Moon Foundation, which was created to raise money for charities. One of the biggest fund raisers for the foundation is the annual "Warren Moon Celebrity Golf Tournament." In May, 1989 he received the National Urban Coalition Superstar Award in Washington, DC., for his work with the "Say Yes to a Youngster's Future" program. Other honors include the Houston Firefighter's Man of the Year in 1989, the South Texas March of Dimes "Headliner of the Year," being named as one of Five Outstanding Houstonians and being selected to then-President George Bush's Media Advisory Committee for the 1990 Economic Summit. In 1988 he donated $200,000 to a Houston-area church to build a community center. He also works with the United Negro College Fund, United Way, the Sickle Cell Foundation, the Urban League, Ronald McDonald House, Special Olympics, March of Dimes, Muscular Dystrophy Association, Cystic Fibrosis Foundation, American Heart Association, Juvenile Diabetes, and the Cerebral Palsy Foundation. February 21, 1988 was declared "Warren Moon Day" by then-Houston Mayor Kathy Whitmire. Moon was the only player selected to participate in the halftime show at Super Bowl XXV. A communications major at the University of Washington, Moon has a scholarship named after him at West Los Angeles Junior College. He and wife Felicia have four children — Joshua (7/17/82), Chelsea (12/16/83), Blair (8/22/84) and Jeffrey (1/7/88).

MIKE MORRIS 68

CENTER · N.E. MISSOURI STATE · HT 6.5 · WT 284
BN 2/22/61 · FA FOR '91 · 8TH YEAR

PRO: Mike Morris has been compared to baseball's great relief pitcher Dennis Eckersley by Dennis Green, "He might only be in for eight snaps a game, but he has to throw a strike every time." Strikes he did throw in 1993 as punter Harry Newsome finished fifth in the NFC in punting average (43.4) and kicker Fuad Reveiz was perfect from inside 43 yards (24 of 24). In addition to his snapping duties Morris, finished eighth on club in special teams tackles with six. He was selected to Playboy's Preseason All-Pro Team in 1993 as long snapper and was named one of the three craziest players in the NFL by Pro Football Weekly for his off-the-field antics. Behind Morris, punter Harry Newsome led the NFC in punting in 1991-1992 while suffering only one blocked punt. Morris has played in every game as the Vikings long-snapper since 1991, when he was signed by the Vikings during preseason. In addition to his long-snapping role, he also served as backup center his first season in Minnesota. Originally signed as a free agent by the Arizona Outlaws of the United State Football League in November, 1984, Morris was released in 1985 before the regular-season began. He joined the Denver Broncos in 1986 but was waived in preseason. After former Phoenix coach Gene Stallings called him during his honeymoon, Morris signed with the Cardinals and played 14 games as a deep snapper in 1987. The following season he suffered a knee injury in training camp and spent the rest of 1988 on injured reserve. In 1989 he was signed as a Plan B free agent by Washington, released in training camp, then claimed by Kansas City, where he played five games. After he was waived by the Chiefs in October, Morris signed with New England and played the final 11 games of the season with the Patriots. He returned to Kansas City as a Plan B free agent in 1990, was released in training camp, then signed by Seattle, where he played the first month of the season. Following his release by the Seahawks, he was signed by Cleveland, where he handled the deep snapping the last 10 games of the year. Morris was waived by Browns in training camp in 1991.

Total – 92/0, 2/0 (Minn. - 48/0,2/0). ■ COLLEGE: Morris was a four-year starter and letterman at North East Missouri State, where he was deep snapper on punts and place kicks. In addition, he also bolstered depth at center, guard and tight end. ■ PERSONAL: Michael Stephen Morris attended Centerville, IA., High School. He earned a degree in psychology and physical education at North East Missouri State. Morris works closely with the Easter Seals and March of Dimes programs. During the offseason he is an avid hunter of rattlesnakes. He also keeps busy adding to his black T-shirt collection that has grown to over 600. He and wife Nancy have three children, Steven (3/1/90), Chelsy (10/22/91) and McKenzie Lee (3/1/94).

BRENT NOVOSELSKY 85

TIGHT END · PENNSYLVANIA · HT 6.2 · WT 237
BN 1/8/66 · FA FOR '89 · 7TH YEAR

PRO: Novoselsky has been known for his blocking ability and special teams play since his arrival with Vikings in 1989. Novoselsky is third on the Vikings all-time list for consecutive games played by a tight end with 66 (second is Steve Craig with 72) and for games played by a tight end with 78 (second is Stu Voigt with 131). He had his consecutive games streak snapped vs. San Francisco (10/3) because of an injured shoulder. Novoselsky finished last season third on the club in special teams tackles with 19. He forced one fumble on special teams vs. Green Bay (9/26). He started the playoff game vs. the Giants (1/9/94). In 1992 Novoselsky started one game vs. Philadelphia (12/6). He averaged 15.8 yards per catch while totaling a career-high 63 receiving yards, including a career-long 34-yard reception against Green Bay (12/27) in the season finale. Novoselsky also played well on special teams, finishing second in tackles with 18 and recovering fumbles on punt coverage against Washington (10/25) and Cleveland (11/22). In 1991 he played primarily as the backup tight end and on special teams. In addition to tying for third in special teams tackles with 17, he forced a fumble vs. New England (10/20) and Tampa Bay (11/3). In 1990 Novoselsky started against Denver (11/4), when the team employed two tight ends. He was the third leading tackler on the special teams with 16 and forced a fumble on the second-half opening kick vs. Detroit (11/18). He joined Green Bay as a Plan B free agent from Chicago in 1989 but was waived on the final cut. Novoselsky was signed by the Vikings on September 13 and played the final 15 regular-season games, including three starts when the team went with two tight ends. Two of his four receptions were for touchdowns. He caught a two-yard touchdown pass against Detroit (10/8) and, as a starter in the season finale vs. Cincinnati (12/25), helped clinch a 29-21 victory with a one-yard touchdown grab in the final moments. Originally signed as a free agent by Chicago in 1988, Novoselsky missed part of his rookie season due to an ankle injury but returned to play the remainder of the season and two playoff games, including the NFC Championship Game against San Francisco. GAMES/STARTS (reg. season, playoffs): 1988 (8/0,2/0-Chi.), 1989 (15/3,1/0), 1990 (16/1), 1991 (16/0), 1992 (16/1,1/0), 1993 (15/0, 1/1). Total – 86/5, 5/0 (Minn.-78/5, 3/1). ■ COLLEGE: As a three-year starter for Pennsylvania, Novoselsky was named second-team All-Ivy League as a senior. He was a first-team all-conference pick as a junior, when he led the Quakers with 18 receptions for 337 yards. He scored three touchdowns vs. Navy in 1986. ■ PERSONAL: Brent Howard Novoselsky was born in Skokie, IL., where he attended Niles North High School. He was a two-time all-conference tight end and linebacker and an all-conference baseball player. Novoselsky graduated with a degree in economics from Pennsylvania. He works in the offseason as a stock brocker with Lehman Brothers in Chicago. In addition, he works with the Chicago-area Cystic Fibrosis chapter and the Starlight Foundation. Brent and wife Andrea have a son, Alec (8/4/93) and live in Deerfield, IL.

ANTHONY PARKER 27

CORNERBACK · ARIZONA STATE · HT 5.10 · WT 181
BN 2/11/66 · PB (IND.) FOR '92 · 5TH YEAR

PRO: Anthony Parker enters the 1994 training camp with hopes of earning a starting role at cornerback for the first time in his career. Parker was hampered with a leg injury for most of the 1993 season, keeping him out of two preseason games and the season opener at the L.A. Raiders (9/5). An ankle injury kept him out of action at Detroit (12/5). Due to his injuries he only returned punts part time in 1993, but still finished second on the team with a 7.1 yard average. Parker had his lone interception of the season in the final home game vs. Kansas City (12/26) on the second play of the game off of Joe Montana. It was one of only seven interceptions Montana threw during the 1993 season and it helped spark a 30-10 win that was key to the Vikings in their quest for the playoffs. In 1992 Parker finished fourth on the team in interceptions with three - not bad considering the Vikings' secondary sent half of its starters to the Pro Bowl that season.

■■■ Parker had his lone interception of the season in the final home game vs. Kansas City (12/26) on the second play of the game off of Joe Montana. ■

Playing as a nickel back in pass situations, Parker had a big month in November, 1992 when he intercepted his first pass with Minnesota against Tampa Bay (11/8) then returned a fumble 58 yards for his first NFL touchdown against Houston (11/15) the following week. Against Cleveland (11/22) Parker had a career-long 42-yard punt return to set up the Vikings' first score in the 17-13 comeback win over the Browns. A week later against the Rams (11/29), he intercepted two passes, one to set up a Minnesota touchdown. In 1992 Parker finished fourth in punt returns in the NFC with an 10.2 average. With the New York/New Jersey Knights in 1991, Parker led the World League in interceptions with 11, including two returned for touchdowns, to earn unanimous All-World recognition. Phoenix signed him after the World League season, but he was released during training camp. Kansas City then added Parker to its practice squad. He was activated by the Chiefs for two games in September and two in December. In 1990 he signed with the New York Jets as a Plan B free agent from Indianapolis but was waived prior to the start of the season. Originally signed as a free agent by the Colts in 1989, Parker spent the first 10 weeks of the season on injured reserve due to a hamstring injury. GAMES/STARTS (reg. season, playoffs): 1989 (1/0-Ind.), 1991 (2/0-K.C.), 1992 (16/3, 1/0), 1993 (14/0, 1/0). Total – 33/3, 2/0 (Minn.-30/3, 2/0). ■ COLLEGE: Parker was an All-PAC 10 selection at both cornerback and as a return specialist as a junior, when he led the conference in punt returns with a 22.0-yard average. He was an instrumental part of the Sun Devils' 1987 PAC-10 title and victory in the 1988 Rose Bowl. His senior year was cut short after six games due to a knee injury requiring reconstructive surgery. ■ PERSONAL: Will Anthony Parker was born in Sylacauga, AL. He attended McClintock High School in Tempe, AZ., where he was Arizona's two-time prep scoring champion as a running back and named Arizona's 1983 high school player-of-the-year. He graduated from ASU with a degree in physical education. Parker and wife Beth have two sons, Collin (5/6/89) and Cedric (10/26/92).

DAVID POOL 47

CORNERBACK · CARSON-NEWMAN · HT 5.9 · WT 182
BN 12/20/66 · UFA (DEN.) '94 · 5TH YEAR

PRO: With the departure of veteran defensive backs Audray McMillian and Carl Lee, the Vikings hope David Pool will man one of the cornerback spots. Pool has started 18 games during his first four seasons in the National Football League. Pool was released by New England prior to the start of last season and then was signed by Denver on Dec. 12, 1993 and played in two games vs. the New York Giants (10/3) and Houston (10/11), before being released before the N.Y. Jets game (10/24). Pool started 14 games at left cornerback in 1992, when he returned an interception 41 yards for a touchdown against Indianapolis (11/15) and another pick-off the next week vs. the N.Y. Jets (11/22). Pool had a season-high six tackles in both games against the Colts (11/15, and 12/6) and forced Dalton Hilliard to fumble vs. New Orleans (11/8). Pool finished second on team with 12 passes defensed in '92. After being claimed off waivers by New England in 1991, Pool played in 15 games with three starts finishing with 26 tackles (23 solos), six passes defensed and one fumble recovery. In his first start vs. Houston (9/22) Pool had a five tackles (four solos). After being released before the regular season by the Chargers after suffering a hamstring injury in preseason, Pool signed with Buffalo and spent his rookie year, including Super Bowl XXV, with the Bills. Pool played in nine games and had one start in 1990, when he notched his first NFL interception vs. New England (11/18). In his first NFL start against Houston (11/26) Pool recorded 10 tackles and one interception. Pools was originally drafted in the sixth round by San Diego in 1990. GAMES/STARTS (reg. season, playoffs): 1990 (9/1, 3/0 - Buff.), 1991 (15/3 - N.E.), 1992 (16/14 - N.E.), 1993 (2/0 - Den.). Total - 42/18, 3/0. ■ COLLEGE: An NAIA All-America at Carson-Newman, Pool recorded 150 tackles, nine interceptions, 32 passes defensed and a fumble recovery. Pool also played wide receiver during final two seasons, catching eight passes for 296 yards and three touchdowns, two of them in the NAIA National Championship game. He also competed in the NAIA National Track Championships and ran a 10.37 in the 100 meters. ■ PERSONAL: As a senior at Cape, OH., High School in

JOHN RANDLE 93

DEFENSIVE TACKLE · TEXAS A & I · HT 6.1 · WT 275
BN 12/12/67 · FA FOR '90 · 5TH YEAR

PRO: In 1993 John Randle finally removed the "underrated player" label from his resume. Randle was finally recognized by his peers as he was not only selected to start in the Pro Bowl but also selected first team All-Pro by the Associated Press. Pro Football Weekly/Pro Football Writers of America, Football Digest, United Press International (NFC), and Football News (NFC) also selected Randle to their 1993 All-Pro teams. He tied for third in the NFC and seventh in the NFL in sacks with 12.5, which also led all interior linemen in the league. Randle is only the second interior linemen (Bill Pickel of the the L.A. Raiders in 1984 and 1985 is the other) with back-to-back season of 11.5-or-more-sacks since the NFL began keeping sack totals in 1982. Randle recorded three sacks in a single game on two occasions in 1993; vs. Chicago (10/25) and vs. Detroit (12/5). For his performance in the Chicago (10/25) game he was named NFC Defensive Player of the Week for the first time in his career. John Randle has proven himself to be a durable member of the Vikings' defensive line, having never missed a game in his career. He has a current streak of 64 consecutive games played, which ranks seventh (sixth is Jim Prestel with 69) on Minnesota's all-time list for defensive tackles. Randle enters the 1994 season ninth in the Vikings record book for sacks with 34 (eighth is Gary Larson with 37). In 1992 Randle finished first in the NFC and third in the NFL, behind Seattle's Cortez Kennedy and Houston's Ray Childress, in sacks by interior linemen. His 11.5 sacks ranked him eighth overall in the NFC. He had 2.5 sacks vs. Chicago (11/2) for his best game of the year. Randle didn't start vs. Green Bay (9/6) and Cleveland (11/22) because of a chest injury. In 1991, Randle finished 10th in the NFC with 9.5 sacks despite starting only eight games. He led the team in sacks, made 56 tackles and forced two fumbles. Randle made his first NFL start vs. Detroit (10/6), recording seven tackles. He started the next four games before breaking his thumb vs. Tampa Bay (11/3). Randle's first NFL sack and forced fumble came against Philadelphia (10/15) in 1990. GAMES/STARTS (reg. season, playoffs): 1990 (16/0), 1991 (16/8), 1992 (16/14,1/1), 1993 (16/16, 1/1). Total – 64/38, 2/2. ■ COLLEGE: Randle lettered twice at Texas A&I after transferring from Trinity Valley Community College in Athens, TX. He earned all-conference and little All-America honors as a senior. ■ PERSONAL: An all-district and all-state offensive and defensive lineman at Hearne, TX., High School, John Randle also participated in track in high school and was a sociology major in college. His older brother, Ervin, a linebacker, was Tampa Bay's fifth-round draft pick in 1985 and played in the NFL until 1992. He and wife Rosie have two children, Brittnay (10/10/89) and Julias (11/28/84).

■■■ He tied for third in the NFC and seventh in the NFL in sacks with 12.5, which also led all interior linemen in the league. ■

WIDE RECEIVER · GRAMBLING · HT 6.3 · WT 212
BN 9/28/67 · D3B FOR '91 · 4TH YEAR

PRO: At 6-3, 212 pounds, Jake Reed certainly has the physical tools to become one of the NFL's big playmakers. Reed was slowed in 1993 when he fracturing his left fibula in the preseason game vs. Buffalo (8/7) in Berlin, Germany. The injury kept him out of action the remaining three preseason games and the first five games of the regular season. Reed returned to action at Chicago (10/25) and caught two balls for 23 yards. He finished the 1993 season with five catches for 65 yards and also finished fourth on the club in special teams tackles with 12 despite playing in only 10 games. After coming back from his injury, Reed only missed one game when he was inactive vs. Green Bay (12/19). Reed made his first NFL start vs. New Orleans (11/28). In 1992 his six catches for 142 yards gave him a 23.7-yard average, the highest among NFL players with six receptions or more. In 1992, Reed paid his dues on special teams, leading that squad in tackles with 21 total (14 solo). He had two receptions each in games vs. Cincinnati (9/27), Pittsburgh (12/20) and Green Bay (12/27). Reed was not active the first seven games of 1991 and did not play the eighth week vs. New England despite being activated. His first down in the NFL came against Phoenix (10/27). He was put on the injured reserve list November 2 with an ankle injury and remained there the rest of the season. Reed was the 10th wide receiver and the 68th player selected in the 1991 college draft. He is the lone player left in Minnesota from the Herschel Walker trade. GAMES/STARTS (reg. season, playoffs): 1991 (1/0), 1992 (16/0, 1/0), 1993 (10/1, 1/0). Total – 27/0, 2/0. ■ COLLEGE: As a senior at Grambling in 1990, Reed was named to the All-Southwestern Athletic Conference first-team after scoring 84 points. He rushed for 303 yards and four TDs on 44 carries and caught 48 passes for 954 yards and 10 scores. His 10 TDs receiving were three shy of the school record. He was a second-team All-SWAC choice as a junior in 1989 when he averaged 6.5 yards per carry (550 yards on 85 carries) and scored five touchdowns. Reed played in the

KICKER · TENNESSEE · HT 5.11 · WT 223
BN 2/24/63 · FA FOR '90 · 10TH YEAR

PRO: Fuad Reveiz has a different perspective on football than most of his peers in the NFL. Not only is he a native of Bogota, Columbia, he also has looked at the game through the eyes of a commentator. Reveiz did the color for the past five Super Bowl games on broadcasts to Columbia, as well as for Univision, a Spanish-language television network based in Miami. Although he looks at television for his future, in the present he concentrates on his kicking career with the Vikings. Reveiz is fifth (third among kickers) on the Vikings all-time scoring list with 344 points, holds the team career record for 50-yard field goals (6), stands second in field goals made (73), third in career field goal percentage (76.0), and fourth all-time in extra points made (125). He had connected on 76 straight extra points attempts before missing at Chicago (10/25). Reveiz finished the 1993 season with 105 points, his high with the Vikings and the second highest total in his nine-year career. He set career single-game highs for field goals made (5), field goal attempts (6) and points (15) vs. Green Bay (9/26). The final field goal came with four seconds left to culminate a last minute drive to win the game 15-13. For his performance vs. Green Bay (9/26) he received Pro Football Weekly's Golden Toe Award, which is given to the top kicker or punter of the week. He suffered an ankle in injury in the preseason vs. Buffalo (8/7) in Berlin, Germany that hampered him for most of the season, but was still able to record career highs for field goals made (26) and field goal attempts (35) in a season. Reveiz set a team record for the longest field goal in playoff game with a 52-yarder vs. the N.Y. Giants (1/9). Reveiz is extremely accurate from inside the 40 yard line, entering the 1994 season having hit 30 straight from inside that marker. Fifth in the NFC in points by kickers with 102 in 1992, Reveiz connected on 19-of-25 field goals and all 45 extra point attempts. He ranked fifth in the NFL with a 37.8-yard average per field goal attempt and third in the league with a 37.6-yard average per field goal made. In addition Reveiz set a team record for most touchbacks in a season with 26, breaking his own record by five (21 in 1991), and made three of four field goal attempts from beyond 50 yards. He kicked the game-winning field goal in overtime in the season opener vs. Green Bay (9/6), and on the last play of the game vs. Pittsburgh (12/20) to give the Vikings the NFC Central Division title. In 1991 he set a team record with five 50-yard field goal attempts and led the team in scoring with 85 points, connecting on 17-of-24 field goal attempts and 34-of-35 extra point attempts. Reveiz's best game of the year was vs. Tampa Bay (12/8), when he scored 14 points on four field goals (50,40,32 and 50 yards) and two extra points. He connected on 19 straight field goals from 1990-91 to set a team record. Reveiz spent the first four games of the 1990 season with San Diego before being released and signing with the Vikings. He saw action in Minnesota's final eight games, finishing third on the team in scoring with 52 points and setting a single-season accuracy record (91.7%), making 11-of-12 field goal attempts. Reveiz spent the first seven games of 1989 on Miami's injured reserve roster before being released in October. He scored 55 points in 1988 despite missing five games with a thigh injury and in 1987 led the Dolphins in scoring and connected on nine-of-11 field goal attempts. In 1986 Reveiz led the league with 52 extra points and led the Dolphins in scoring with 94 points. As a rookie, Reveiz fell one point shy of Miami's all-time season scoring record with 116 points after making 22-of-27 field goals and 50 extra points. A seventh-round pick by the Dolphins in 1985, Reveiz was the team's Rookie of the Year and also earned first-team All-Pro honors from College and Pro Football Newsweekly. Total - 114, 4 (56,2-Minn.).. ■ COLLEGE: A three-time All-Southeastern Conference selection and the SEC's sophomore-of-the-year in 1982, Reveiz made 71-of-95 field goal attempts, good for second in SEC history, and 100-of-103 extra point attempts during his four-year career at Tennessee. He ended his collegiate career with the NCAA record for percentage of field goals made over 40 yards and set school records for most points scored, field goals made, field goals attempted, field goal percentage and extra point percentage. ■ PERSONAL: A native of Bogota, Columbia, Fuad Reveiz lettered in football, soccer and wrestling at Sunset High School in Miami, FL. He was a second-team all-state placekicker as a senior after kicking a 60-yard field goal that was the longest in Florida high school history, and as a linebacker, he led the team in tackles as a junior and senior. Reveiz, whose brothers Luis and Carlos also kicked at Tennessee, enjoys music, history and photography, He majored in cultural studies in college. He and wife Gayle have three children, Nicholas (3/29/88), Shane (4/17/89) and Bryanna (11/27/90).

BN 2/20/62 · PB (JETS) FOR '90 · 11TH YEAR

PRO: After backing up at center, both guard positions, and deep snapper from 1990-92, Adam Schreiber was finally able to move into the starting lineup for the 1993 season. Schreiber started all 16 games at center and helped establish a team record by not allowing a sack in three consecutive games (12/19-12/31). It was the first time in his 10-year career in which he started all 16 games of the season. In 1992 Schreiber played in all 16 games and started his first game at right guard with Minnesota in the season opener vs. Green Bay (9/6). He also saw time in short yardage situations, when he played guard in place of Randall McDaniel, who moved to the backfield. In 1991 Schreiber saw action in 15 games, primarily on special teams. The only game he missed was vs. Detroit (11/24) due to a lower leg injury. Schreiber signed with the Vikings as a Plan B free agent before the 1990 season and played in all 16 games that season, primarily as a long snapper for punts. He also was used as a guard in short yardage situations and on special teams. In 1989 he played 15 games for the Jets as a backup at all offensive line positions. After being acquired by the Jets on waivers from Philadelphia in October, 1988, Schreiber served as New York's long snapper for the final seven games of the season. At left guard in 1987 Schreiber was one of four Philadelphia linemen to start all 12 non-strike games. He signed as a free agent with the Eagles in October, 1986 and saw action in the final nine games that season. Originally a ninth-round draft choice of the Seattle Seahawks in 1984, he was released during camp that year, re-signed in October and played in six games. In 1985 he played in one game with New Orleans after signing with the Saints as a free agent in November. GAMES/STARTS (reg. season, playoffs): 1984 (6/0,2/0-Sea.), 1985 (1/0-N.O.), 1986 (9/0-Phil.), 1987 (12/12-Phil.), 1988 (6/0-Phil.), 1989 (15/0-Jets.), 1990 (16/0), 1991 (15/0), 1992 (16/1,1/0), 1993 (16/16, 1/1). Total – 112/29, 4/1 (Minn.-63/17, 2/1). ■ COLLEGE: Schreiber was a four-year letterman and two-year starter at Texas. He moved into the starting guard position as a junior in 1983 and also played tackle and center at times for the Longhorns. ■ PERSONAL: Adam Blayne Schreiber earned all-state and honorable mention All-America honors as an offensive lineman at S.R. Butler Senior High School in Galveston, TX. Along with devoting time to the Easter Seals, National Paralysis Foundation, Special Olympics, Austin's Youth Advocacy Program and United Negro College Fund, he owns his own business, Cartoon Maps of Texas. Schreiber, who majored in communications at Texas, also has his pilot's license. He and wife Dalene have a son, Zachary (6/3/86).

BN 1/23/68 · D6 FOR '91 · 4TH YEAR

PRO: Todd Scott is looking to regain his form of 1992 that sent him to the beaches of Hawaii for the Pro Bowl. Scott started the first 11 games of 1993 before suffering bruised ribs vs. New Orleans (11/28). After the injury he played in only two of the remaining five games (vs. Green Bay 12/19 and vs. Washington 12/31) and saw limited time at strong safety and on special teams. Despite only starting 12 games, Scott still finished ninth on the club in tackles with 61, including a season high 11 in the opener vs. the L.A. Raiders (9/5). His two interceptions in 1993 came vs. Green Bay 9/26 and Tampa Bay 10/10. His big-play ability in 1992 enabled him to finish second on the team and tie for fifth in the NFC with five interceptions. He also placed third on the club with 73 tackles. It didn't take long for the league to notice as Scott was named to the Pro Bowl and the All-Madden team in a year he was switched from cornerback to strong safety. His three interceptions against Cincinnati (9/27) tied a single-game team record and an NFC single-game high for 1992. The following week he helped ignite a big Vikings comeback with an interception return for a touchdown, the first of his NFL career, vs. Chicago (10/14) in a game in which the Vikings erased a 0-20 fourth-quarter deficit to win 21-20. Scott's other regular-season interception came against Washington (10/25). He also picked off a pass against the Redskins in the playoff game (1/2). Scott recorded his first career sack vs. Cleveland (11/22). Scott played in 16 games, with a start against Detroit (11/24), as a rookie in 1991. His duties were limited mostly to "dime" packages in a six-back defense and to special teams. He also blocked a key field goal attempt in the fourth quarter vs. San Francisco (9/15). Selected in the sixth round, Scott was the 163rd player chosen overall in the 1991 draft. GAMES/STARTS (reg. season, playoffs): 1991 (16/1), 1992 (16/16, 1/1), 1993 (13/12, 1/0). Total – 45/29, 2/1. ■ COLLEGE: Scott was a four-year starter for Southwestern Louisiana. As a senior, he registered 64 tackles (50 solo), four tackles for losses and recovered four fumbles on his way to being elected to the 1990 All-Louisiana team. In addition he also played in the Blue-Gray Game. Scott picked off three passes as a junior in 1989 and also returned 25 punts for a 7.9 yard average and one touchdown. ■ PERSONAL: Todd Carlton Scott attended Ball High School in Galveston, TX., where he was an All-America free safety and quarterback. He earned two letters in football and basketball, and one in track.

ASHLEY SHEPPARD 59

LINEBACKER · CLEMSON · HT 6.3 · WT 243
BN 1/21/69 · D4 FOR '93 · 2ND YEAR

PRO: Ashley Sheppard hopes to follow in the footsteps of former college teammates and current Vikings teammates Terry Allen and Ed McDaniel in returning to action after suffering an injury. Sheppard hopes to bounce back in 1994 after a sprained left ankle sidelined him for the last six games of 1993, eventually placing him on injured reserve (12/22). Sheppard played in the first 10 games of the regular season, primarily on special teams. His six tackles on special teams tied him for eighth on the club. In addition he saw action at linebacker throughout the season in short yardage and goalline situations. Sheppard recorded his only tackle at linebacker vs. Green Bay (9/26). The following week vs. San Francisco (10/3) he recorded his first career sack, getting a hold of the NFC's leading passer, Steve Young. When he left the lineup he was one of only three rookies to have played in the first 10 games of the season (along with David Garnett and Everett Lindsay). Sheppard was selected by the Vikings in the fifth round of the 1993 draft. GAMES/STARTS (reg. season, playoffs): 1993 (10/0, 0/0). ■ COLLEGE: Sheppard's 8.5 sacks in 1992 were just one shy of the single-season record held by William and Michael Dean Perry and Jim Stuckey, all three who went on to become All-Pros in the National Football League. Sheppard's 15.5 career sacks rank eighth on the Tigers' all-time list. He was an All-America honorable mention and a Football News All-ACC selection in 1992, when the Tigers captured the ACC title and trounced Illinois 30-0 in the Hall of Fame Bowl. Sheppard was part of a relentless Tigers defense in 1991 that ranked fourth in the nation (first against the rush) and allowed just 53.4 rushing yards per game, making it the second best rushing defense in college football over the past 20 years. He lived up to his Sporting News ranking of number one special teams player in the nation when he recorded 12 stops on that unit, eventually finishing his career with 43, a Clemson record. Although he did not start a game in 1990, he played in every contest. In a game against Wake Forest, Sheppard recorded eight tackles, a pass defensed and two sacks and was named ACC Player-of-the-Week. In 1989, the Sporting News named him to the freshman honor roll, recognizing him as one of the best first-year linebackers in the nation. ■ PERSONAL: He started four years at tight end and three at linebacker at North Pitt, N.C., High School. A USA Today All-America honorable mention and a Super Prep Magazine All-Mid Atlantic selection in 1987, he tallied 188 tackles, 18 sacks, nine touchdowns at tight end, as well as 50 tackles in three playoff games. Sheppard attended Fork Union Military Academy in 1988. Sheppard was voted Lifter-of-the-Year by his Clemson teammates in 1991. He majored in Management at Clemson.

■■■ The following week vs. San Francisco (10/3) he recorded his first career sack, getting a hold of the NFC's leading passer, Steve Young. ■

ROBERT SMITH 26

RUNNING BACK · OHIO STATE · HT 6.0 · WT 195
BN 3/4/72 · D1 FOR '93 · 2ND YEAR

PRO: Despite missing games because of the chicken pox, an inner ear infection and finally a season-ending knee injury, unbelievably there was some good that came for Robert Smith from the 1993 season. Playing in only 10 games and running the ball in seven games, Smith managed to finish third on the club in rushing with 399 yards on 82 attempts. His 4.9 average yards per rush topped the club. In addition, he finished fourth in the receiving department with 24 catches for 111 yards (4.6 avg.). In the four games in which he played the entire game at running back (vs. Tampa Bay 10/10, vs. Chicago 10/25, vs. Detroit 10/31 and vs. New Orleans 11/28) he rushed for 353 yards on 69 attempts (5.1 avg.). Projected over a full 16 game season, Smith would have finished with 1,412 yards on the ground at that pace. He saw his first significant action at running back vs. Tampa Bay (10/10), leading the club with 64 yards on eight runs (8.0 avg.). The following game vs. Chicago (10/25) he scored the first touchdown of his career on a 26-yard dash. Smith's top effort of the year came one week later vs. Detroit (10/31) when he rushed for 115 yards and one touchdown on 23 carries (5.0 avg.) to become the first Vikings rookie to rush for over 100 yards since Alfred Anderson vs. Detroit in 1984. Just when things were going well, Smith came down with the chicken pox and spent two days in the hospital prior to game vs. San Diego (11/7), limiting his play significantly. The following two weeks vs. Denver (11/14) and vs. Tampa Bay (11/21) he sat out due to an inner ear infection. Smith returned the next week and made his first career start vs. New Orleans (11/28) finishing just six yards shy of the century mark. Smith's season came to an end a week later when he tore his right anterior cruciate ligament vs. Detroit (12/5) in the first quarter. Although Smith only led the club in rushing attempts twice in 1993, he led the Vikings in rushing yards four times: vs. Tampa Bay (10/10) with 64 yards on eight carries, vs. Chicago (10/25) with 80 yards on 14 carries, vs. Detroit (10/31) with 115 yards on 23 carries, and vs. New Orleans (11/28) with 94 yards on 24 carries. The 21st overall choice in the 1993 draft, Smith was the third running back selected after Garrison Hearst went to Phoenix on the third pick and Jerome Bettis was taken by the Rams with the 10th choice. Smith was picked with the highest choice used on an Ohio State running back since Keith Byars was taken with the 10th overall pick by Philadelphia in 1986. He was also the Vikings' first first-round selection since they selected Randall McDaniel in the 1988 draft. GAMES/STARTS (reg. season, playoffs): 1993 (10/2, IR). ■ COLLEGE: In the final five games, including the Citrus Bowl, of 1992, Smith averaged over 119 yards on the ground per game, scored eight touchdowns and cleared the century rushing mark four times, including a career-high 175 yards and two touchdowns, one covering 64 yards, against Indiana (11/14). Although he led Ohio State in rushing and earned second-team All-Big 10 honors in 1992, Smith was slowed by injuries early in the year. Smith, who wants to attend law school or medical school in the future, chose not to play football in 1991 in order to concentrate on academics. In 1990 Smith was named Freshman of the Year by United Press International after rushing for 1,126 yards to surpass the Ohio State freshman rushing record of 867 yards by Archie Griffin in 1972. ■ PERSONAL: Smith, who twice was named Mr. Football in Ohio at Euclid, OH., High School, earned All-America honors as a senior when he rushed for 2,300 yards and 34 touchdowns. He also started a game at quarterback in 1989. Smith finished his high school career with 5,038 yards rushing and 68 touchdowns. He captured the state 100-meter title as a junior and placed second as a senior. A two-time track All-America, Smith was part of the Buckeye's 4x400 meter relay team, which finished first at the NCAA meet, with the best time in the world in 1993. Smith majored in history at Ohio State.

DEREK TENNELL 46

TIGHT END · UCLA · HT 6.2 · WT 251
BN 2/12/64 · FA FOR '93 · 7TH YEAR

PRO: Derek Tennell has been on four different teams in his six years in the NFL, and he's seen success with all of them, making the playoffs each year he has been in the league. In games he has played, his teams posted a 49-25-1 record (.660), including 20-7 (.741) when he catches a pass. He has a Super Bowl ring from a brief stint with Dallas in 1992 and has played in nine playoff games with four different teams. Tennell finished with career highs in both receptions (15) and receiving yards (122). He rotated at tight end and with Steve Jordan and Mike Tice, starting six games and playing in all 16. Tennell had his top performance of 1993 vs. Dallas (12/12), catching a career-high five balls for 43 yards. He signed with the Vikings as a free agent in 1993. The Cowboys signed Tennell for the 1992 playoffs after Alfredo Roberts suffered a season-ending knee injury in the 1992 regular-season finale against Chicago (12/27). On his first play with Dallas, he had a 1-yard touchdown catch against Philadelphia (1/10), his first since a 4-yard touchdown reception for Cleveland at Tampa Bay on Nov. 5, 1989. Tennell spent four games in 1992 with the Vikings, who signed him as a free agent in September. He started against Detroit (10/15) and Washington (10/25), catching two passes for 12 yards against the Lions, before he was released November 3. Signed as a free agent by Detroit in September, 1991, Tennell played in 15 games, including playoff games against Dallas and Washington, and started vs. Minnesota (10/6) and Dallas (10/27) before being released in the 1992 preseason. Drafted by Seattle in the seventh round in 1987, Tennell was released by the Seahawks prior to the start of the regular season. He signed with Cleveland after the second regular-season game and helped the Browns win the AFC Central and advance to the conference championship game. At New England (10/4) in his first game, he caught three passes for 39 receiving yards. As a rookie, Tennell also caught three scoring passes, including the Browns' first touchdown in the division-clinching win at Pittsburgh in the season closer. In

■ ■ ■ He has a Super Bowl ring from a brief stint with Dallas in 1992 and has played in nine playoff games with four different teams. ■

1988 Tennell again was part of the Browns' drive to a postseason berth. He caught a career-long 26-yard strike at Pittsburgh (10/2) and tied his career-high for catches when the Steelers visited Cleveland (11/20). In 1989 Tennell played the first 14 games of the season for a Browns' team which captured the division crown and again advanced to the AFC Championship Game. However, he was released after 14 games and missed the postseason action. Tennell signed with San Francisco in March, 1990 but was waived before the season began. GAMES/STARTS: 1987 (11/2,2/1-Cle.), 1988 (16/3,1/0-Cle.), 1989 (14/3-Cle.), 1991 (15/4,2/0-Det.), 1992 (3/2-Minn., 3/0-Dal.), 1993 (16/6, 1/0). Total – 75/20, 9/1 (Minn.-19/8, 1/0). ■ COLLEGE: After playing fullback as a freshman, Tennell caught 59 passes for 577 yards as a tight end his final three seasons at UCLA. Tennell played on four straight bowl-winning teams. ■ PERSONAL: Derek Wayne Tennell earned honorable mention All-America honors as a running back at West Covina, CA., High School, where he also starred in track, setting the school record in the 440-yard dash, and basketball, averaging 19 points and 12.5 rebounds as a senior.

HENRY THOMAS 97

DEFENSIVE TACKLE · LOUISIANA ST. · HT 6.2 · WT 277
BN 1/12/65 · D3 FOR '87 · 8TH YEAR

PRO: Henry Thomas is the only player left from the 1989 defensive line that finished second on the NFL's all-time list for sacks in season with 71. The 1994 defensive line will have to rely on Thomas' leadership if this group wants to achieve similar success. He was named second team All-Pro by both the Associated Press and Football News after finishing tied for second on the club in tackles for losses with six. Despite missing the final three games of the season with a sprained ankle, Thomas tied his single-season career-high for sacks with nine (also had nine sacks in 1989). His sacks combined with John Randle's 12.5 sacks gave them a total of 21.5, tying them for the second most by a tackle combination since the NFL began keeping sack totals in 1982. Thomas is also in first place in that category, teaming with Keith Millard in 1989 for a combined 27 sacks (nine for Thomas and 18 for Millard). Thomas tied for the team lead in forced fumbles with three and seventh in tackles with 66 (60 solo). He had a consecutive games played streak of 72, the fifth longest streak by a defensive tackle in team history, end vs. Green Bay (12/19) because of the ankle injury. Thomas returned for the playoff game vs. the N.Y. Giants (1/9/94) and, although he didn't start, finished third on the club with seven tackles. Thomas recorded a team-leading 13 tackles (12 solo) vs. San Diego (11/7). The seven-year veteran enters the 1994 season seventh in the Vikings record book for career sacks (49) behind Keith Millard (53) in the sixth spot. Thomas has started all 102 regular-season games he's played in the NFL except vs. Green Bay on Nov. 17, 1991. In 1992 Thomas was selected to play in his second consecutive Pro Bowl after finishing fourth on the team in sacks with six and tied for fourth on the team in total tackles with 69 (50 solo). Named second-team All-Pro by College and Pro Football Newsweekly, he had his best outing of the year vs. Green Bay (9/6), when he recorded 10 tackles (nine solo) and one sack. In 1991, Thomas was selected to play in his first Pro Bowl — a goal he had held since early in his career — after finishing second on the team in sacks (8), tied for fourth in solo tackles (61) and sixth in total tackles (100). Thomas didn't start against the Packers (11/17) due to a separated shoulder. His best game of the year came vs. New England (10/20), when he recorded 14 tackles (nine solo) and three sacks. Thomas was named to the Football News All-NFC team in 1990 after finishing second on the team in sacks (8.5), fourth in total tackles (109) and fifth in solo tackles (64). The 109 tackles is a personal high for Thomas, despite his being moved from left tackle to right tackle to fill in for the injured Keith Millard for the final 11 games of the season. He led the team in solo tackles vs. New Orleans (9/16) with 11 and vs. Green Bay (12/2) with six. Thomas also made nine-or-more tackles in five games and had a season-high 11 tackles vs. the Saints and vs. Tampa Bay (9/30). Despite missing the Buccaneers (10/1) and Detroit games (10/8) in 1989 due to a knee injury, Thomas again proved to be a team leader, finishing second on the squad in fumble recoveries (3), third in forced fumbles (3), tied for fourth in sacks (4) and tied for fifth in tackles (94). Against Pittsburgh (9/24), Thomas had an eight-yard sack and a 27-yard fumble return for a touchdown — the second of his career — before suffering a knee injury. He had five tackles, two sacks, one forced fumble and one fumble recovery vs. Cincinnati (12/25). In 1988 Thomas finished third in sacks (6) and fifth in total tackles (80). He missed the season finale vs. Chicago (12/19) with injured ribs but still earned All-Pro honorable mention recognition from the Associated Press. His first NFL touchdown came vs. Dallas (11/13), when he returned a fumble by quarterback Kevin Sweeney two yards. Against Green Bay (10/16) he had his second career interception, which tied a Vikings career record for defensive linemen. In addition he recorded Minnesota's only sack and forced fumble of the 1988 playoffs, vs. San Francisco (1/9). A third-round draft pick of the Vikings in 1987, Thomas made an immediate impact, leading the Vikings defensive line and finishing fourth overall on the team with 81 tackles. Named to the UPI and Football Digest all-rookie teams, Thomas intercepted his first career pass vs. the Raiders (11/8), recovered a fumble against the Lions (12/20) and had a sack in the playoff victory over San Francisco (1/9). GAMES/STARTS (reg. season, playoffs): 1987 (12/12,3/3), 1988 (15/15,2/1), 1989 (14/14,1/1), 1990 (16/16), 1991 (16/15), 1992 (16/16,1/1), 1993 (13/13, 1/0). Total – 102/101, 8/6.

■■■ Despite missing the final three games of the season with a sprained ankle, Thomas tied his single-season career-high for sacks with nine (also had nine sacks in 1989). ■

■ COLLEGE: Playing defensive end and tackle for Louisiana State, Thomas earned first-team All-Southeastern Conference honors and All-America honorable mention notice from Associated Press in 1986. A four-year letterman and three-year starter, he finished second on the team with 83 tackles, in addition to three sacks, one forced fumble and one recovered fumble as a senior. He was named MVP in the 1987 Sugar Bowl. As a junior, he blocked two field goal attempts vs. Notre Dame. ■ PERSONAL: Henry Lee Thomas, Jr., was a two-time all-city and all-district defensive tackle and tight end at Eisenhower High School in Houston, TX. He also threw the discus and shotput. Thomas, who enjoys boating, fishing and dancing in his spare time, worked with the American Heart Association and the Diabetes Association during the offseason. He has a daughter, Natasha (4/30/87).

JOHN THORNTON 94

DEFENSIVE TACKLE · CINCINNATI · HT 6.3 · WT 303
BN 6/28/69 · FA FOR '94 · 2ND YEAR

PRO: John Thornton hopes to crackdown on quarterbacks in the same fashion he cracks down on crime in his off-season job in Flint, MI. as a housing authority agent. Thornton returned to the Vikings April 12 when he was re-signed to add depth to the defensive line. Minnesota signed Thornton the first time on Dec. 22, 1993 to help a defensive line weakened by an ankle injury to Henry Thomas. Thornton was inactive for the only two games he was with the Vikings vs. Kansas City (12/26) and vs. Washington (12/31). He was released prior to the playoff vs. the N.Y. Giants (1/9/94) to make room for an additional kicker due to an injury to Fuad Reveiz. Thornton went to training camp with Cleveland in 1993 but was released before the start of the regular season. He spent 1992 on injured reserve after breaking a leg in the Browns' preseason finale. Thornton was on Cleveland's practice squad for the first 11 weeks of his rookie season of 1991. He was activated by the Browns on Nov. 22, 1991 and played in Cleveland's final five games of the season. Against Indianapolis (12/1) in his first game as a pro, Thornton recorded his first NFL sack. Originally signed as a free agent by New Orleans in May, 1991, Thornton was released by the Saints on Aug. 19, 1991 then signed by Cleveland two days later. The Browns placed him on their practice squad on Aug. 28, 1991. GAMES/STARTS (reg. season, playoffs): 1991 (5/0-Cle.). ■ COLLEGE: A three-year letterman at Cincinnati, Thornton started at defensive tackle as a senior after playing defensive end the previous two seasons. He finished his collegiate career with 57 tackles, including 32 solo tackles, three tackles for a loss and a fumble recovery. ■ PERSONAL: John Earvin Thornton earned all-conference honors at Beecher High School in Flint, MI. He also was ranked as one of the top 25 players in the state as a senior. Thornton excelled in the shot put, capturing the state title his senior year and finishing second as a junior. His brother Eric plays basketball at Dyersburg, TN., Junior College. Thornton, who has five fish tanks in his house, majored in criminal justice at Cincinnati.

■ ■ ■ Against Indianapolis (12/1) in his first game as a pro, Thornton recorded his first NFL sack. ■

QUARTERBACK · MIAMI · HT 6.2 · WT 215
BN 8/10/70 · D7 FOR '93 · 2ND YEAR

PRO: Gino Torretta wants to prove he isn't in the NFL just because he won a Heisman Trophy. The Vikings' coaches think alike and feel Torretta is making fine progress towards becoming a starter in the NFL. He was de-activated for every game in 1993 until Jim McMahon went down with a shoulder injury vs. Detroit (10/31). The following week he was named the backup vs. San Diego (11/7) and remained in that role for the next two weeks. Torretta was the inactive third quarterback for the following four weeks (11/28-12/19) and for the regular season finale vs. Washington (12/31). He took his first regular-season snap vs. Kansas City (12/26) late in the fourth quarter, but did not attempt a pass. Torretta was originally drafted by the Vikings in the seventh round (192nd overall pick) in 1993. GAMES/STARTS (reg. season, playoffs): 1993 (1/0, 0/0) ■ COLLEGE: The 1992 Heisman Trophy winner set 11 school passing marks at the University of Miami, a quarterback factory which has turned out NFL stars Jim Kelly, Bernie Kosar and Vinny Testaverde as well as Craig Erickson and Steve Walsh. Torretta compiled a 26-2 record as a starter for Miami, the most wins ever by a Hurricanes quarterback, while ranking second in school winning percentage (.928), setting a record for passing yards (7,690) and tossing 47 touchdowns, one shy of the school mark of 48 held by Testaverde and Walsh. He also set records for total offense with 7,722 yards, single-game passing yards with 485 and single-game total offense with 474 yards vs. San Diego State in 1991 and longest pass play, a 99-yard strike to Horace Copeland, vs. Arkansas in 1991. A unanimous All-America first team selection and Big East Offensive Player of the Year in 1992, Torretta also received the Maxwell Award, Davey O'Brien Award (given to the top passer in the nation), Johnny Unitas Golden Arm Award and Walter Camp Player of the Year Trophy. He completed 228-of-402 passes (56.7 %) for 3,060 yards and 19 touchdowns and ranked fifth in the nation, with an average of 276 yards per game. In 1991 Torretta received All-America honorable mention recognition and was named Big East Offensive Player of the Year after passing for 3,095 yards on 205-of-371 attempts with 20 touchdowns and eight interceptions. In the Orange Bowl, which decided the national championship, Torretta led the 'Canes to a 22-0 victory over Nebraska, connecting on 19-of-41 passes for 257 yards and a touchdown. ■ PERSONAL: An All-East Bay, All-Northern California, All-Conference and Academic All-State selection at Pinole Valley, CA., High School, Torretta established season and career records for completion percentage when he connected on 142-of-240 passes (59.2 %) for 1,688 yards and 19 touchdowns his senior year, adding three scores rushing and another on a reception. He also lettered in baseball and track. A business management major at Miami, the fifth-year senior graduated in 1991 and has begun working on his MBA at Miami. Torretta's brother, Geoff, was a reserve quarterback behind Testaverde at Miami from 1985-86, and also wore number 13. Geoff's twin brother, Greg, played wide receiver at Cal-Davis, and the elder brother, Gary, was quarterback at St. Mary's in California. Gino has worked with DARE and the "Join a Team, Not a Gang" campaign in Miami.

WIDE RECEIVER · MISSISSIPPI ST. · HT 6.0 · WT 186
BN 1/4/71 · WAIV (RAI) FOR '93 · 2ND YEAR

PRO: The Vikings felt they received an additional draft pick in 1993 when they were able to claim Olanda Truitt off waivers from the L.A. Raiders (8/31/93). The Vikings hope the second-year player will be a familiar face at wide receiver in 1994. He was inactive for the first three games of the season before getting his chance to play in his first NFL game vs. San Francisco (10/3), playing on special teams. Truitt was inactive for the following five games before returning the lineup vs. Tampa Bay (11/21). A week later vs. New Orleans (11/28) he caught his first NFL pass, a 13-yarder that was his season long. Truitt also had one catch each vs. Dallas (12/12), Green Bay (12/19) and Washington (12/31). He was inactive for the playoff game vs. the N.Y. Giants (1/9/94). Selected in the fifth round of the 1993 draft by the Los Angeles Raiders, Truitt was chosen with the highest choice used on a Mississippi State wide receiver since 1983, when Glen Young was taken by Philadelphia in the third round. Truitt was one of two wide receivers selected from Mississippi State in the NFL draft in 1993. Willie Harris, the Bulldogs' leading receiver last year, was taken in the seventh round by Buffalo. GAMES/STARTS (reg. season, playoffs): 1993 (8/0, 0/0). ■ COLLEGE: A starter in 23 games in three seasons, Olanda Truitt caught 86 passes for 1,533 yards (17.8 average) during his collegiate career. In 1992 the Bulldogs finished ranked 23rd in the nation and earned a trip to the Peach Bowl, where Truitt caught a touchdown pass against North Carolina. Truitt sat out 1991 after transferring from Pittsburgh, where he still stands ninth on the school's all-time receiving yardage list despite playing only two seasons for the Panthers. As a sophomore, Truitt averaged 18.3 yards per grab while making a team-high 49 catches, which at the time were the fourth most in a season in school history. A starter in five games his freshman season, Truitt wrapped up his first collegiate campaign with four catches for 124 yards (31.0 avg.), including a 59-yard reception to set up a touchdown to help Pitt to its first bowl win since Jan. 1, 1982. ■ PERSONAL: Born in Bessemer, AL., Olanda Raymond Truitt earned all-state honors at A.H. Parker High School in Birmingham, AL., where he caught 31 passes for 671 yards (21.7 avg.) and 10 touchdowns as a senior. He also earned four letters in basketball and competed in the finals of the state track meet in the long jump, high jump, 4x100-meter and 4x400-meter relays. Olanda was on the honor roll in high school. A fitness management major at Mississippi State, Truitt is a member of the Southeastern Consortium for Minorities in Engineering.

ESERA TUAOLO 98

DEFENSIVE TACKLE · OREGON ST. · HT 6.2 · WT 274
BN 7/11/68 · FA FOR '92 · 4TH YEAR

PRO: Esera Tuaolo made his presence known last season when the Vikings needed someone to step forward and help get them into the playoffs. Tuaolo filled in at nose tackle for the final three games (12/19-12/31) of 1993 in place of the injured Henry Thomas. The Vikings went on to win all three games and advance to the playoffs for the second consecutive season. Tuaolo recorded 10 tackles in the final three games, his only starts with the Vikings. In addition he started his first career playoff game vs. the N.Y. Giants (1/9), but split time with Thomas who returned from his injury. Tuaolo did not play vs. Chicago (9/12) and also missed four games (10/25-11/14) because of a broken left thumb. Minnesota signed Tuaolo as a free agent on Nov. 24, 1992, after he played the first four games with Green Bay that season. Tuaolo saw action against Philadelphia (12/6) and San Francisco (12/13). He did not play against Pittsburgh (12/20) but played in the season finale vs. Green Bay (12/27) and the playoff game vs. Washington (1/2). He started 16 games at nose tackle for Green Bay in his 1991 rookie campaign, finishing with 48 tackles (30 solo), 3.5 sacks, one interception, one forced fumble and one pass defensed en route to being named to the Football News and College and Pro Football Newsweekly

All-Rookie team. His 3.5 sacks placed him fourth in the NFL among rookie defensive linemen. He made the biggest play of his inaugural season against Tampa Bay (11/29) in the Packers' 15-13 come-from-behind victory when he sacked Bucs quarterback Vinny Testaverde for a 10-yard loss deep in his own territory on third down with 1:37 remaining. The play gave the Packers the ball back for its drive to the game-winning field goal. Green Bay drafted Tuaolo in the second round (35th overall) in 1991. GAMES/STARTS (reg. season, playoffs): 1991 (16/16-G.B.), 1992 (4/0-G.B.;5/0,1/0-Min.), 1993 (11/3, 1/1). Total – 36/19, 2/1 (Minn.-16/3, 2/1). ■ COLLEGE: A three-starter and four-year letterman at Oregon State, Tuaolo finished his collegiate career with school records for sacks (14), tackles for a loss (23) and quarterback pressures (27.5), in addition to 198 tackles, four forced fumbles, two fumble recoveries and four passes defensed. Despite missing the first three games his senior season with a sprained knee, he was a first-team All-PAC 10 selection. He also won all-conference honors as a junior and an honorable mention on The Sporting News All-America team. As a result of his 67 tackles, 4.5 sacks, 13 tackles for loss, seven pressures, one forced fumble and one pass defensed in 1989, he has awarded the Morris Trophy - given to the PAC 10's top defensive lineman based on a vote by the starting offensive linemen. ■ PERSONAL: Esera Tavai Tuaolo (ess-ER-uh tuh-VAH-ee too-AH-oh-low) was born in Honolulu, HI., and attended Don Lugo High School in Chino, CA., where he earned two letters in track, wrestling and football, as a fullback and linebacker. He earned defensive player of the year and All-Pomona Valley honors as a senior when he also took the conference wrestling crown. In full Packers uniform, Tuaolo sang the National Anthem prior to a game at Lambeau Field against Chicago on Oct., 17, 1991. He previously had sung the Anthem while in college at Oregon State home football and basketball games as well as at games of the Portland Trail Blazers. In the offseason, Tuaolo works on his family's banana farm in Hawaii.

■■■ He started 16 games at nose tackle for Green Bay in his 1991 rookie campaign, finishing with 48 tackles (30 solo), 3.5 sacks, one interception, one forced fumble and one pass defensed en route to being named to the Football News and College and Pro Football Newsweekly All-Rookie team. ■

ANDRE WARE 11

QUARTERBACK · HOUSTON · HT 6.2 · WT 205
BN 7/31/68 · UFA (DET.) FOR '94 · 5TH YEAR

PRO: When the Vikings signed Andre Ware from Detroit (5/17/94) it was like a breath of fresh air for the 1989 Heisman Trophy winner. Or as Ware said, "This is thrilling to me. My girlfriend and my mother and my family can tell there's a difference in how I feel. I am excited about coming here. It's like I'm reborn." Another reason for Ware's newly-found excitement is the opportunity to learn from new Viking quarterback Warren Moon, who Ware met as a sophomore at the University of Houston when Moon was with the Oilers. "I've always wanted to play with him," said Ware. "To actually have it happen, to me, is like a dream come true. I don't think there's a better teacher in the game." Ware has led the Lions to victory in three of his past five starts. Overall as a starter Ware has completed 58-of-112 passes (51.8%) for 859 yards with four touchdowns and four interceptions for a rating of 74.2, which included a 26-20 win over Phoenix last September 26. He began the 1993 season as a backup then replaced injured-starter Rodney Peete in the fourth quarter at New Orleans (9/19). As the starter the next week against the Cardinals, Ware completed 11-of-24 passes for 194 yards and one touchdown with a long of 47 yards. He also started the following game vs. Tampa Bay (9/26). In 1992 Ware guided the Lions, who posted a 5-11 mark for the year, to wins in two of their final three games. After replacing Peete in the second quarter in Green Bay (12/6), Ware started the following week against Cleveland (12/13) and completed 10-of-14 passes (71.4%) for 138 yards and two touchdowns while scrambling for another 68 yards to lead Detroit to a 24-14 win. He started again in the next game and threw for a career-high 290 yards, including a career-long 59-yarder, as the Lions defeated Chicago, 16-3, to post consecutive victories for the first time that season. In the season finale against San Francisco, Ware 15-of-29 for 138 yards and ran for 25 yards in four carries. Ware saw his first action in 1991 at Minnesota (11/24), rushing four times for six yards and not attempting a pass. He also played in the Lions' 41-10 loss to Washington in the NFC Championship, completing 4-of-9 passes for 15 yards. As a rookie in 1990 Ware played for the first time as a pro against Kansas City (10/14) in Detroit's sixth game of the year. His first completion was good for 33 yards to Barry Sanders as he led the Lions on a 7-play scoring drive capped by his eight-yard scoring toss to James Wilder. Ware's first pro start came a month later against the Vikings (11/11), where he hit 5-of-11 passes or 48 yards, while running for 34 yards on six carries (5.7 avg.). Ware also saw action vs. Giants (11/18) where he was 3-of-7 for 37 yards, including a 27-yard strike to Robert Clark. GAMES/STARTS (reg. season, playoffs): 1990 (4/1), 1991 (1/0, 2/0), 1992 (4/3), 1993 (2/5,1/0) Total - 14/6, 2/0. ■ COLLEGE: On his way to winning the Heisman Trophy in 1989, Ware finished his collegiate career with most Houston and Southwest Conference passing records, as well as 26 NCAA passing standards. His 4,698 yards passing in 1989 surpassed the NCAA record of 4,571 by Jim McMahon and his 46 touchdown passes were one shy of McMahon's mark. Although he played in only 27 SWC contests, he is the all-time leader in touchdowns thrown with 75. In his three seasons Ware completed 660-of-1,074 passes (63.1) for 8,202 yards, 75 TDs with only 28 interceptions. He established a SWC record for throwing for over 400 yards 10 times, while averaging 427 yards per game. Against Southern Methodist University, Ware led the Cougars to single-game NCAA records with 1,021 yards in total offense and 771 yards passing in a 95-21 win. Ware transferred from Alvin Junior College in 1986. Ware was honored by the Academy Award of Sports as the 1989 College Football Player of the Year. ■ PERSONAL: At Dickinson, TX, High School Ware lettered in football, basketball, and baseball, earning All District honors in each. Ware majored in business at Houston.

OTHER VIKINGS WITH NFL EXPERIENCE

Frank Boudreaux, a 6-5, 273-pound defensive tackle from Northwestern, Boudreaux played one game with the Los Angeles Rams in 1993 vs. Detroit (10/24) but did not play, spending the rest of the season on the pracitce squad. An All-Big Ten honorable mention honors as a senior in 1992, Boudreaux was signed as a free agent by Denver in 1993 but was released before the start of the regular season. Boudreaux (6/20/70) is a native of Honolulu, Hawaii.

Tracy Boyd re-signed with Minnesota on March 21 after sending most of the last season on the Vikings practice squad. The 6-4, 296-pound offensive lineman from Elizabeth City State in North Carolina originally was signed as a free agent by Minnesota in April, 1993. He was drafted in the sixth round by New England in 1992 but released by the Patriots in preseason. Boyd began his collegiate career as a tight end at Pearl River Junior College in Poplamike, MS., before moving to tackle at Arkansas-Pine Bluff and guard at Elizabeth City State. A native of Lake Charles, LA. (8/27/67), Boyd starred at Crowley, LA., High School.

Chris Crooms, the 6-2, 211-pound cornerback from Texas A&M, was signed by the Vikings on June 6, 1994. Crooms was traded to Green Bay for an undisclosed draft pick in 1993, before being cut at the end of training camp. Played in 16 games for the Los Angeles Rams as a rookie in 1992, primarily in nickle situations and on special teams. A two-year starter at Texas A&M, Crooms was an All-South West Conference second-team choice in 1991, when he earned Defensive Player of Game honors for two interceptions in the Cotton Bowl vs. Louisiana State. Crooms was a two-time all-state pick at Robert E. Lee High School in Baytown, TX. Chris has a daughter, Victoria (3/17/93).

Harlan Davis, the 6-0, 185-pound cornerback from Tennessee went to training camp with the Oilers last year, but was released August 19. Davis was tried at both defensive back and receiver for the Oilers, where he received and defended against Viking quarterback Warren Moon's passes in training camp. Davis is a Metairie, CA., native.

Robert Griffith, a 5-11, 200-pound cornerback from San Diego State, spent part of the 1993 season with Sacramento and Saskatchewan of the Canadian Football League. A second-team All-Western Athletic Conference choice in 1992, Griffith batted down 20 passes, recorded 16 tackles for a loss and forced 15 fumbles in his three seasons as a starter at "dimeback," a combination defensive back/linebacker, for the Aztecs. As a senior he tied for the team lead in fumble recoveries (2), finished second in tackles (97) and tied for second in forced fumbles (2). Born in Lonham, MD. (11/30/70), Robert Otis Griffith earned All-CIF honors in football and track and all-league honors in basketball at Mt. Miguel High School in San Diego.

Todd Harrison, a 6-4, 260-pound tight end from North Carolina State spend most of the 1993 season with Tampa Bay. The Buccaneers signed Harrison to their active roster on Sept. 16, 1992, and he played in his first NFL game at Detroit (9/27). Harrison was placed on Tampa Bay's practice roster on Oct. 13, 1992 then was re-activated for the final three games of the season. Drafted in the fifth round by Chicago in 1992, Harrison landed on the Bears' practice squad for the first two weeks of his rookie season. A three-year starter at N.C. State, Harrison earned honorable mention All-Atlantic Coast Conference honors as a senior. Also in '91, Harrison was named to the ACC All-Academic team. An all-state linebacker at Bucholz High School in Gainesville, FL., Harrison was a teammate of Tampa Bay receiver Lamar Thomas. Todd is married to Ceserari. Harrison majored in economics and business at North Carolina State.

Donald Jones, who spent 1993 on the New York Jets practice squad, played in the final two games of 1992 for the Jets. The 6-0, 231-pound linebacker from Washington was drafted in the ninth round by New Orleans in 1992. He was released by the Saints in preseason then signed to the Jets practice squad in September, 1992. Jones earned first-team All-PAC 10 honors his junior and senior year with the Huskies. A native of Gladys, VA. (3/26/69), Jones was a four-time all-state pick at Campbell High School.

Richard Jones, a 6-3 200-pound punter from Arizona State, went to Vikings training camp last year, Chargers in 1992 and Cardinals in 1991, but was released before the start of the regular season each year. Although Jones was reaquired by the Vikings for the playoff game vs. the Giants (1/9/94) as a kickoff specialist, but he was not active for the contest. The former Sun Devils track letterman played for the Pueblo, CO., Crusaders in the Minor League Football System the past two years. Richard Finley Jones (3/25/65) starred in football, soccer and track for Chaparral High School in Scottsdale, AZ.

J.J. Lasley, who finished ninth in the PAC 10 in receiving in 1992, went to training camp as a free agent with Green Bay in 1993. The 6-0, 220-pound fullback from Stanford caught 38 passes for 380 yards and four touchdowns, including three of over 30 yards, as a senior for the Cardinal. He caught a career single-game high nine passes for 125 yards, including a career-long 38-yard score, in Stanford's big win over Southern California in 1992. He also caught the go-ahead touchdown on a 20-yard catch in the Cardinal's upset victory over Notre Dame in South Bend in '92. Lasley rushed for 14 touchdowns and earned Academic All-America honors as a senior at Crespi High School in Encino, CA.

Tony Lenseigne, a 6-4, 235-pound tight end from Eastern Washington, went to training camp with the Vikings in 1993. After being slowed by a hamstring injury which forced him to miss two weeks of practices, Lenseigne was released. He then signed with Seattle and spent the season on the Seahawks practice squad. Lenseigne originally signed as a free agent with San Diego in 1992 but was released before the start of the regular season. He was a second-team All-Big Sky pick at Eastern Washington. A native of Yakima, WA. (8/7/69), Anthony Glen Lenseigne was an all-state defensive back at East Valley High School.

Roosevelt Nix, the 6-6, 292-pound defensive end from Central State was signed on June 6, 1994 by the Vikings. An eighth-round draft pick by Cincinnati, Nix played in 10 games registering five tackles and a pass deflection before going on injured reserve in 1993. Nix was active for six games for the Bengals in 1992 and registered a sack. Nix transferred from DuPage Junior College before playing one year at Central State. As a senior a Toledo, OH., Scott High School, Nix was an all-city selection at defensive tackle.

Williams Sims, a 6-3, 260-pound linebacker from Southwestern Louisiana, spent 1993 on the Vikings practice squad after signing with the team as a free agent last May. Sims started at both inside and outside linebacker during his collegiate career. In four seasons with the Ragin' Cajuns, Sims tallied 252 tackles, 18 tackles for a loss and six sacks. Born in Frankfurt, Germany (12/30/70), Sims was a three-time honorable mention all-state choice at Brooks County, GA., High School.

Robert Staten, a 5-11, 235-pound running back from Jackson State, signed as a free agent with the Vikings last May. After an impressive training camp, Staten spent the entire season on the Vikings practice squad. Staten, who never missed a game during his collegiate career, averaged 5.2 yards per carry while rushing for 1,068 yards during his four years as a fullback at Jackson State. He also led the way for tailback James Johnson, who led the Southwestern Athletic Conference in rushing in 1992. A native of Shubuta, MS. (11/23/69), Staten starred at Quitman High School.

Chris Walsh, who led Buffalo in catches in preseason in 1993 with 15 receptions for 206 yards, spent the past two seasons with the Bills. When Minnesota played Buffalo in Berlin in preseason last year, the 6-1, 185-pound wide receiver from Stanford scored the Bills' only touchdown of the game on a 16-yard catch. Originally drafted by Buffalo in the ninth round in 1992, Walsh began his rookie season on the practice squad, played in two games in mid season, then returned to the practice squad. He played in three games in 1993. The second-leading receiver in the PAC 10 with 66 catches in 1991, Walsh earned honorable mention All-America honors from USA Today as a senior at Ygnacio Valley High School in Concord, CA.

DEWAYNE WASHINGTON 20

CORNERBACK · N. CAROLINA ST. · HT 5.11 · WT 192
BN 12/1/72 · D1 FOR '94

The Minnesota Vikings never have selected a cornerback in the first round, until Dewayne Washington in 1994 making it the first time since Joey Browner (1983) that Minnesota took a defensive back in round one. With the 18th pick, North Carolina State's Washington was the third defensive back taken behind only Antonio Langham of Alabama, 9th, Cleveland; and Aaron Glenn of Texas A&M, 12th, New York Jets. ■ As a senior co-captain, Washington led the Wolfpack in interceptions with four in 1993. He also collected 77 tackles (55 solos), one sack, two forced fumbles, a fumble recovery and four deflected passes. Against Texas Tech in '93, Washington was a one-man show with a pass interception, a blocked punt, a career-high 13 tackles, a forced fumble and a deflected pass in a 36-34 win. He also had an interception in wins over Purdue, 20-7, and Wake Forest, 34-16. ■ Under the tutelage of All-America Wolfpack defensive backs Sebastian Savage and Mike Reid in 1991, Washington started for a defense that led the ACC in scoring defense, allowing just 15.3 points-per-game. For the season, he registered three interceptions, 66 tackles (51 solo), a blocked punt and fumble recovery. Washington played well against conference-rival Maryland with a pass interception, a blocked punt, and six tackles in a 14-10 win. Washington also had pass theft's in wins over North Carolina, 27-20 and Appalachian St., 35-10. He also scooped up a blocked punt and raced six yards for a score in a 31-7 victory over Virginia. ■ As a sophomore, Washington registered 31 tackles (24 solo) and two interceptions in nine games, sitting out the Virginia and South Carolina games with a knee injury. Washington preserved a 7-0 win over Virginia Tech with a spectacular end zone interception to halt a scoring threat. He also had an interception and five tackles in a 30-3 trouncing of Wake Forest. ■ Washington played in every game as a freshman, making nine tackles (5 solo)

TODD STEUSSIE 73

OFFENSIVE TACKLE · CALIFORNIA · HT 6.6 · WT 298
BN 12/1/70 · D1B FOR '94

Todd Steussie is the first offensive lineman chosen by the Minnesota Vikings in the first round since 1988, when they selected Randall McDaniel. Ironically both men won the Morris Trophy, given annually to the Pac-10's best offensive lineman, as seniors . If Steussie continues to follow in McDaniel's footsteps, he will become one of the best offensive lineman in the NFL. McDaniel has earned All-Pro honors for the past six seasons. ■ Steussie has been called the strongest player ever to take the field for the University of California. The 6'6" 298-pound Steussie squat-presses 610 pounds, benches 465 pounds and power-cleans 314 pounds. ■ At Cal Steussie started 47 consecutive games over four years surpassing the record of 40 previously held by Harvey Salem. In Steussie's four seasons on the line, the Bears offense averaged over 30 points per game. Steussie was named first-team Kodak All-America and second-team All-America by the Associated Press in 1993. He was named first-team All-Pac 10 in both his junior and senior years, and played in the 1994 East-West Shrine game. ■ At weakside tackle, as a senior, Steussie blocked for a Cal offense that ranked first in the Pac-10 with an average of 403.2 yards-per-game. The Bears also scored more than 40 points in six of their games. Steussie opened up holes for teammates like tailback Lindsay Chapman who rushed for over 1,037 yards, scored 17 touchdowns and led the Pac-10 in scoring with 102 points. Steussie also helped protect quarterback Dave Barr who ranked second in the NCAA in passing efficiency with a 164.5 rating. Barr threw for 21 touchdowns and over 2,619 yards while completing 68.0% of his passes. ■ One of Steussie's best individual performances in 1993 came against San Jose State when he made six knockdowns, including one that resulted in a seven-yard touchdown run by Tyrone Edwards. Against Oregon, Steussie made the key block that sprang Chapman for a 61-yard touchdown run, as the Cal offense gained 527 yards en route to a 42-41 come-from-behind victory. ■ In 1992 Steussie started every game at weakside tackle and averaged four knockdowns per game to lead a Cal offense that gained 4,282 yards, with an average of 5.2 yards per play. Steussie's protection allowed Barr to throw 19 touchdowns, 14 of those to consensus All-America Sean Dawkins, who led the Pac-10 in receiving with 65 catches. Steussie also aided running back Russell White, who rushed for 1,069 yards on 206 carries. ■ In 1991 the California offense had one of their most explosive years in modern history. They scored 406 points and gained 4,907 yards en route to an appearance in the Florida Citrus Bowl. Highlights of the season include a school-record 86 points against Pacific and a 52-point performance against USC, the most ever scored against the Trojans. Playing at right tackle, Steussie was named second-team All-Pac 10 and second-team sophomore All-America by the Football News. Against Arizona he had five knockdowns, including one resulting in a 16-yard touchdown run by Greg Zomalt, as Cal amassed 309 yards rushing in a 23-21 win. ■ Steussie began his career as a defensive tackle. After the coaching staff switched him to offensive line in the fall of 1990, Steussie earned his first career start at right guard against future top draft-pick Russell Maryland of Miami, holding him to no sacks and only two tackles. Steussie received the Bob Tessier award, given to California's most improved lineman. ■ As a redshirt in 1989, Steussie won the Most Intense Freshman award for his play on the scout team. ■ Todd Steussie earned first-team All-State honors at Aguora, CA., High School as a defensive lineman. At the University of California, he majored in Physical Education.

DAVID PALMER 22

RUNNING BACK · ALABAMA · HT 5.8 · WT 167
BN 11/19/72 · D2 FOR '94

At 5'8", David Palmer has been hit with the "too small" label all his life, but that hasn't stopped the Alabama wideout from achieving big things on the football field. The 1993 Heisman Trophy finalist is the type of player who can go the distance anytime he touches the ball. Or as Vikings Coach Dennis Green said, after Palmer was selected in the second round in 1994 through a deal that sent Chris Doleman to the Falcons, "He's Mr. Excitement. He's a game-breaker." ■ A Walter Camp, AP, UPI and Kodak All-America pick in 1993, Palmer put quite a dent into Alabama's record books in only three years at the school, where his team's were 33-4-1, including an undefeated (13-0) 1992 National Championship season. With 61 receptions for 1,000 yards last year, Palmer eclipsed David Bailey's (1969) mark of 56 catches in a season and was the first receiver in school history to reach the 1,000-yard mark in a season, breaking Dennis Homan's (1967) mark of 820 yards. Also Palmer's 217-yard receiving game against Vanderbilt last year set a new standard for the Crimson Tide, breaking Bailey's ('69) total of 187 yards. Palmer also ranks second in school history in all-purpose yardage with 3,939 yards; third in career receptions with 102; third in career receiving yards with 1,611 yards; third in punt return yardage with 889 yards; and second in kickoff return yardage with 841 yards. ■ To go along with 61 grabs for 1,000 yards in '93, Palmer caught seven touchdown passes, had 278 yards rushing on 42 attempts (6.6 avg.); 20 kickoff returns for 439 yards (22.0 avg.) and 31 punt returns for 244 yards. He also completed 15-of-30 passes for 260 yards and two touchdowns. In last year's 217-yard receiving performance at Vanderbilt, Palmer snagged eight passes including 63-yard and 14-yard touchdowns in a 17-6 triumph. Against Mississippi, Palmer accounted for 167 yards of the tide's 279 total yards offense, hauling in eight passes for 76 yards, completing a 54-yard pass, rushing for 38 yards, returning two kickoffs for 34 yards and three punts for 41 yards in a 19-14 victory. Palmer gained 129 yards receiving on

■■■ With 61 receptions for 1,000 yards last year, Palmer eclipsed David Bailey's (1969) mark of 56 catches in a season and was the first receiver in school history to reach the 1,000-yard mark in a season. ■

eight grabs, with a 12-yard touchdown, in a 40-0 blasting of Southern Mississippi. Because of injury and ineffective backup play, the do-it-all Palmer took over at quarterback against Louisiana State hitting 6-of-10 passes for 116 yards with a 22-yard scoring toss. He also rushed for 65 yards. In a 36-25 win over Mississippi State he snagged eight passes for 171 yards with a 20-yard touchdown catch. In the SEC Championship game vs. Florida, Palmer accounted for 197 all-purpose yards, with 90 yards passing on 8-of-16 tries, 93 yards rushing on 16 carries, and 50 yards on two kickoff returns. For his efforts in '93, Palmer was a first team All-Southeastern Conference pick. ■ Despite missing the first three games of 1992, Palmer led the national champion Crimson Tide with 24 receptions for 297 yards and a touchdown. He also registered 164 yards rushing on 26 tries (6.3 avg.), 236 yards and a score on 28 punt returns, and six kickoff returns for 145 yards. In his debut appearance of the season, Palmer returned a fourth-quarter punt 63 yards in a 13-0 win over Louisiana Tech. Palmer also snagged five passes for 101 yards in a 28-21 SEC Championship victory over Florida. ■ As a freshman, Palmer set season punt return records for touchdowns with (3) and yardage (409) in a season. Palmer also led the team in receptions with 17 catches for 314 yards (18.5 avg.) and three touchdowns and returned 10 kickoffs for 257 yards (25.7 avg.) in '91. He caught three passes for 51 yards, including a 27-yard touchdown, returned four punts for 106 yards, including a 56-yard score and had a 46-yard jaunt that set up another touchdown in a 48-17 thrashing of Vanderbilt. In a 62-0 romp of Tulane, Palmer scored on touchdown catches of 26 yards and six yards, and returned a punt 69 yards for another score. He earned the AT&T Long Distance Award against LSU by taking a punt 90-yards for a score in a 20-17 win. In the season finale, he returned a punt 52-yards for a score and snagged a game-winning 5-yard scoring pass in a 30-25 win over Colorado in the Blockbuster Bowl to earn the Brian Piccolo Award as the game's Most Valuable Player. ■ As a senior at Jackson-Olin, Birmingham, AL., High School, Palmer earned All-State and Metro Player of the Year honors from the Birmingham News. Palmer also was named "Mr. Football" by the Alabama Sportswriters Association after rushing for 2,001 yards and 26 touchdowns, and throwing for 1,232 yards and 16 scores. Palmer majored in Education at Alabama and has three children, David, 6; Davin, 4; and Davida, 4.

FERNANDO SMITH 95

DEFENSIVE END · JACKSON ST. UNIV.· HT 6.6 · WT 270
BN 8/2/71 · D2B FOR '94

Fernando Smith may talk and play a mean game, but his mother Debora knows the real man. "He puts on that Mr. Mean front, but it's just a cover-up. We all call him 'Shugg', short for 'Sugar'," she reports. ■ Although opponents may not see the softer side of Smith, teammates think that the way he plays is as sweet as sugar. The 6'6", 270-pound lineman used his size and 4.71 speed to dominate the Southwestern Athletic Conference in 1993. He led Jackson State with 131 tackles, 11 sacks and 14 tackles for losses totaling minus 84 yards. He also recovered two fumbles and deflected five passes. ■ In his most impressive game, Smith earned SWAC Defensive Player of the Week honors when he had 18 tackles with two sacks (for losses totaling 28 yards) and a fumble recovery vs. Grambling State. ■ Smith was a first team selection by the SWAC at the conclusion of his senior season. He also was an All-America first-team selection by Football Gazette and the Sheridan Broadcasting Network. He played in the 1994 Blue/Gray Classic. ■ In 1992 Smith also garnered All-SWAC honors as he was a part of a conference-leading Tigers defense that he led in sacks (10) and tackles per game. A knee injury allowed him to play in only eight games but in this shortened season, he made 80 tackles, including 13 for losses totaling -92 yards, and broke up two passes. He was chosen SWAC Player of the Week after his performance in a 25-24 victory over Southern University in which he registered eight tackles, including three for losses, and recovered a fumble that halted a late drive. ■ As a sophomore, Smith saw action in nine games. His best performance came against Grambling State when he registered 17 tackles, including 14 solos, a 13-yard sack, and a fumble recovery. His totals on the year include, 54 tackles, one fumble recovery and one quarterback sack. ■ Fernando Smith was an All-Conference and All-City selection at Northwestern High School in Flint, MI, the alma mater of fellow NFL players Andre Rison and Mark Ingram. His senior year he was a highly regarded blue chip prospect. ■ At Jackson State, Smith majored in Criminal Justice.

■ ■ ■ In his most impressive game, Smith earned SWAC Defensive Player of the Week honors when he had 18 tackles with two sacks (for losses totaling 28 yards) and a fumble recovery vs. Grambling State. ■

MIKE WELLS 65

DEFENSIVE LINE · IOWA · HT 6.3 · WT 287
BN 1/6/71 · D4 FOR '94

Do not let his easy-going cadence off of the field fool you. Mike Wells is a serious football player. "Mike is mean," says former coach Hayden Fry. "He loves to put a hit on people. He'll chase you up into the stands to put a hit on you!" ■ Intense is a good word to describe the play of this 6'3", 287-pound lineman who finished his career at the University of Iowa as their all-time leader in sacks (33) and tackles for a loss (54). Wells is 8th on Iowa's career tackles list with 309. Wells was named the Hawkeyes' co-MVP in both 1992 and 1993, in addition to being selected to the All-Big Ten first team. ■ Named one of three captains for 1993, Wells began his senior campaign by slimming down from the 295 pounds he played at the previous three years to 275 pounds. He was named ABC-TV Player of the Game vs. Penn State, and made 13 tackles against Michigan. However, Iowa lost their first five games. ■ Under the leadership of Wells and others, the Hawkeyes made a surprising turnaround and won five straight, needing only one more win, against the Gophers, to secure a bowl bid. Wells made five tackles, two sacks, broke up six passes, forced a fumble and returned an interception 28 yards to the one-yard line against Minnesota, to earn Iowa a bid to the Alamo bowl. ■ In 1992 Wells started 10 games. Against Indiana he had 12 tackles and three sacks to earn co-Defensive MVP of the game honors. He also had another nine tackles, three for losses, on his way to being named Defensive MVP against Minnesota. ■ In 1991 Wells was selected to the sophomore All-American squad by Football News. He saw action in all 11 games on an Iowa team that finished 10-1-1 and earned a trip to the Holiday Bowl. On a Hawkeyes defense which led the Big Ten, Wells ranked 4th on the team with 75 tackles. His best game was played against Minnesota where he had 14 tackles, four for losses, and two sacks. ■ In 1990 Wells started three games, recording 24 tackles, two sacks and five tackles for losses. All together, he garnered 48 tackles, six for a loss, and three sacks as a redshirt freshman. Wells' best game came against Northwestern, when he recorded 10 tackles (three for a loss) and one sack.

■ ■ ■ Wells was named the Hawkeyes' co-MVP in both 1992 and 1993, in addition to being selected to the All-Big Ten first team. ■

Iowa led the Big Ten in rushing defense and total defense and earned a trip to the Rose Bowl. ■ In 1989 Wells was redshirted, but was named the scout team MVP for the Wisconsin game. ■ Wells played four years of varsity football at Fox Senior High School in Arnold, MO., where he recorded 411 tackles and nine fumble recoveries during his career. He was a first-team All-America selection by both USA Today and Parade magazine. Wells also was named the Missouri Prep Athlete of the Year in 1988 as well as the St. Louis Post-Dispatch College Prospect of the Year. ■ Wells' father Rich played football at Purdue until he was sidelined by a career-ending injury. Wells graduated from Iowa with a degree in communication studies.

SHELLY HAMMONDS 23

CORNERBACK · PENN STATE · HT 5.10 · WT 187
BN 2/13/71 · D5 FOR '94

Once upon a time, Penn State defensive back Shelly Hammonds, the Viking's fifth-round selection in 1994, shredded a Boston College defense for 208 yards in a 40-21 win, making it the most prolific performance by a freshman back in Nittany Lions football history. Now Hammonds hopes to use some of that big play potential in a Viking defense that last year led the league in fewest yards allowed per game (274.3). ■ The player Penn State Coach Joe Paterno once called the greatest running back in America playing defense, Hammonds was a two-year starter in the Nittany Lions secondary. In 1993 he collected 30 tackles (23 solo), 10 deflected passes and one interception. He also led the Big Ten in kickoff returns with a 26.5-yard average. Hammonds returned a kickoff for 54 yards and an interception for 19 yards in a 31-0 drubbing of Iowa. He had four pass deflections, three solo tackles and 148 yards on four kickoff returns in a 38-20 win over Minnesota. For his efforts, he was named honorable mention All-America and second team All-Big Ten by Football News. ■ In his first full season on defense in 1992, Hammonds adjusted quickly by leading the team with 19 pass deflections. He also had two interceptions, one he returned 32 yards for a score in a 52-7 rout of Eastern Michigan. Against Miami he held present Tampa Bay Buccaneers receiver Lamar Thomas to a six-yard catch while batting down three passes and recording three solo tackles. He was named first team All-Independent and honorable mention All-America by Football News. ■ As a sophomore Hammonds started spring drills at cornerback but because of lack of depth at running back, he was moved to tailback prior to the season opener. With only a few days to learn the position, Hammonds was cast as a reserve, but his athletic skills carried him for a team-best 5.8-yard average on 63 carries for 363 yards and three touchdowns. He also caught three passes for 55 yards (18.3 yard avg.) and led the Nittany Lions special teams with 11 tackles. Coming off the 208-yard performance in 1990, Hammonds again stifled Boston College, totaling 90 yards rushing, including a 56-yard scamper in a 28-21 win. He also had 19-yard and 15-yard touchdown runs in a 24-20 win over Cincinnati and rushed for 70 yards on 12 carries and caught a 33-yard pass in a 51-6 rout of Temple. ■ As a reserve defensive back for the first three games in 1990, not even longtime coach Paterno could have predicted what this freshman would do for the injury-plagued Nittany Lions. In the fourth game against Temple, Hammonds replaced present NFL backs Gary Brown of the Oilers and Leroy Thompson of the Steelers and had a nice debut with a 13-yard touchdown run in a 48-10 win. Then came the record-breaking B.C. game, where he racked up 191 yards on 10 carries in the second half with touchdown runs of 65 and 48 yards. He also had a 58-yard end zone jaunt called back on a penalty. In the final five games, Hammonds gave the reigns back to Brown and Thompson. He finished with 266 yards rushing, including two of Penn State's five longest runs of the season. ■ A two-time All-State selection at Barnwell, SC., High School, Hammonds was the state's AA Player of the Year as a senior. In his varsity career, he ran for over 3,000 yards with 47 touchdowns and had 20 interceptions on teams that won consecutive state titles and compiled a 26-2 record. Hammonds was also an All-State baseball pick as a senior, receiving tryouts with the Boston Red Sox and Chicago White Sox. He was an elementary and kindergarten education major at Penn State.

BN 6/21/72 · D6 FOR '94

When the Viking's selected tight end Andrew Jordan in the sixth round in 1994, they received two for the price of one. At 6'4" and 268 pounds, Jordan was a punishing blocker in Western Carolina University's option attack that led the Southern Conference for the past two seasons in total offense. ■ In 1992 the Catamounts gained 415 yards and scored 30 points per game, making it the school's most lethal offense in 24 years. In this record-breaking season, Jordan's presence was a major factor in junior running back Kevin Thigpen's dash for 1,079 yards rushing. ■ Jordan also showed a fleet of foot as a receiver by snagging 21 balls for 227 yards and four touchdowns in two years at Westen Carolina. Jordan was named to the All-Southern Conference first team by conference coaches. ■ As a junior, the transfer from North Greenville Junior College in Tigersville, SC., shared tight end duties, but made big plays when called upon. Of his 12 catches in 1992, four went for touchdowns, including a four-yarder in a 38-30 win over Marshall and a 3-yard grab in a 29-27 decision over Furman. ■ During his two years at North Greenville J.C., Jordan's teams posted a 15-2 record. He caught three passes for 123 yards, good for a whopping 41.0 yard average, and two touchdowns for his career. An All-Mecklenburg County and All-Conference tight end as a senior at West Charlotte, NC., High School. Jordan caught 27 passes for 317 yards and six touchdowns in 1989. He also lettered in basketball. Jordan majored in criminal justice at Westen Carolina.

For Pete Bercich, the phrase "like father-like son" means a lot to the Notre Dame linebacker. Pete's father, Bob, played running back at Michigan State from 1957-59, before playing two seasons with the Dallas Cowboys as a safety. This influence, undoubtedly, led Pete to becoming the intense and feisty football player he is today. Or as Irish coach Lou Holt described him, "He's a student of the game, and he's a fierce competitor. He's a throwback to the old-fashioned football player." ■ As a senior, Bercich called defensive signals on a 10-1 Notre Dame squad that finished second in the nation after beating Texas A&M, 24-21, in the Cotton Bowl. Despite missing two games with a separated shoulder, he still finished second on the team in tackles with 71, including 39 solos. He also recorded two interceptions, one in the Cotton Bowl and one, which he returned 21 yards for a score against Northwestern. ■ In 1992 Bercich played in 10 games with two starts. He started the season opener for injured All-America and present Tampa Bay Buccaneer Demetrius Dubose and registered eight tackles in a 42-7 rout over Northwestern. He also earned a start against Michigan and totaled five stops in a 17-17 tie. In addition, Bercich added a fourth-quarter interception to secure a 48-0 Irish shutout and made two tackles, one for a five-yard loss, in a 28-3 win over Texas A&M in the Cotton Bowl. ■ As a sophomore, Bercich was a pleasant surprise for a defense for which he started seven contents. Despite waiting until mid-season for the starting nod and missing the USC game due to the death of his grandfather, Bercich tied for second on the team in tackles with 69, including 41 solo and five for losses. For his efforts, he gained honorable mention All-America honors from Football News and was a third-team pick on the Football News Sophomore All-America squad. He also played in the 39-28 Sugar Bowl win over Florida. As a freshman, Bercich saw action in five games, including the 1990 Orange Bowl vs. Colorado. ■ Bercich, a member of the GTE-CoSIDA District V Academic All-America team, earned a bachelor of science degree in finance with a 3.352 cumulative grade-point average. As a senior at Providence High School in New Lenox, IL., he was named by USA Today, Super Prep, Chicago Sun-Times and The Sporting News as a top 100 prospect. Bercich also was ranked fifth on the Best of the Midwest team by the Detroit Free Press. In a year in which he set a school record with 170 tackles as a junior, his team won the state title. He finished with 392 tackles, 30 sacks, nine blocked punts, 15 fumble recoveries and five interceptions for his career. He was one of five finalist for the national defensive player of the year award presented by the Touchdown Club of Columbus, Ohio.

Malik Boyd, a four-year letterman at Southern University, started at cornerback for a Jaguars defense, which placed second overall in NCAA Division I-AA in 1993. The 5-10, 175-pounder recorded 40 tackles, four passes batted down, two interceptions and a fumble recovery to help Southern hold opponents to a meager completion percentage of 41.5%, only 5.8 yards per pass play and 144.4 yards passing per game last season. In 1993 the Jaguars won their first Southwestern Athletic Conference title since 1959. Boyd is a native of Houston, TX. (11/5/70), where he starred at Smiley High School.

Phil Brown, a 5-10, 210-pound running back from the University of Texas, averaged 6.1 yards per tote while leading the Longhorns in rushing in 1993. Against Rice last year, Brown carried 14 times for 184 yards, the most by a Texas running back since 1985. As a junior he led the Longhorns in receiving and finished second on the team in rushing. Brown, who placed among the school's top two rushers in each of his four seasons at Texas, finished his collegiate career with 2,102 yards rushing and 16 touchdowns on 404 carries. Over the past two years, he caught 56 passes for 642 yards. Brown (12/30/70) earned second-team all-state honors at Commerce, TX., High School.

Edward Buck, who earned second-team All-Southwestern Athletic Conference honors the past two seasons, recorded 68 tackles, four passes defensed, three tackles for a loss, two interceptions, two fumble recoveries and a forced fumble as a senior. The 5-11, 195-pound safety from Alcorn State put in a big effort with 15 tackles, an interception and a pass batted down against Sam Houston State in 1993. He helped the Braves to the SWAC title in 1992 with 38 tackles, nine passes batted down and three interceptions. Buck is a native of Brandon, MS. (2/6/71), where he lettered in football and track at Richland High School.

Lance Gray, a 6-1, 200-pound fullback from Nebraska, was a standout special teams player for the Cornhuskers the past three seasons. In 1993 Nebraska held opponents to a meager 5.2 yards per punt return. A walk-on as an outside linebacker in 1989, Gray helped Nebraska post a 29-6-1 (.847) record and earn at least a share of three Big Eight titles since 1991. He was switched to fullback prior to his senior season. A native of Binghampton, NY. (6/14/70), Gray earned all-conference honors at Free Academy High School in Owego, NY.

Troy Riemer, a 6-5, 287-pound offensive tackle from Texas, finished his collegiate career with 22 straight starts at left tackle. Last season the Longhorns averaged 394.5 yards in offense. Against Rice in 1993, Riemer helped pave the way for Phil Brown — also a free agent signee with the Vikings — to rush for 184 yards, the most by a Texas running back since 1985. Overall the Longhorns accumulated 566 yards in total offense that day against the Owls. Riemer moved into the starting lineup in 1992, when Texas averaged 395.6 yards of offense. Riemer is a native of Austin, TX. (12/1/70), where he earned all-star honors in football, baseball and basketball at Westwood High School.

WHAT TO LOOK FOR IN 1994

The Vikings making the playoffs for the third consecutive season for the first time since 1987-89.

The Vikings extending their current streak of not allowing a sack in 14 straight quarters in the regular season (12/12/93-12/31/93). The last sack allowed came in the second quarter against Dallas (12/12/93).

The Vikings extending their streak of not having fumbled in a team record four consecutive games (12/12/93-12/31/93).

The Vikings extending their win streaks of four games each over division rivals, Green Bay and Chicago. The Vikings longest winning streak is eight vs. the Bears and seven vs. the Packers.

Fuad Reveiz becoming the first Vikings player to score 100-or-more points in three consecutive seasons. Only Fred Cox in 1964-65 and again in 1969-70 has accomplished back-to-back seasons with 100-plus points.

Cris Carter becoming the first Vikings player to have three seasons with 70 or more receptions. He is one of only two players (Rickey Young and Anthony Carter) with two 70-plus catch seasons.

Jack Del Rio becoming the first Vikings player to lead the team in tackles for three consecutive seasons since Scott Studwell (1980-85).

Dennis Green reaching the playoffs for the third consecutive season to become only the sixth coach in league history to make the playoffs in each of his first three seasons as an NFL head coach. Of the 20 winningest coaches in NFL history, only two (Paul Brown 1950-52 and Chuck Knox 1973-75) made the playoffs in each of their first three seasons as an NFL head coach.

Dennis Green becoming the fastest to win 25 games in Vikings history. Green has 20 wins in his first 32 games. Bud Grant and Jerry Burns reached 25 wins in the fewest games (44) in team history

Cris Carter moving up in Vikings history for receiving yards among wide receivers. Carter is currently 7th with 3,127 yards (6th is Paul Flatley with 3,222, 5th is John Gilliam with 3,297, and 4th is Hassan Jones with 3,733).

Cris Carter moving up in the Vikings record books for reception. Carter is currently 10th with 238 catches (9th is Darrin Nelson with 251, 8th is Bill Brown with 284 and 7th is Rickey Young with 292).

HALL OF FAME

Three Vikings legends have been inducted into the Pro Football Hall of Fame in Canton, OH. In 1986 Fran Tarkenton became the first, followed by his former teammate, Alan Page, in 1988 and then this past year head coach Bud Grant.

■ With Grant's induction into the Hall of Fame, he became the first person ever to be elected to both the NFL and the Canadian Football League Hall of Fames. Grant, who was a head coach for 28 years, won a total of 290 regular season and postseason games, 122 as coach of the Winnipeg Blue Bombers of the CFL from 1957-66 and 168 as coach of the Vikings from 1967-83 and 1985. With the Vikings his teams compiled a regular-season record of 158-96-5, made the playoffs 12 times, and won 15 championships: 11 Central Division (1968-71, 1973-78, and 1980), one NFL (1969) and three NFC (1973, 1974 and 1976).

■ Tarkenton, the National Football League record holder for career passing yards with 47,003, played 13-of-his-18 seasons with the Vikings. The 1975 NFL Most Valuable Player, he is the Vikings all-time leader in passing attempts (4,569), completions (2,635), yards (33,098), touchdown passes (239) and rating (80.2). A third-round draft choice in 1961, Tarkenton led the Vikings to Super Bowl appearances in 1973, '74 and '76.

■ A native of Canton, OH, Page made his mark as a member of the famous "Purple People Eaters" defense. The Vikings' first-round draft choice in 1967 out of Notre Dame, Page had 108 career sacks and 16 blocked kicks, third and second, respectively, on the Vikings all-time list. Page was a nine-time Pro Bowler and the league MVP in 1971. He received his law degree from the University of Minnesota in 1978 and is currently an Associate Justice of the Minnesota Supreme Court.

■ Other Hall of Famers who spent time with the Vikings include Hugh McElhenny, HB, 1961-62; Norm Van Brocklin, head coach, 1961-66; Jim Langer, C, 1980-81; and Jan Stenerud, K, 1984-85.

HOMES OF THE VIKINGS

The Vikings have called two stadiums "home" in their 32-year history. Metropolitan Stadium in Bloomington, Minnesota and the Hubert H. Humphrey Metrodome in Minneapolis, Minnesota. ■ On September 10, 1961, the Vikings played their first ever home game, a 21-17 preseason win over the L.A. Rams at Metropolitan Stadium. Over the next 21 years the Vikings compiled a 97-60-3 record, including playoffs, at Met Stadium and possessed one of the most dominant home field advantages in professional football. December 20, 1981 marked the last game ever played at the Met, a 10-6 loss to the Kansas City Chiefs. ■ The Vikings moved indoors in 1982 to the Metrodome in downtown Minneapolis. Seating capacity for the Metrodome is 63,000. It also features two Sony Jumbotron replay screens, 115 private suites owned and operated by the Vikings, 32 concession stands and 32 restrooms. ■ In twelve seasons at the Metrodome the Vikings have compiled a 57-39 record, which includes a 2-1 mark in the playoffs. ■ The Metrodome has been host to many marquee sporting events, including the 1987 and 1991 World Series, the 1985 Major League Baseball All-Star Game, Super Bowl XXVI, and the 1992 NCAA Final Four basketball tournament.

SUMMER TRAINING CAMP

For the 29th year in a row, the Minnesota Vikings will be holding their summer training camp at Mankato State University in Mankato, Minnesota. ■ Mankato is in the heart of south central Minnesota and is a frequent summer stop for Vikings fans throughout the Upper Midwest. ■

Some of the activities that will take place this year include an autograph party on July 26th and the annual Training Camp Scrimmage on July 22nd to benefit the Viking Children's Fund.

TRAINING CAMP FACTS

Location ■ Mankato State University, Mankato, Minnesota 56001. Mankato State is located 70 miles south of the Vikings offices in Eden Prairie, Minnesota off of Highway 169. Headquarters ■ Training camp headquarters will be at Gage Hall on the campus of Mankato State. Gage Hall is located directly west of the football fields. Phone number: (612) 387-3335. Dates ■ July 13 to August 18. The team will be away from Mankato State from July 30 through August 8 due to a preseason game in Tokyo. Media ■ All media should report to the Vikings training camp headquarters in Gage Hall upon arrival. Media passes will be distributed at the Gage Hall front desk. Practices ■ All Vikings practices at Mankato State are open to the public. Please call ahead to verify practice times. Etc ■ On Wednesday, July 27th, the Vikings will practice against the New Orleans Saints at Mankato. History ■ The Vikings held their training camp at Bemidji State in Bemidji, Minnesota from 1961-1965.

MINNESOTA VIKINGS RADIO NETWORK

For the third straight season KFAN-AM (1230) and KEEY-FM (102.1) will serve as the flagship station for the Minnesota Vikings radio network, which includes 73 outlets in five states. Dan Rowe, who enters his fourth season broadcasting Vikings games, will handle the play-by-play. Former Vikings tight end Joe Senser begins his second year as the team's color analyst. He played for Minnesota from 1979-84, earning a trip to the Pro Bowl in 1981.
